FEDERAL TAX CUT FELT TODAY BY SHOPPERS

The federal government slashed excise taxes and dairy price supports effective at midnight and today was a bargain day for many local shoppers.

Butter prices skidded, with the Acme Market reducing its basic butter price from 75 to 69 cents a pound. Most other stores also reported drops in butter prices as a result of the 15 per cent cut in dairy price supports.

The excise tax drop, from 15 and 20 per cent to 10 per cent on articles such as most home appliances, jewelry, clocks, furs, sterling silverware, luggage and toilet preparations also brought about "bargains" in stores throughout the community.

Phones And Theaters

Telephone customers are also scheduled to benefit from the sales tax adjustment. The average United Telephone customer has been paying about 34 cents a month tax, on the service charge, plus additional tax for long distance calls, and other services. The 34-cent basic charge, based on a 15 per cent tax, will be reduced to about 23 cents with the removal of the five per cent. The new tax law sets all excise taxes at 10 per cent. Previously they had ranged from 10 to 20 per cent.

Whether the tax cut would immediately affect theater prices in Adams County could not be determined at noon today. Managers of most theaters were awaiting word from conferences being held by chain organizations. The manager of the Littlestown Theater was not immediately available, but he recently asked tax relief from the borough there, claiming the local tax was cutting too deeply into profits and without some such assistance the establishment would have to close.

At least one county theater, the Majestic, was playing a cinemascope production at advance prices and would not have to determine a new regular price until Sunday.

Gettysburg is now on an alternate route because of the rebuilding of Route 11 between Shippensburg and Chambersburg. The State Highway Department has erected signs routing trucks traveling between Chambersburg and Carlisle through Gettysburg. ROSE ANN SHOP WILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The 20th anniversary of the Rose Ann Shoppe, 120 Baltimore St., will be observed from Friday, April 2, through Saturday, April 10, with special gifts and sales during the period.

The store, owned by Mrs. Rose Smith Littleton, was housed in about one fourth of the present space it occupies, and expanded twice during the years as business increased.

Mrs. Littleton, daughter of Francis I. Smith, S. Washington St., was a clerk at the Harry Verner store for a number of years before she opened her present establishment two decades ago.

The first store occupied what is now the southwest corner of the present establishment, an area estimated at 14 by 20 feet. In another store in what is now the Rose Ann Shoppe was the beauty parlor of Sarah Ogden.

Open Shoe Department

Later, about 18 years ago, the beauty shop moved and the Rose Ann Shoppe took over both stores, tore out partitions and became what is now one-half the size of the present establishment. About

WEATHER FOR MARCH NEAR NORMAL HERE

There was a 55-degree spread of temperatures during last month but when March weather records were compiled here Wednesday they showed the average daily temperature for the month was within three-quarters of a degree of the half century average.

The low for the month was a 20-degree reading on March 4 and the high was 75 on Monday of this week. The average daily maximum temperature was 52.03 degrees and the average daily low was 30.52 degrees making the month's average 41.27 degrees. Freezing temperatures here occurred on 19 of the 31 days.

Helped '54 Rain Total

Measurable amounts of precipitation fell on 11 days with the heaviest in any 24-hour period occurring on March 1. An inch of snow fell 10 days later and there were flurries Tuesday midnight of this week.

March cut the 1954 rainfall shortage to 2.36 inches after both January and February had fallen short on rain. March's normal temperatures here followed the warmest February since 1932.

DECREASE IN ACCIDENTS ON COUNTY ROADS

10 Sixth Grade Pupils Die In School Blaze Near Buffalo

CHEEKTOWAGA, N.Y. (AP) — Three investigations were opened today into a fire that cost the lives of 10 sixth grade pupils and destroyed the frame annex of an elementary school in this heavily-populated Buffalo suburb.

The fire, which flashed through the 100-foot-long building just before the noon recess yesterday, caused injury to 23 other persons, including four 11-year-olds whose burns were considered critical.

The dead included six girls and four boys, all sixth graders. Their charred bodies were found pressed against what was left of a window wall. A few feet away were a doorway and broken windows—avenues of escape the youngsters never found.

Nineteen other pupils, three teachers and the principal of the school were hospitalized with burns or injuries. Two of the 31 pupils in the building escaped uninjured.

John Dwyer, Erie County district attorney, opened an investigation to determine if there had been any criminal negligence on the part of anyone concerned.

Other inquiries were launched by an engineer for the New York State Education Department and by the local board of education.

The dead children were in a music class when the fire broke out. Three adults in the room at the time shared credit for leading those who escaped to safety.

The adults were the regular teacher, Mrs. Melba Selbold, Miss June Mahany of Buffalo; 20, a practice teacher; and Robert K. Winters of Syracuse, a salesman.

Winters escaped with minor injuries Miss Mahany, who suffered burns of the legs and cuts, was in fair condition today. Mrs. Selbold also was in fair condition.

31 Are Killed In Train Blast

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Thirty-one persons were killed and 32 injured in a shattering explosion last night on a crowded passenger tram near Gorakhpur, the central railroad board reported today. Thirteen of the injured were reported in a serious condition.

Reports from the scene said 1,500 sticks of gelignite exploded while the police were transporting them on the train. It was said the explosives were seized a week ago at the village of Nautawa and were being taken to Agra for testing. The seizure was not explained.

CANCER DRIVE THIS EVENING

Residents of the county were reminded today of the "Lights On" campaign this evening which will inaugurate the annual fund drive of the Adams County unit of the American Cancer Society.

"April Fool" Stunt By Weatherman Put Snow In Mountains

Giving every indication Wednesday evening that he was ready to deliver his first April snow to Gettysburg in 26 years, the weatherman dumped an inch of the white stuff overnight in the mountains west and north of here but not enough to measure remained on the ground here at dawn.

Not since April, 1928, has any April seen more than snow flurries that melted as they fell. That year there was 3.5 inches of snow.

The record for April snows here since continuous records began in 1903 is held by 1918 when 10 inches were measured. That winter holds the all-time snow record here with slightly more than five feet of snow.

Other snowy Aprils occurred here in 1924 when 9 inches fell and in 1916 when there were 9.5 inches.

Today's fall here was officially recorded only as a "trace" and most of the signs of snow here—and in the mountains—had disappeared by mid-morning.

April arrived with freezing temperatures. The low here last night was 30 degrees. Total "precipitation" overnight was .12 inches.

First Hydrogen Blast Last November Wiped Out Island And Spawned Giant Fireball

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government disclosed today details of the world's first hydrogen explosion—a searing and crushing fury that wiped out an island in the twinkling of an eye and spawned a gigantic fireball big enough to engulf the heart of New York City.

The official motion picture film of the thermonuclear test in November 1952, conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department at Eniwetok Atoll, was made public—in somewhat censored form—by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

That agency said it "firmly believes it is necessary for the American public to know the facts about the destructiveness of nuclear weapons." And it quoted from the speech of President Eisenhower before the United Nations Assembly last December which said, "Clearly, if the peoples of the world are to conduct an intelligent search for peace, they must be armed with the significant facts of today's existence."

Only First Step

Awesome as it was, the 1952 test has been described by Eisenhower as only a first step in this nation's hydrogen weapons program.

There have been two announced thermonuclear blasts in the Pacific proving ground since then, and both have been semiofficially described as much more powerful. One was set off March 1, the other last Friday.

Here are some of the things the motion picture of the 1952 test and the official narration accompanying it disclosed:

Island Vanished

1. The test device was exploded in a "cab," a small workshop jammed with recording and detonating gadgets, on the islet of Egulab, at the northern rim of Eniwetok Atoll.

2. The island, about a half mile long and a quarter mile wide and protruding from the barrier reef of the atoll, vanished. In the place where it stood there was a crater 175 feet deep, a mile in diameter.

3. Created was the largest fireball of the more than 40 atomic explosions set off until that time—3¼ miles in diameter. The heat at the core of that churning, brilliant manmade star presumably shot to a momentary temperature

Car Hits Bus And Runs Into Barn

Damage totalled $270 when an automobile struck a bus and then continued on into the side of a barn three miles south of Arendtsville on Legislative Rte. 01001 Wednesday morning.

State police, who investigated, said Robert Eugene Guyer, 20, Waynesboro, attempted to pass another vehicle when his vision became obscured, struck a bus driven by James Howard Reindollar, 44, Fairfield, and then continued on into the barn of George E. Kane, Biglerville R. D.

Damage to Guyer's car was estimated at $200, to the bus, $20, and to the barn, $50. No one was injured. Investigation is being continued.

FIREMEN WILL START CANVASS HERE ON MAY 3

The annual solicitation for donations will be made by the Gettysburg Fire Department, starting May 3, the committee in charge of the observance of the 91st Battle Anniversary decided Wednesday evening at a meeting held in the Fire House.

The canvass of the borough, merchants, and rural area adjacent to Gettysburg, is one of the functions of the general committee which arranges the events for the Battle Anniversary observance.

Possibility of renting space at the recreation park for an auto and farm machinery show, and the placing of a tent for a display of commercial appliances, such as stoves and refrigerators, was discussed. Members of the committee felt that the commercial display would be an asset to the annual festival held during the Battle anniversary by making the "more of a fair and more interesting to everyone."

Decision After Parley

Whether the planned commercial display will be carried out will be decided later after consultation with merchants and dealers locally. Last year a fairly large auto display was held in connection with the festival.

Also discussed was the possibility of holding the July 4 observance elsewhere than on the high school field, its site for the last five years. Construction of the new high school addition there may prevent easy access to the field. The committee decided to explore the possibility of alternate sites.

July 1 Invitations

Invitations for the July 1 parade have been sent to organizations and fire companies which have participated in the past and also to a number of additional organizations, reports at the meeting disclosed.

Reports by all committees showed work rapidly progressing in all phases of the annual event.

An aerialist act, performed on a 100 foot pole, has been obtained to provide free entertainment at the festival, General Chairman Raymond Menges said.

Lanes To Observe 10th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Lane, 34 York St., will observe their tenth wedding anniversary on Friday. They were married April 2, 1944, in Trinity Reformed Church, Gettysburg. Mrs. Lane is the former Miss Janice Harbach of Gettysburg.

Their children are William Harrison, 6; James Dundas, 2, and Marguerite Clare, 1.

College To Launch Drive For $1,000,000 On April 29 To Build Three Dormitories

Construction of three dormitories to be erected on the Gettysburg College campus at the conclusion of a $1,000,000 fund raising campaign will require nearly 15 months, Dr. Clarence L. S. Raby, associate for development, announced today.

Cost of the red brick, modern, colonial dormitories, designed to house students now residing in adjacent temporary barracks, is envisioned by college authorities as between $250,000 and $300,000 each.

Preliminary sketches for the proposed dormitory setup have situated the Breidenbaugh Science Hall as a base for the three new structures which will form a quadrangle on Nixon Field along W. Lincoln Ave., west of N. Washington St.

The contemplated 210-room, three-story dormitories, including a recreation room and reception halls, will encompass some 22,632 square feet.

Open Drive April 29

Dr. Raby, who last February 27 resigned as a member of the Philadelphia Department of Superintendents to accept the position as associate for development at the college, announced that "while some funds have already been received, the official kick-off date for our $1,000,000 goal will be April 29."

Receiving date for contributions and pledges from alumni in 13 areas, covering the entire United States, will extend until May 5.

"If we were to start construction in June, 1954," Dr. Raby, class of '09, said "We would be ready for student occupancy by September, 1955."

He said he is visiting the 13 areas conducting last-minute, pre-drive consulations with key committee chairmen.

Briefly, the million dollar fund program, as established and outlined by Dr. Raby and the Gettysburg College Board of Trustees, will proceed along the following lines:

Gettysburg's 7,526 known, living alumni have been placed into 13 specific and non-overlapping geographical areas. At the head each area is a member of the Board of Trustees. Campaign operations are supervised by an executive committee for development drawn from the regular 28-member college Board of Trustees.

Executive committee trustees are: Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of the college, chairman; John S. Rice,

GAS COMPANY BUILDS LINES AT NEW OXFORD

A pipline bottleneck which has restricted the gas company's ability to move gas into the New Oxford area during periods of severe cold weather will be corrected soon, it was stated today by Julian E. Estep, local manager of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company.

A $40,700 improvement project calling for the replacement of nearly two miles of 2-inch gas line with 6-inch pipe got underway this week.

Mr. Estep said New Oxford and the Alwine Brick Company receive their gas supply from two pipelines. The first, a 4-inch line, extends south from Manufacturers' multiple pipeline network to Alwine. The other runs beside Route 30 from Abbottstown to New Oxford. It is partly 2-inch and partly 3-inch diameter pipe.

Where the two lines converge, midway between New Oxford and Abbottstown, the gas flow is split. Part of the volume is piped to New Oxford, the remainder to Alwine Brick Company.

Not Adequate In Zero Weather

"During normal weather we have no difficulty supplying enough gas to take care of both the community and the industry," Mr. Estep explained. "But in near-zero weather our heating customers in New

COMMUNISM

Deadly Enemy Of Christianity

By LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

By its own pronouncement the Kremlin is the deadly enemy of Christianity. Its creed is one of negation and denial of the sovereignty of God, and of the dignity and worth of the individual. The Communists are out to destroy religion wherever they are in power. To such extremes have they gone in their atheistic revolution that only recently the United States Congress took notice of it by adopting a resolution declaring in part that—

"Atheistic dictatorship has subjected religious leaders and their congregations to barbaric persecutions such as the world has not seen in 2,000 years."

Furthermore, Congress has called on churches and synagogues throughout the country to schedule special prayers on Easter Sunday, April 18, for the deliverance of those denied freedom of worship behind the Iron Curtain.

"Superstitious Nostrum"

Karl Marx characterized religion as the "opiate of the people — a superstitious nostrum," and this godless pronouncement of Marx is more deeply embedded than ever in the Kremlin's materialistic philosophy, which is being promulgated and practiced, to the point of persecution, among the 800,000,000 people now under Communist domination.

What a contrast, American and the Kremlin! A preponderance of our 160,000,000 people believe with St. Paul that "Where the spirit of the Lord is there is liberty and freedom," the corollary being decency and happiness, and peace of mind and soul, unknown behind the Iron Curtain.

It is unfortunate, however, and particularly at this juncture, that a segment of our citizens have little or no faith in divine guidance through church attendance, daily family prayer, and religious training of young people. These individuals

Measurable amounts of precipitation fell on 11 days with the heaviest in any 24-hour period occurring on March 1. An inch of snow fell 10 days later and there were flurries Tuesday midnight of this week.

Rainfall for the month totaled 3.56 inches, a surplus of 0.23 inches above normal for March.

March cut the 1954 rainfall shortage to 2.36 inches after both January and February had fallen short on rain. March's normal temperatures here followed the warmest February since 1932.

DECREASE IN ACCIDENTS ON COUNTY ROADS

There was a decrease in accidents on Adams County highways during March, according to the monthly recapitulation of the activities of the local State Police.

Sixteen auto crashes were investigated by the police last month compared to 17 in February and 27 during March, 1953.

Twenty persons were injured last month compared to 13 in February and one killed and 15 injured in March a year ago. The damage figures for the periods were: March, $8,325; February, $15,040, and March, 1953, $16,495.

The officers spent 367 hours on criminal work, 1,309 on traffic duty and 1,098 on station duty during March, the recapitulation shows. They traveled 21,315 miles driving autos, 40 miles on motorcycle, 5,115 miles as passengers and 400 miles on buses.

10 Sixth Grade Pupils Die In School Blaze Near Buffalo

CHEEKTOWAGA, N.Y. (AP) — Three investigations were opened today into a fire that cost the lives of 10 sixth grade pupils and destroyed the frame annex of an elementary school in this heavily-populated Buffalo suburb.

The fire, which flashed through the 100-foot-long building just before the noon recess yesterday, caused injury to 23 other persons, including four 11-year-olds whose burns were considered critical.

The dead included six girls and four boys, all sixth graders. Their charred bodies were found pressed against what was left of a window wall. A few feet away were a doorway and broken windows—avenues of escape the youngsters never found.

Nineteen other pupils, three teachers and the principal of the school were hospitalized with burns or injuries. Two of the 31 pupils in the building escaped uninjured.

John Dwyer, Erie County district attorney, opened an investigation to determine if there had been any criminal negligence on the part of anyone concerned.

Other inquiries were launched by an engineer for the New York State Education Department and by the local board of education.

The dead children were in a music class when the fire broke out. Three adults in the room at the time shared credit for leading those who escaped to safety.

The adults were the regular teacher, Mrs. Melba Seibold, Miss June Mahany of Buffalo; 20, a practice teacher; and Robert K. Winters of Syracuse, a salesman.

Winters escaped with minor injuries. Miss Mahany, who suffered burns of the legs and cuts, was in fair condition today. Mrs. Seibold also was in fair condition.

CANCER DRIVE THIS EVENING

Residents of the county were reminded today of the "Lights On" campaign this evening which will inaugurate the annual fund drive of the Adams County unit of the American Cancer Society.

The county group is seeking to raise $4,500, part of which will go towards operation of the tumor clinic at the Warner Hospital, part will be used toward dressings for local cancer patients, and transportation and some drugs and the remainder will go to the national research and education program of the American Cancer Society.

Last year 54 deaths in Adams County were attributed to cancer, and there are approximately 200 persons with cancer in the county, Attorney John MacPhail, chairman

"April Fool" Stunt By Weatherman Put Snow In Mountains

Giving every indication Wednesday evening that he was ready to deliver his first April snow to Gettysburg in 26 years, the weatherman dumped an inch of the white stuff overnight in the mountains west and north of here but not enough to measure remained on the ground here at dawn.

Not since April, 1928, has any April seen more than snow flurries that melted as they fell. That year there was 3.5 inches of snow.

The record for April snows here since continuous records began in 1903 is held by 1918 when 10 inches were measured. That winter holds the all-time snow record here with slightly more than five feet of snow.

Other snowy Aprils occurred here in 1924 when 9 inches fell and in 1916 when there were 9.5 inches.

Today's fall here was officially recorded only as a "trace" and most of the signs of snow here—and in the mountains—had disappeared by mid-morning.

April arrived with freezing temperatures. The low here last night was 30 degrees. Total "precipitation" overnight was .12 inches.

First Hydrogen Blast Last November Wiped Out Island And Spawned Giant Fireball

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government disclosed today details of the world's first hydrogen explosion—a searing and crushing fury that wiped out an island in the twinkling of an eye and spawned a gigantic fireball big enough to engulf the heart of New York City.

The official motion picture film of the thermonuclear test in November 1952, conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department at Eniwetok Atoll, was made public—in somewhat censored form—by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

That agency said it "firmly believes it is necessary for the American public to know the facts about the destructiveness of nuclear weapons." And it quoted from the speech of President Eisenhower before the United Nations Assembly last December which said, "Clearly, if the peoples of the world are to conduct an intelligent search for peace, they must be armed with the significant facts of today's existence."

Only First Step

Awesome as it was, the 1952 test has been described by Eisenhower as only a first step in this nation's hydrogen weapons program.

There have been two announced thermonuclear blasts in the Pacific proving ground since then, and both have been semiofficially described as much more powerful. One was set off March 1, the other last Friday.

Here are some of the things the motion picture of the 1952 test and the official narration accompanying it disclosed:

Island Vanished

1. The test device was exploded in a "cab," a small workshop jammed with recording and detonating gadgets, on the islet of Egulab, at the northern rim of Eniwetok Atoll.

2. The island, about a half mile long and a quarter mile wide and protruding from the barrier reef of the atoll, vanished. In the place where it stood there was a crater 175 feet deep, a mile in diameter.

3. Created was the largest fireball of the more than 40 atomic explosions set off until that time—3¼ miles in diameter. The heat at the core of that churning, brilliant manmade star presumably shot to a momentary temperature

Car Hits Bus And Runs Into Barn

Damage totalled $270 when an automobile struck a bus and then continued on into the side of a barn three miles south of Arendtsville on Legislative Rte. 01001 Wednesday morning.

State police, who investigated, said Robert Eugene Guyer, 20, Waynesboro, attempted to pass another vehicle when his vision became obscured, struck a bus driven by James Howard Reindollar, 44, Fairfield, and then continued on into the barn of George E. Kane, Biglerville R. D.

Damage to Guyer's car was estimated at $200, to the bus, $20, and to the barn, $50. No one was injured. Investigation is being continued.

FIREMEN WILL START CANVASS HERE ON MAY 3

The annual solicitation for donations will be made by the Gettysburg Fire Department, starting May 3, the committee in charge of the observance of the 91st Battle Anniversary decided Wednesday evening at a meeting held in the Fire House.

The canvass of the borough, merchants, and rural area adjacent to Gettysburg, is one of the functions of the general committee which arranges the events for the Battle Anniversary observance.

Possibility of renting space at the recreation park for an auto and farm machinery show, and the placing of a tent for a display of commercial appliances, such as stoves and refrigerators, was discussed. Members of the committee felt that the commercial display would be an asset to the annual festival held during the Battle anniversary by making the "more of a fair and more interesting to everyone."

Decision After Parley

Whether the planned commercial display will be carried out will be decided later after consultation with merchants and dealers locally. Last year a fairly large auto display was held in connection with the festival.

Also discussed was the possibility of holding the July 4 observance elsewhere than on the high school field, its site for the last five years. Construction of the new high school addition there may prevent easy access to the field. The committee decided to explore the possibility of alternate sites.

July 1 Invitations

Invitations for the July 1 parade have been sent to organizations and fire companies which have participated in the past and also to a number of additional organizations, reports at the meeting disclosed.

Reports by all committees showed work rapidly progressing in all phases of the annual event.

An aerialist act, performed on a 100 foot pole, has been obtained to provide free entertainment at the festival, General Chairman Raymond Menges said.

College To Launch Drive For $1,000,000 On April 29 To Build Three Dormitories

Construction of three dormitories to be erected on the Gettysburg College campus at the conclusion of a $1,000,000 fund raising campaign will require nearly 15 months, Dr. Clarence L. S. Raby, associate for development, announced today.

Cost of the red brick, modern, colonial dormitories, designed to house students now residing in adjacent temporary barracks, is envisioned by college authorities as between $250,000 and $300,000 each.

Preliminary sketches for the proposed dormitory setup have situated the Breidenbaugh Science Hall as a base for the three new structures which will form a quadrangle on Nixon Field along W. Lincoln Ave., west of N. Washington St.

The contemplated 210-room, three-story dormitories, including a recreation room and reception halls, will encompass some 22,632 square feet.

Open Drive April 29

Dr. Raby, who last February 27 resigned as a member of the Philadelphia Department of Superintendents to accept the position as associate for development at the college, announced that "while some funds have already been received, the official kick-off date for our $1,000,000 goal will be April 29."

Receiving date for contributions and pledges from alumni in 13 areas, covering the entire United States, will extend until May 5.

"If we were to start construction in June, 1954," Dr. Raby, class of '09, said "We would be ready for student occupancy by September, 1955."

He said he is visiting the 13 areas conducting last-minute, pre-drive consulations with key committee chairmen.

Briefly, the million dollar fund program, as established and outlined by Dr. Raby and the Gettysburg College Board of Trustees, will proceed along the following lines:

Gettysburg's 7,526 known, living alumni have been placed into 13 specific and non-overlapping geographical areas. At the head each area is a member of the Board of Trustees. Campaign operations are supervised by an executive committee for development drawn from the regular 28-member college Board of Trustees.

Executive committee trustees are: Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of the college, chairman; John S. Rice,

GAS COMPANY BUILDS LINES AT NEW OXFORD

A pipline bottleneck which has restricted the gas company's ability to move gas into the New Oxford area during periods of severe cold weather will be corrected soon, it was stated today by Julian E. Estep, local manager of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company.

A $40,700 improvement project calling for the replacement of nearly two miles of 2-inch gas line with 6-inch pipe got underway this week.

Mr. Estep said New Oxford and the Alwine Brick Company receive their gas supply from two pipelines. The first, a 4-inch line, extends south from Manufacturers' multiple pipeline network to Alwine. The other runs beside Route 30 from Abbottstown to New Oxford. It is partly 2-inch and partly 3-inch diameter pipe.

Where the two lines converge, midway between New Oxford and Abbottstown, the gas flow is split. Part of the volume is piped to New Oxford, the remainder to Alwine Brick Company.

Not Adequate In Zero Weather

"During normal weather we have no difficulty supplying enough gas to take care of both the community and the industry," Mr. Estep explained. "But in near-zero weather our heating customers in New

COMMUNISM

By LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

By its own pronouncement the Kremlin is the deadly enemy of Christianity. Its creed is one of negation and denial of the sovereignty of God, and of the dignity and worth of the individual. The Communists are out to destroy religion wherever they are in power. To such extremes have they gone in their atheistic revolution that only recently the United States Congress took notice of it by adopting a resolution declaring in part that—

"Atheistic dictatorship has subjected religious leaders and their congregations to barbaric persecutions such as the world has not seen in 2,000 years."

Furthermore, Congress has called on churches and synagogues throughout the country to schedule special prayers on Easter Sunday, April 18, for the deliverance of those denied freedom of worship behind the Iron Curtain.

"Superstitious Nostrum"

Karl Marx characterized religion as the "opiate of the people — a superstitious nostrum," and this godless pronouncement of Marx is more deeply embedded than ever in the Kremlin's materialistic philosophy, which is being promulgated and practiced, to the point of persecution, among the 800,000,000 people now under Communist domination.

What a contrast, American and the Kremlin! A preponderance of our 160,000,000 people believe with St. Paul that "Where the spirit of the Lord is there is liberty and freedom," the corollary being decency and happiness, and peace of mind and soul, unknown behind the Iron Curtain.

It is unfortunate, however, and particularly at this juncture, that a segment of our citizens have little or no faith in divine guidance through church attendance, daily family prayer, and religious training of young people. These individuals

TURNPIKE SPUR MAY BE FINANCED LATER THIS YEAR

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said today it may consider financing part of its proposed Erie extenstion of the commonwealth's toll road later this year.

The section to come under consideration would be the 45-mile lateral spur to run across Erie County from the New York to the Ohio borders.

A commission spokesman said the main part of the extension, proposed originally to run from the Pittsburgh area to the Erie area, definitely will not be considered this year. Together with the lateral spur in Erie County, it would form a large T on the map of western Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, the commission announced it will look into acceptance of a purchase proposal of 253 million dollars in turnpike revenue bonds to finance the northeastern extension and Pennsylvania's share of a bridge over the Delaware River to connect the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes on April 7.

350 May Buy Bonds

The proposal to purchase the bonds will be submitted by a nationwide syndicate of more than 350 dealers headed jointly by Drexel & Co.; B. J. Can Ingen & Co., Inc.; Blyth & Co., Inc., and the First Boston Corp.

An information meeting to discuss details of the proposed issue will be held at the New York State Chamber of Commerce on Friday. The bonds are to be dated April 1, 1954, and are to mature June 1, 1993.

The northeastern extension will run 110 miles from Plymouth Meeting, near Norristown, to just north of Scranton, providing access to the anthracite and Pocono Mountain regions.

Although areial surveys have been made on the Erie County spur of the proposed Erie extension, nothing has been done yet on the main stem of that project, a commission spokesman said.

Propose Four Routes

At least four routes have been proposed to the commission for the main section of the Erie extension.

The longest of these, suggested by the Erie Turnpike Assn., a western Pennsylvania group, would run some 160 miles from a point on the present turnpike south of Johnstown, past Indiana and then on to Erie.

The shortest suggested route would run less than 100 miles from a point near Gateway, at the western end of the present pike, through the vicinities of New Castle and Mercer to Erie.

A third proposal would being the superhighway extension from a location east of Oakmont and run past New Kensington, Kittanning and Oil City to Erie.

Still another would branch off the turnpike near Gibsonia, run between Rts. 8 and 19, past Slippery Rock, Grove City, Sandy Lake, Meadville and Cambridge Springs to Erie.

Consider All Suggestions

The spokesman said the commission has no objections to receiving such suggestions and gives them all consideration.

He said one campaign to have the Erie extension begin at a point between Somerset and Bedford on the present toll road and run near Johnstown and on to Erie has met with commission disapproval.

The group cited was the Mainline Committee for Industrial Development, which proposed that each community along the suggested route write a letter to the commission urging that the route be adopted.

"We want to discourage this sort of campaign," the spokesman said. "On the other hand, any persons who wish may come in here as a group, bringing plans and proposals and make suggestions."

What determines the route of turnpike extensions, he said, is not pressure but the prospects of revenue return, by traffic potential versus constructions costs, alignment and grade.

NATURAL GAS

storage gas is expected to double the company's ability to meet gas needs, Estep said.

To Spend $27,000,000

Construction of new pipelines, the development of additional underground areas and other work necessary to enable Manufacturers to handle the new Gulf Interstate gas will take about $27,000,000 this year —the largest building year in its history, it was said.

Estep emphasized that "this expenditure to bring in more gas protects service to present customers just as much as it benefits those who now, or will, want equal service."

He then pointed out that obtaining new gas supplies has been the company's most pressing problem since 1947.

"Even as far back as 1943, we had the same problem. It was at that time that we first turned to the long distance pipelines from the southwest for the large-scale help they now give us," he added.

He said Gulf Interstate will become the fifth long-distance line from which Columbia System Companies get gas. Columbia companies now get about a billion cubic feet of gas daily from the other four lines, and will have about a 33% increase in southwest gas supplies as a result of Gulf Interstate shipments, he said.

RECALLS BIG SNOW IN 1918

For S. G. Bigham, of Biglerville, today's snowfall is a reminder of a much larger snow occurring 36 years ago.

In 1918, because of the war shortage of transportation, new autos shipped east had to be unloaded from trains at Pittsburgh and driven under their own power the remainder of the way.

Mr. Bigham was among those driving a new car to Biglerville, and joined a contingent including men from practically all eastern Pennsylvania cities. The group left Pittsburgh April 12, ran into a snow that forced the caravan to stop at McConnellsburg, where they remained for two days before they could proceed east over the mountains.

So heavy was the snow that communications were wiped out and Mr. Bigham could neither phone nor telegraph to Biglerville to tell of his delay.

The snow drifts through which the contingent passed over South Mountains were over five feet in depth, Bigham said today. While the snow had been heavy west of the mountains, little snow was visible on this side when the caravan of cars finally made the trip over the mountains.

TWO ARE ON BAIL FOR APRIL COURT

Nelson Fickes, 36, Orrtanna, has been released on $2,000 bail, on a charge of stealing a pocketbook containing $46 and Howard Wayne Keller, has been released on $500 bail to await a trial on a charge of driving after suspension, according to transcripts filed with the county clerk of courts this morning.

Fickes was charged before Justice of the Peace F. Loy Lindaman, Littlestown, by Kenneth A. Dehoff, Littlestown R. 1, with removing the pocketbook from Dehoff's pocket while both were at the Carroll Rubber plant in Littlestown March 19.

He was arrested and placed in jail to await a hearing March 23, and at that time was released on his own recognizance for a later hearing before the justice on March 27. At that time he was returned to jail and then released on the $2,000 bail Saturday, according to Justice Lindaman's transcript.

Keller was charged with driving after his license was suspended before Justice of the Peace L. G. Kuhn, Conewago Twp., by State Police. He was released on $500 bail Tuesday, according to the transcript filed by Justice Kuhn.

CANCER DRIVE

of the county unit, said today.

In the "lights on" program, persons wishing to donate toward the drive are asked to turn their porch lights on tonight to permit canvassers to quickly spot the homes where they should stop to obtain funds.

Because the annual drive is not only a finance campaign but a drive to educate the general public in the danger signs of cancer, the solicitors plan to visit as many homes in the county as possible during the coming month, to at least leave literature on cancer at the homes.

Licenses To Wed Decrease In March

March applications for marriage licenses slumped following the first two record-breaking months of 1954, Clerk of Courts Kenneth W. Johns said today.

Johns said that 15 applications were made in March, a drop of four from March, 1953.

The 22 February applicants exceeded by two the previous all-time Adams County high set during the World War II year of 1944. The total for January, 19, was one more than in any other January.

LARGE CROWD FOR CLOSING OF MISSION SERIES

The solemn closing of the Women's Mission services, held in St. Aloysius Catholic Church Sunday through Wednesday, took place Wednesday evening with a large crowd present. The Rev. Anthony Feeherry, C. P., Passionist missionary from St. Joseph's Monastery, Baltimore, who conducted the mission, explained to those present that the purpose of a mission is to help each individual to get closer to God and to remain there; that the fruits of the mission are more important than the mission itself and that only one thing is necessary in life, the saving of one's soul. The sermon was based on the words of Christ regarding the Crucifixion "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all things to myself." The message was a word picture of the Christ and concluded with the words "Let not the blood of Christ be poured out upon us in vain."

The service included the recitation of the rosary, led by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan; "Veni Creator" by the Senior Choir; the sermon; "Panis Angelicus" by the choir while the mission offering was being received and the candles were being lighted.

Men's Mission Next

With the church in darkness, except for the lighted candles which each woman held in her right hand hand, there was a profession of faith, the renewal of the baptismal vows and the papal blessing was imparted by the missionary priest. As Father Anthony left the sanctuary, following the papal blessing, he took the missionary crucifix, which had been placed there at the mission opening and had remained in the sanctuary throughout the mission. The service concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, with the pastor as celebrant and the traditional hymn of praise "Holy God." Miss Anna C. Weaver, church organist, presided at the console.

Tonight, the solemn opening of the Men's Mission will take place. Morning masses will continue at 5:30 and 8 a.m. and evening services at 7:30 p.m. Confessions will be heard after both masses, before and during the 8 o'clock mass and following the evening services. The closing will take place on Sunday at 3 p.m.

Conewago Chapel Parishioners To Build Parish Hall Themselves

Members of Sacred Heart parish, Conewago Chapel, are going back to the days of their great-grandfathers in their plans for construction of a new Parish Hall there. And they have the approval of their bishop on the project.

With the need for a parish hall apparent, the pastor and parishioners decided that there were enough masons, carpenters, and other specialists among the members of the parish to proceed without a contractor.

The men agreed to donate much of their labor and to obtain as many donations of material as possible, and as a result will erect the structure much more cheaply than could be done normally.

When Bishop George L. Leech, Harrisburg, visited the parish for confirmation services there, the pastor and the members of the parish enumerated their skills and facilities and became the first parish in the diocese in recent years to win permission to go ahead on their own.

Following plans drawn by Paul Long, Harrisburg architect, formerly of Littlestown, the parishioners will work under direction of one of the members of the parish, Henry Moore, of New Oxford.

Present plans call for the hall to be of stone, similar in design to the other stone structures at the chapel.

One of the first centers of the Catholic Church in Pennsylvania—it was founded when there were only 30 priests and 3,000 Catholics in the U. S.—Conewago Chapel's first stone church was constructed by the parishioners who hauled stone by wagon from Abbottstown, for that structure. Early histories state that the men of the parish, in their enthusiasm for the construction, unhitched the horses from the wagons and drew the first stone-loaded vehicles up the hill to the church site themselves.

8,000 Beds Added In Mental Hospitals

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine said today more than 8,000 beds have been added in Pennsylvania's mental health hospitals since January of 1951, when he took office.

Fine made the figure public in designating the week of May 2 as Mental Health Week in Pennsylvania.

"There is still need, however, for further militant action in the fight against mental illness," the governor said in a statement.

"There is now real hope that 85 per cent of the mentally ill can be cured through programs of research and intensive treatment."

COUNSEL FOR SENATE PROBE IS ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee today appointed Samuel P. Sears, a Boston lawyer, as special counsel for its investigation of the charges Sen. McCarthy (R—Wis) and high Army officials have aimed at one another.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will preside at the public and televised hearings, told a news conference he believed the unanimous selection had broken a log jam and would permit start of the inquiry within 10 days.

Mundt said Sears will start work Monday "and I hope the hearings will start the following week."

Mundt said the selection was made by "another unanimous vote, all six members of the committee voting 'aye' " at a closed door session.

Just a few moments earlier, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) had made an unsuccessful move to get the Senate Armed Services Committee to take over the investigation of the whole McCarthy-Army row.

Kefauver made his motion at a closed-door session but not enough senators to do business were present.

Kefauver Move Falls

Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), acting chairman, made this point and Kefauver agreed to a delay until later in the afternoon or until tomorrow forenoon when the committee has another scheduled session.

Kefauver said there had been "a great delay in getting" the inquiry started by the Senate Investigations Committee and that the "people are entitled to have the facts and have the issues clarified."

Sears, a quiet, graying man, stood beside Mundt as the announcement of his selection as special counsel was made.

Mundt gave reporters a statement identifying Sears as a member of the law firm of Brickley, Sears & Cole, 75 Federal St., Boston.

He is 59 years old, born in Quincy, Mass., July 3, 1895.

He was admitted to the bar in 1921 at Boston, and to the federal bar in Massachusetts the following year.

He is a graduate of the Harvard law school.

Sears served as vice chairman of the Judicial Council of Massachusetts from 1944 through 1950.

Judge Hiram Keller, Doylestown, chairman of the Board of Trustees, is ex-officio member of the executive committee.

Dr. Raby said: "Gettysburg is fortunate in having a type of loyalty among its alumni rarely found among similar institutions.

"We are looking forward to our alumni receiving their solicitor's requests with favor," he added, "due to the fact that the organization is under the direction of volunteer service rather than a professional fund-raising firm."

Dr. Raby underlined the trustees' undertaking of the $1,000,000 drive to improve student accommodations rather than to increase the college student body. He said the yearly college population is maintained around 1,200 by board action, and "the function of a resident college is to provide facilities for students to live on the campus. This college functions along those lines."

He said that after eight years' usage by some 2,000 students the barracks are now "well worn."

Individual rooms will be 12 x 15 feet for two persons. Each room will be furnished with a Hollywood bed, desks, chairs, chest of drawers and a clothes closet with sliding doors for each occupant.

The first unit of the dormitory directly opposite the science hall, to face west, will be named for Dr. Charles M. A. Stine, chairman emeritus of the Board of Trustees.

J. Alfred Hamme, York, is the architect.

Revamping Of Pa. Building Code Ready

HARRISBURG (AP)—A two-year revamping of Pennsylvania's building code may be ready for the Department of Labor and Industry within two months, the head of a study committee said today.

"We have the problem pretty well licked," said Allen H. Neal, Pittsburgh architect, chairman of the governor's special committee to revise the code.

Gov. John S. Fine named the six-member group June 10, 1952, to overhaul the commonwealth's building code, long regarded by architects as outmoded.

One overall objective of his committee's work, Neal said, is to bring the state building code in line with those of the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

SEE MURDER AND SUICIDE IN TWO DEATHS TODAY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Harvey A. Ball and his wife Margaret, were found shot to death today in their farmhouse by a 13-year old daughter, eldest of seven children.

Sgt. Ed F Bouse of the Montoursville barracks of the state police said the deaths were apparently murder and suicide. He said investigation showed that Ball, 35, apparently killed his wife, 30, and then turned a 12 gauge single barrel shotgun on himself.

The Balls, both previously married, farmed at Clarkstown, near Muncy, about 13 miles east of Williamsport. Neighbors told police they knew of no reason for an argument between the two. No notes were found.

The daughter was awakened by an alarm clock at 5 A.M. and discovered the bodies. She dressed the six younger children and took them to a neighbor's home from where Dr. Rudolph Patrizio of Muncy was called.

Dr. Patrizio called police.

Dr. Earl Miller, acting Lycoming County coroner, is conducting an investigation. At first the deaths were believed double suicides. Police estimated the Balls were killed some time after midnight.

Navy's highest football score was 127-0 drubbing of Ursinus in 1918. Their biggest loss was a 54-0 walloping by Michigan in 1925.

LARGE CROWD FOR CLOSING OF MISSION SERIES

The solemn closing of the Women's Mission services, held in St. Aloysius Catholic Church Sunday through Wednesday, took place Wednesday evening with a large crowd present. The Rev. Anthony Feeherry, C. P., Passionist missionary from St. Joseph's Monastery, Baltimore, who conducted the mission, explained to those present that the purpose of a mission is to help each individual to get closer to God and to remain there; that the fruits of the mission are more important than the mission itself and that only one thing is necessary in life, the saving of one's soul. The sermon was based on the words of Christ regarding the Crucifixion "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all things to myself." The message was a word picture of the Christ and concluded with the words "Let not the blood of Christ be poured out upon us in vain."

The service included the recitation of the rosary, led by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan; "Veni Creator" by the Senior Choir; the sermon; "Panis Angelicus" by the choir while the mission offering was being received and the candles were being lighted.

Men's Mission Next

With the church in darkness, except for the lighted candles which each woman held in her right hand hand, there was a profession of faith, the renewal of the baptismal vows and the papal blessing was imparted by the missionary priest. As Father Anthony left the sanctuary, following the papal blessing, he took the missionary crucifix, which had been placed there at the mission opening and had remained in the sanctuary throughout the mission. The service concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, with the pastor as celebrant and the traditional hymn of praise "Holy God." Miss Anna C. Weaver, church organist, presided at the console.

Tonight, the solemn opening of the Men's Mission will take place. Morning masses will continue at 5:30 and 8 a.m. and evening services at 7:30 p.m. Confessions will be heard after both masses, before and during the 8 o'clock mass and following the evening services. The closing will take place on Sunday at 3 p.m.

Operetta On Friday

"The Count and the Co-ed," an operetta written by Geoffrey F. Morgan and Geoffrey O'Hara, will be presented by the junior class and senior chorus of the Littlestown High School on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The setting for the production is a college campus in May.

The cast includes Joan Koontz, Dorothy Jones, Suzanne Harner, Patricia Long, Darla Lemmon, Dean Sell, William Simons, William Benner, Terry Brown, James Hollinger, Ronald Strevig and Nadine Stites. Dawn Pettyjohn will serve as prompter. The operetta is under the direction of Mrs. Joan C. Wilt and Miss LeOra L. Held of the faculty.

The Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Reformed Church, has announced the special services for the Easter season as follows: Palm Sunday, April 11, 10:30 a.m., confirming of the 1954 catechumens. Wednesday of Holy Week, April 14, 7:30 p.m., quiet hour in charge of the Women's Guild. Maundy Thursday, April 15, 7:30 p.m., preparatory service. Good Friday, April 16, 7:30 p.m., administration of Holy Communion. Easter Sunday, April 18, 10:30 a.m., Holy Communion.

The semi-monthly Lenten service will be held Friday evening, 7:30 o'clock in St. Luke's Reformed Church, White Hall.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Luke's Union Church will not meet on April 14 as previously announced, due to Holy Week services, and the meeting has been postponed to Wednesday, April 21, 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Reception of new members and a baptismal service will take place in Centenary Methodist Church on Palm Sunday, April 11, 10:30 a.m., according to an announcement made by the pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons. Three-hour devotions, sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium, will be held on Good Friday, April 16, 12 noon to 3 p.m., in Centenary Church. Administration of Holy Communion will take place Easter Sunday, April 18, 10:30 a.m.

It was announced that the West Penn spring conference will be held Thursday, April 29, at St. James' Lutheran Church, Gettysburg. Members planning to attend the conference are asked to notify Mrs. Ritter by April 20. The guess package, given by Mrs. Gouker, was received by Mrs. Blocher. Conewago Chapel Parishioners To Build Parish Hall Themselves

Members of Sacred Heart parish, Conewago Chapel, are going back to the days of their great-grandfathers in their plans for construction of a new Parish Hall there. And they have the approval of their bishop on the project.

With the need for a parish hall apparent, the pastor and parishioners decided that there were enough masons, carpenters, and other specialists among the members of the parish to proceed without a contractor.

The men agreed to donate much of their labor and to obtain as many donations of material as possible, and as a result will erect the structure much more cheaply than could be done normally.

When Bishop George L. Leech, Harrisburg, visited the parish for confirmation services there, the pastor and the members of the parish enumerated their skills and facilities and became the first parish in the diocese in recent years to win permission to go ahead on their own.

Following plans drawn by Paul Long, Harrisburg architect, formerly of Littlestown, the parishioners will work under direction of one of the members of the parish, Henry Moore, of New Oxford.

Present plans call for the hall to be of stone, similar in design to the other stone structures at the chapel.

One of the first centers of the Catholic Church in Pennsylvania—it was founded when there were only 30 priests and 3,000 Catholics in the U. S.—Conewago Chapel's first stone church was constructed by the parishioners who hauled stone by wagon from Abbottstown for that structure. Early histories state that the men of the parish, in their enthusiasm for the construction, unhitched the horses from the wagons and drew the first stone-loaded vehicles up the hill to the church site themselves.

8,000 Beds Added In Mental Hospitals

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine said today more than 8,000 beds have been added in Pennsylvania's mental health hospitals since January of 1951, when he took office.

Fine made the figure public in designating the week of May 2 as Mental Health Week in Pennsylvania.

"There is still need, however, for further militant action in the fight against mental illness," the governor said in a statement.

"There is now real hope that 85 per cent of the mentally ill can be cured through programs of research and intensive treatment."

The U. S. steel making capacity has increased 32 million tons or 35 per cent since World War II.

About 80 million tons of coke were produced in the United States in 1953.

COUNSEL FOR SENATE PROBE IS ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee today appointed Samuel P. Sears, a Boston lawyer, as special counsel for its investigation of the charges Sen. McCarthy (R—Wis) and high Army officials have aimed at one another.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will preside at the public and televised hearings, told a news conference he believed the unanimous selection had broken a log jam and would permit start of the inquiry within 10 days.

Mundt said Sears will start work Monday "and I hope the hearings will start the following week."

Mundt said the selection was made by "another unanimous vote, all six members of the committee voting 'aye' " at a closed door session.

Just a few moments earlier, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) had made an unsuccessful move to get the Senate Armed Services Committee to take over the investigation of the whole McCarthy-Army row.

Kefauver made his motion at a closed-door session but not enough senators to do business were present.

Kefauver Move Fails

Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), acting chairman, made this point and Kefauver agreed to a delay until later in the afternoon or until tomorrow forenoon when the committee has another scheduled session.

Kefauver said there had been "a great delay in getting" the inquiry started by the Senate Investigations Committee and that the "people are entitled to have the facts and have the issues clarified."

Sears, a quiet, graying man, stood beside Mundt as the announcement of his selection as special counsel was made.

Mundt gave reporters a statement identifying Sears as a member of the law firm of Brickley, Sears & Cole, 75 Federal St., Boston.

He is 59 years old, born in Quincy, Mass., July 3, 1895.

He was admitted to the bar in 1921 at Boston, and to the federal bar in Massachusetts the following year.

He is a graduate of the Harvard law school.

Sears served as vice chairman of the Judicial Council of Massachusetts from 1944 through 1950.

Judge Hiram Keller, Doylestown, chairman of the Board of Trustees, is ex-officio member of the executive committee.

Dr. Raby said: "Gettysburg is fortunate in having a type of loyalty among its alumni rarely found among similar institutions.

"We are looking forward to our alumni receiving their solicitor's requests with favor," he added, "due to the fact that the organization is under the direction of volunteer service rather than a professional fund-raising firm."

RECALLS BIG SNOW IN 1918

For S G Bigham, of Biglerville today's snowfall is a reminder of a much larger snow occurring 36 years ago.

In 1918, because of the war shortage of transportation, new autos shipped east had to be unloaded from trains at Pittsburgh and driven under their own power the remainder of the way.

Mr. Bigham was among those driving a new car to Biglerville, and joined a contingent including men from practically all eastern Pennsylvania cities. The group left Pittsburgh April 12, ran into a snow that forced the caravan to stop at McConnellsburg, where they remained for two days before they could proceed east over the mountains.

So heavy was the snow that communications were wiped out and Mr. Bigham could neither phone nor telegraph to Biglerville to tell of his delay.

The snow drifts through which the contingent passed over South Mountains were over five feet in depth, Bigham said today. While the snow had been heavy west of the mountains, little snow was visible on this side when the caravan of cars finally made the trip over the mountains.

TWO ARE ON BAIL FOR APRIL COURT

Nelson Fickes, 36, Orrtanna, has been released on $2,000 bail, on a charge of stealing a pocketbook containing $46 and Howard Wayne Keller, has been released on $500 bail to await a trial on a charge of driving after suspension, according to transcripts filed with the county clerk of courts this morning.

Fickes was charged before Justice of the Peace F. Loy Lindaman, Littlestown, by Kenneth A. Dehoff, Littlestown R. 1, with removing the pocketbook from Dehoff's pocket while both were at the Carroll Rubber plant in Littlestown March 19.

He was arrested and placed in jail to await a hearing March 23, and at that time was released on his own recognizance for a later hearing before the justice on March 27. At that time he was returned to jail and then released on the $2,000 bail Saturday, according to Justice Lindaman's transcript.

Keller was charged with driving after his license was suspended before Justice of the Peace L. G. Kuhn, Conewago Twp., by State Police. He was released on $500 bail Tuesday, according to the transcript filed by Justice Kuhn.

of the county unit, said today.

In the "lights on" program, persons wishing to donate toward the drive are asked to turn their porch lights on tonight to permit canvassers to quickly spot the homes where they should stop to obtain funds.

Because the annual drive is not only a finance campaign but a drive to educate the general public in the danger signs of cancer, the solicitors plan to visit as many homes in the county as possible during the coming month, to at least leave literature on cancer at the homes.

Licenses To Wed Decrease In March

March applications for marriage licenses slumped following the first two record-breaking months of 1954, Clerk of Courts Kenneth W. Johns said today.

Johns said that 15 applications were made in March, a drop of four from March, 1953.

The 22 February applicants exceeded by two the previous all-time Adams County high set during the World War II year of 1944. The total for January, 19, was one more than in any other January.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TAKE THE CHANCE!

One of the commonest causes of failure is a lack of confidence and courage. Successful people are those who are not afraid to take a chance. How often you hear the statement: "I wish I had bought that stock when it was low!" Bold men did and that is one of the reasons why the stock advanced.

The story of every successful person is spotted with many a failure, but these later proved to be but stepping stones to something beyond and something better. Fortune smiles upon those who are bold and who take chances, backing their own judgment. Two men, with faith, took hold of Miami Beach when it was a swamp—Carl Fisher and Jim Allison—and today it is a paradise for hundreds of thousands of vacationists during the winter months.

The late Henry Ford never put a dollar into his company. He furnished the ideas and other people, who had confidence in those ideas, put up the money. Later all retired as millionaires! I know of a man in Wichita, Kansas, who invented a useful lamp. Then he improved it and made others. Today his lamps are known and used over a great part of the world. He took chances with his faith!

I think it was Wendell Phillips who said: "The biggest brains do not go to Congress." No, they stay home and serve their town or city, and become creators and builders of useful things. They are little heard of outside what they do for the benefit of us all. Few ever heard of Secretary of the Treasury of the United States until his appointment to that important place. Now the name of Mr. Humphrey is a famous one. The story of his earlier career is interesting.

Never sell democracy, or a free way of life, short. To do so can mean the loss of all our liberties and our dreams for a better world. Our forefathers took chances, often settling the account with their blood!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Make Yours Happiness."

EDGAR A. GUEST

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I shall have spent it well
If, when today is gone,
A friend or two may tell,
When I have journeyed on,
That I had time to stay
And help them on their way.

I shall have lived this day
And truly earned my rest
If I, at night, can say
That I have done my best,
And when I close my gate
Leave naught behind of hate.

But though I rise to fame
And win the goal I seek,
Though honors I may claim
And reach life's highest peak,
I've failed, if far behind
I leave one deed unkind.

REDS NOW CLAIM DULLES AGREED TO BIG FIVE MEET

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin branded as "entirely baseless" today claims by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles that he had gotten Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov to agree the coming Geneva conference with Red China would not be a Big Five meeting.

A Soviet Foreign Ministry statement said Dulles had, in fact, agreed at the recent conference of Big Four foreign ministers in Berlin that the Peiping representatives would meet on an equal footing with the other great powers in Geneva April 26.

The Foreign Ministry statement, published in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda, charged Dulles now is trying to back out of his commitment.

Not Big 5 Meet

It quoted Dulles' speech before the Overseas Press Club in New York Monday night, in which the American chief diplomat said: "The United States position was made clear at the recent Berlin conference. There, by standing firm, I finally obtained the reluctant agreement by Mr. Molotov that the Geneva conference would not be a 'Big Five conference.'"

Pravda said it had received from the Soviet Foreign Ministry "an explanation that the statement by Dulles regarding a promise of Mr. Molotov that the Geneva conference will not be a conference of the Big Five 'is entirely baseless.'"

It added the Foreign Ministry supported its argument by drawing attention to the text of the communique which Molotov, Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault issued at Berlin.

"Equal Footing"

It quoted a portion of the communique saying Red China could attend the conference and added:

"It is seen subsequently from the communique that the Chinese People's Republic will take part in the Geneva conference on an equal footing with the other great powers.

"From all this one can draw the conclusion that Mr. Dulles, in making the above-mentioned (New York) statement, has evidently decided to disregard the generally known facts."

The Moscow dispatch did not cite the portion of Dulles' speech in which he said he had also gotten Molotov's agreement "that the invitation to Geneva, would itself specify that neither the invitation to, nor the holding of that conference, should be deemed to imply diplomatic recognition where it had not already been accorded."

A statement to this effect was included in the Berlin communique of Feb. 18 after considerable wrangling between Dulles and Molotov.

RED CHINA NOT ON EQUAL LEVEL

LONDON (AP)—Britain rejected today the Kremlin's claim that Red China will participate in the Geneva conference on an equal footing with Russia and the Western Big Three.

A foreign office spokesman said the decision taken at Berlin called for Britain, the United States, France and Russia to act as the inviting powers for the foreign ministers parley on Korea and Indochina. The conference begins April 26.

The spokesman specifically rejected an assertion made yesterday by the Soviet foreign ministry that the Geneva conference would be a five-power conference including Red China as an equal member. The Russian declaration was made in reply to U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement March 29 that the Geneva conference would not be considered a five-power conference giving Red China the same status as the Big Four.

Persley Gets Decision Over Armand Savois

ST.LOUIS (AP)—The fight experts had tabbed lightweight Arthur Persley as a harder puncher than Armand Savoie of Montreal, and the Louisiana Negro proved it last night in his 10-round unanimous decision over the Canadian.

Persley began hammering Savoie from the opening bell and kept up a steady pace except for the third and seventh stanzas, when Savoie tried to dominate the action.

Both battlers scaled at 136.

GOP ON PACKAGED LIST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Pennsylvania is one of the installations the Defense Department has listed where packaged liquor still may be sold by officers' clubs.

The Defense Department disclosed yesterday a list of 79 installations out of 812 where officers' clubs may continue package liquor sales. At the others, starting today, package sales are discontinued.

Those permitted to continue such sales, the department said, are mostly "remote"—10 miles or more from the nearest commercial or state authority source of packagd supplies.

Scot Miners Will Live 'Forever' On Pension

SYDNEY, N. S. (AP)—They say if you a Scotsman on pension he'll live forever. Bolstering this adage are 15 ex-miners, mostly of Scottish descent, on the pension rolls of a coal company here.

All are over 90 years old, and all plan to enjoy retirement for years to come. They are some of the men who started in the pits at 11 or 12 years of age, back in the days before child labor laws and trade unions. They earned up to 50 cents a day. Some worked in the same mine-shaft for more than 50 years.

KENNAN SAYS BIGGEST THREAT IS WITHIN U. S.

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Russia, last night called on Americans to overcome what he termed a present demoralization.

In the last of four Stafford Little Lectures at Princeton University, Kennan painted a word picture of Americans alarmed by subversion within the nation, who wind up by spying on their neighbors and purging books.

These people, Kennan said, lost confidence in the integrity of the society as a whole. He added that the loss of confidence was being communicated abroad and was causing unsteadiness in foreign relations.

Kennan said Americans must not succumb to fear. The people must "act like what Americans really are, and not like what we fear we might be" in order to present a united front at the borders of the United States, he added.

Threat Within U.S.

The most frightening and menacing thing confronting the nation today, Kennan went on, was within the country rather than outside.

He described the "spectacle of millions of our citizens listening eagerly" to fear-creating suggestions and "then trotting off faithfully and anxiously, like the victims of some totalitarian brainwashing, to snoop and check up on their fellow citizens, to purge the libraries and lecture platforms, to protect us all from the impact of ideas."

External peneraion and subversion in our life is "'a relatively minor and almost routine problem" Kennan added.

Circus Opens With New York Benefit

NEW YORK (AP)—The "greatest show on earth" opened its 70th season last night in Madison Square Garden, as glittering and extravagant as ever and studded with new acts.

But all the old standbys were there too—they'll be in the show as long as there is a Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Last night's opening performance was a benefit for the United Cerebral Palsy Fund. Dozens of stage, television and movie stars took part as amateur clowns and showgirls.

Will Build 85-Bed Addition To Home

HARRISBURG (AP) — Architects are completing plans for an 85-bed addition to the Masonic homes at Elizabethtown as part of a $2,630,000 building expansion program.

Plans for the proposed expansion were announced last night at the 84th anniversary dinner of Robert Burns Lodge 464 in Zembo Mosque here.

Relph M. Lehr, grand master of the State Grand Lodge, said the bed addition project will cost $1,750,000. A recreation building also will be erected at a cost of $700,000. An $800,000 kitchen is being constructed to replace five separate kitchens now in use.

CONTINUE QUIZ OF TAX EVADER

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Atty. Vincent Russo, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, planned to continue cross-examination today of Howard R. B. Jones, Williamsport man accused of evading more than $10,000 in income taxes during 1946 and 1947.

Jones took the stand in his own defense yesterday and denied charges that he received a part of the income from slot machines at the Williamsport Radio Club. The government has been trying to establish the "net worth" of Jones at various times around the period covered by the indictment in building its case.

On the witness stand, Jones testified that he sold three or four slot machines and other equipment to the club when it rented space in a building he owned. He said, however, his only income from the club was a $35 weekly salary as a bartender and $100 a month in rental.

Russo, in his cross-examinatin, queried Jones about the purchase of an automobile and arrangements to enroll a son in the Peddie School in New Jersey.

ST. LOUIS COP IS CONVICTED OF PERJURY

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A federal court jury has convicted Elmer Dolan, suspended St. Louis patrolman, of perjury—a charge that grew out of the arrest of kidnap-killer Carl Austin Hall.

Dolan was found guilty yesterday of lying to a grand jury about the handling of ransom money recovered in Hall's room.

Judge Albert A. Ridge deferred sentencing due to a motion for a new trial. Dolan's attorney said he would seek a new trial and April 15 was set as the deadline for filing the motion.

Dolan and Louis Shoulders, former St. Louis police lieutenant, participated in the arrest of Hall last Oct. 6. Hall and his paramour, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, were executed last December for the kidnap-killing of 6 - year - old Bobby Greenlease.

Recover $296,280

Only $296,280 of the $600,000 ransom paid by Bobby's father, automobile dealer Robert C. Greenlease, was recovered.

Dolan was indicted after he told a grand jury he carried into a St. Louis police station one of the suitcases containing ransom money shortly after Hall was arrested and booked.

At Dolan's trial several government witnesses who were in the police station at the time testified they did not see any suitcases carried in at the time Hall was booked.

Mark Hennelly, Dolan's attorney, said in his closing arguments that several government witnesses admitted it might have been possible Dolan and Shoulders carried in the suitcases but that they did not see them.

Government attorneys maintained the size of the two metal suitcases, later found to contain the money, made it virtually impossible for them to be carried in unnoticed.

Dolan is free on $7,500 bond.

Shoulders, who also was indicted by the grand jury, is scheduled to go on trial on a perjury charge April 12.

Five years imprisonment and $2,000 fine is the maximum penalty for perjury.

ODDS SHORTER ON OLSON NOW

CHICAGO (AP)—An outbreak of rumors that Carl (Bobo) Olson has a head cold and that Kid Gavilan has a sore right hand today failed to affect the odds on their championship brawl at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

Olson, middleweight king making his first title defense since clinching the crown with a 15-round decision over Randy Turpin last October, was a 3-2 favorite.

A week ago he was a 9-5 choice. In the meantime, Gavilan moved his training headquarters to Chicago. The slide in odds followed a normal course and should be 6-5, take your pick, by ring time. It figures strictly a tossup, and getting behind a favorite is one of the hardest jobs boxing experts have had to do in years.

The fight will be televised nationally by NBC, starting at 10 p.m., EST, with Chicago and a 100-mile surrounding area blacked out.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Automobile license numbers are getting bigger in Connecticut. Four digits used in combination with letters did the trick until recently. All possible combinations have been exhausted, however, and the state has had to go to five digits.

ASK WILSON TO APPROVE CD TRANSFER

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Defense Secretary Wilson has been asked by the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission to clear transfer of the Federal Civil Defense Administration from Washington to the military reservation at Indiantown Gay, Pa.

Charles Weissman, chairman of the development commission's "economic task force," said yesterday he had written Wilson:

"This action, although it may bring only a few additional jobs for the southern end of our labor surplus area, would be another step in our attempted regionwide employment stabilization program which must be greatly accentuated in the face of the loss of thousands of jobs this spring due to further curtailment of anthracite coal production."

The commission also urged Wilson, in a separate letter, to disregard the adverse reaction of "certain employes of the Baltimoe depot of the U. S. Army Signal Depot" to the transfer of temporary operations from Baltimore to the new 35 million-dollar signal depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

Weissman said the development commission feels "the creation of these new jobs at Tobyhanna will, in a measure, assist our area of chronic labor surplus."

Robin Roberts Is Pounded By Tigers And Phillies' Flag Hopes Sink Lower Every Day

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the most ardent rooter for the Philadelphia Phillies will concede that without an effective Robin Roberts, the club hasn't a ghost of a chance of winning the National League pennant. And Mr. Roberts' showing this spring can hardly be described as "effective."

Just what, if anything, is bothering the strapping right-hander hasn't been determined. Maybe it's the heavy work (347 innings) he put in last season. Or could be he's just pacing himself. At any rate, Roberts is a far cry from the fireballing pitcher who won 107 games in his last five National League seasons.

Yesterday, the 6-foot-1½ native of Springfield, Ill., went the route for the first time this spring, but he was raked for 13 hits as the Phillies dropped a 7-2 decision to the Detroit Tigers.

Record Is 0-3

The time before that (March 27), he was shelled from the mound in the fourth inning after he had yielded seven runs to the Chicago White Sox. His over-all exhibition record is 0-3, which could augur a disappointing campaign for the 23-game winner of 1953.

The Phillies are said to have strengthened their pitching staff with the acquisition of Murry Dickson and Johnny Lindell from Pittsburgh. Curt Simmons and Jim Konstanty have looked good in recent outings, but if Manager Steve O'Neill can't count on Roberts for at least 20 victories, the Phillies likely would settle for fourth place right now.

First baseman Charley Kress was the big gun in the Detroit attack yesterday, blasting one of Roberts' pitches over the center field fence with two mates aboard in the fourth inning.

Cards Down Chisox

Gerry Staley, another of the National League's star right-handers, fared better than Roberts yesterday. He gave up only two hits in seven innings as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Chicago White Sox 6-3. Al Brazle, ancient bullpen ace, preserved the Cards' third straight triumph and their 14th in 22 games by choking off a ninth-inning rally

The New York Giants, who look more formidable every day, scored their ninth victory in 12 starts against the Cleveland Indians, 4-2. The Tribe committed four errors. The Giants collected only four hits, but Willie Mays doubled home the first run and Don Mueller singled in two more, all in the opening frame

Ending their worst Florida showing in the six years under Casey Stengel's regime, the New York Yankees dropped a 9-3 decision to The loss was the 16th in 24 games for the world champions. The Pirates put the game out of reach in the first inning when they scored five times against lefty Bob Wiesler.

Gil Hodges' homer sparked a 12-hit Brooklyn attack as the Dodgers whipped the Milwaukee Braves 10-7. The game was called at the end of the eighth to permit the clubs to make a train Eddie Mathews and Johnny Logan each homered twice for the Braves.

The improving Washington Senators broke loose for five runs in the sixth frame to defeat the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-2. Tom Wright, recently secured from the White Sox, homered during the big inning.

Joost Says A's May Be "Real Dangerous"

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics pulled up training camp stakes here last night and Manager Eddie Joost said "with a little pitching, we'll be downright dangerous."

Joost offered this summation of the A's training grind:

"We've been luckier than most clubs. Everybody worked hard and—I'm keeping my fingers crossed—is in good shape. Barring a streak of misfortune our pitching should be all right.

"Bobby Shantz and Alex Kellner have looked great and when they're ready, that's half the staff."

Game Is Postponed Due To Cold Weather

Cold and threatening weather resulted in postponement of the Fairfield-Emmitsburg High School baseball game scheduled to be played Wednesday afternoon at Emmitsburg.

The game has been re-scheduled for next Monday at Emmitsburg.

Fairfield is now listed to open its season at Smithsburg, Md., Friday afternoon

"Pete' Kempers York Springs team will also open its season Friday when the Springers play at Carlisle.

WILLIAMS GROVE OPENS SUNDAY

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — Major improvements and additional rides will be available at Williams Grove Park which opens on Sunday, coincident with the first AAA big car auto race of the 1954 season on the adjoining Williams Grove Speedway.

Roy Richwine, owner and operator of the Cumberland County amusement center, announced that the park has been revamped and painted, with additional tables, benches and shelter building accommodations for picnics and outings.

Two new major rides, giving the park a total of 17 rides, including two roller coasters, have been added to the amusements, and "Kiddieland," a park within a park, exclusive for youngsters and children, has been enlarged.

One of the major rides added is the "Roll-O-Whirl," a new and different riding device.

The other is a mechanical pony and cart ride, complete with bells. Through mechanical construction, the ponies have all the movements of a live pony pulling a cart. Each cart will accommodate two or more children.

Richwine said that the past policy of free shows in the Mt. Vernon Theatre every Sunday afternoon and evening, until the park is opened every day starting about May 30, will be continued for the 1954 season.

Richwine, who has operated the amusement park since 1930, added that for the present the midway will be open only on Sundays.

SON FAILS TO SAVE PARENTS FROM BURNING

NORRISTOWN, Pa (AP)—A salesman and his wife burned to death today in their Plymouth Township home despite a courageous rescue attempt by their 29-year old son.

Walter Jones, 60, and his wife, Ruth, 54, perished on the first floor of the burning house. Their son, Walter Jr., climbed a ladder into the second floor but was trapped when he became confused in the smoke Firemen wearing gas masks rescued him.

The bodies of his parents were found on the ground floor of the residence, a 1½ story brick house at Belvoir road and New Hope street, near the eastern boundary of Norristown.

The elder Jones reached a window before he was felled by flame and smoke. His wife's body lay in the living room where the fire centered.

Jones was a native of Norristown and a salesman for the Westfield River Paper Co. of West Conshohocken

Fire Marshal Donald Tarbutton said the beds in the couple's rooms had been slept in. He indicated the Jones were upstairs when they were awakened by the fire. Tarbutton believes they ran downstairs and became separated trying to escape in the smoke and were overcome. Mrs. Jones wandered into the living room away from the front door. Her husband fought his way as far as the guest room window before he was overcome.

The fire marshal said the greatest intensity of the fire appeared to be centered in the corner of the living room where a sofa and chair had stood. Both were destroyed There was no official version of what may have caused the fire.

3 JAPS BURNED BY BOMB ASHES ARE "CRITICAL"

TOKYO (AP)—Three of the 23 Japanese fishermen burned by ashes from the March 1 hydrogen blast at Bikini were reported in "fairly critical" condition today with their blood count "falling sharply further since yesterday."

This report came from a Japanese doctor as a government official took issue with a statement by U S. Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss that the fishermen's boat unwittingly was inside the official danger zone when showered with radioactive ash.

80 Miles From Blast

Tsutau Yamaguchi, director of Japan's Maritime Safety Board, told the Diet the fishing boat Lucky Dragon was at least 19 miles outside the danger area. Crewmen have said they were at least 80 miles from the blast site.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet the "United States should take responsibility for damage sustained . . . whether or not the ship was within the danger zone."

The House of Representatives adopted unanimously a resolution calling on the United Nations to "expedite outlawing of atomic weapons."

An American scientist said Wednesday the burned fishermen were at "the critical stage." He added that their chances of recovery were good.

The newspaper Tokyo Shimbun quoted Dr. Shimichi Miwa as saying:

Growing Weaker

"Three of the seven atomic patients now suffer from 102.2 degree temperature, and their white corpuscle count which has been 3,100 to 3,500—or about onehalf normal—has started falling sharply further since yesterday.

Dr. Miwa added that some patients have recovered when their white cell count drops even lower "but they require special attention now."

The newspaper Yomiuri said Japan will ask the United States to make a $10,000 monthly payment for treatment of the burned fishermen, plus an $80 monthly living allowance.

Raschi Praises Stengel But Casey Lauds Coaches

By FRANK ECK

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Many glowing tributes have been paid Casey Stengel as he led the New York Yankees through five straight World Series. But one he is sure to enjoy comes from Vic Raschi, a pitcher he sold out of the American League.

"Casey Stengel knows his ball players and knows what they can do," says Raschi. "He also knows the ball parks. He really has made a study of the game."

This is especially high praise since it comes from a top pitcher who has been known for his silent qualities. It is all the more noteworthy when one considers that leaving the Yankees could mean about an $8,200 cut for Raschi That was his World Series share last year and hes been getting a winner's share ever since 1949.

Turner Termed Best

"In Jim Turner the Yankees have the best pitching coach in the business," Raschi continued. "He helped me at Portland. He helped me in Yankee Stadium. He runs the Yankee staff. He's always thinking ahead. When he sees a pitcher in trouble in a close game and knows that that pitcher is due due to hit, he'll have two men warming up in the bull pen."

Raschi completed only 7 of 26 starts last year and that is the big reason for his sale to the St. Louis Cardinals for $75,000.

Allie Reynolds, who has pitched seven Series victories and who in 1953 saved many games for Raschi, says

"The main think with the Yankees is over-all strength, plus a good bench. If one fellow moves into the lineup he's capable of winning that position. There's no complacency on the club. We have on the bench fellows who could be outstanding players on other clubs."

Two days later, the only amendment to his previous statement was:

"Casey has the utmost confidence in his coaches to handle the various departments."

Have Team Play

Ed Lopat, the cute southpaw who knows how to keep hitters off balance and has been a big Yankee winner since 1948 when he came from the White Sox, says:

"Since I've been with them there has been no individualism. It's always been team play."

About his coaches, Stengel says: "Jim Turner know pitching. He has spent more than half his life at it. (Turner is 53 and began his organized ball career in 1925 by winning 19 games for Winston-Salem, N. C.).

"Frank Crosetti knows infield play and how to coach at third base.

"Bill Dickey knows hitting (10 of his first 11 seasons he hit above .300 as a Yankee) and he knows catching. Look how he's helped Yogi (Berra).

"I just tell them what to do and they know how to get it across. And sometimes I don't tell them what to do—and they do it."

And now for a pitcher who had his brains knocked out four times by the Yankees last year, here's how Harry Byrd, obtained from the Philadelphia Athletics, feels about the Yankees:

"I doubt that I beat 'em at all last year. (He didn't. He lost 4 times and 6 out of 7 since coming up in 1952). It'll be a new experience for me to find out how the other half of baseball lives.

"Now I don't have to worry about the hitters. I don't think any pitcher likes to pitch against the Yankees They beat you all kinds of ways."

Bevenour Reports To Savannah, Ga.

Joseph L. Bevenour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bevenour, New Oxford, left Thursday for Savannah, Ga., where he will receive a tryout with the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League.

Bevenour, a right-handed pitcher, starred at Delone Catholic High School. McSherrystown, and also pitched for the New Oxford team of the Pen-Mar League last season.

Frank Santore, American Bowling Congress singles and all-events champion, tied for 92nd position with Tony Sperando in the 1953 doubles event.

TIGERS FIRST TO REDUCE TICKETS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers today became the first major league baseball club to reduce the over-all price of tickets as the result of the cut in federal excise taxes.

The Brooklyn Dodgers reduced the price of a bleacher seat from 60 to 50 cents but made no change in the others. The Tigers, however, went right down the line shortly after President Eisenhower signed a bill reducing the tax on some admissions in half and eliminating it entirely on others.

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, president of the Detroit club, approved a price range of 65 cents for a bleacher seat to $2.30 for a box seat. The previous scale was 75 cents to $2.50.

Most of the other clubs adopted a wait - and - see attitude but acknowledged the government had thrown a monkey wrench into their fiscal operations.

Robin Roberts Is Pounded By Tigers And Phillies' Flag Hopes Sink Lower Every Day

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the most ardent rooter for the Philadelphia Phillies will concede that without an effective Robin Roberts, the club hasn't a ghost of a chance of winning the National League pennant. And Mr. Roberts' showing this spring can hardly be described as "effective."

Just what, if anything, is bothering the strapping right-hander hasn't been determined. Maybe it's the heavy work (347 innings) he put in last season. Or could be he's just pacing himself. At any rate, Roberts is a far cry from the fireballing pitcher who won 107 games in his last five National League seasons.

Yesterday, the 6-foot-1½ native of Springfield, Ill., went the route for the first time this spring, but he was raked for 13 hits as the Phillies dropped a 7-2 decision to the Detroit Tigers.

Record Is 0-3

The time before that (March 27), he was shelled from the mound in the fourth inning after he had yielded seven runs to the Chicago White Sox. His over-all exhibition record is 0-3, which could augur a disappointing campaign for the 23-game winner of 1953.

The Phillies are said to have strengthened their pitching staff with the acquisition of Murry Dickson and Johnny Lindell from Pittsburgh. Curt Simmons and Jim Konstanty have looked good in recent outings, but if Manager Steve O'Neill can't count on Roberts for at least 20 victories, the Phillies likely would settle for fourth place right now.

First baseman Charley Kress was the big gun in the Detroit attack yesterday, blasting one of Roberts' pitches over the center field fence with two mates aboard in the fourth inning.

Cards Down Chisox

Gerry Staley, another of the National League's star right-handers, fared better than Roberts yesterday. He gave up only two hits in seven innings as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Chicago White Sox 6-3. Al Brazle, ancient bullpen ace, preserved the Cards' third straight triumph and their 14th in 22 games by choking off a ninth-inning rally.

The New York Giants, who look more formidable every day, scored their ninth victory in 12 starts against the Cleveland Indians, 4-2. The Tribe committed four errors. The Giants collected only four hits, but Willie Mays doubled home the first run and Don Mueller singled in two more, all in the opening frame.

Ending their worst Florida showing in the six years under Casey Stengel's regime, the New York Yankees dropped a 9-3 decision to The loss was the 16th n 24 games for the world champions. The Pirates put the game out of reach in the first inning when they scored five times against lefty Bob Wiesler.

Gil Hodges' homer sparked a 12-hit Brooklyn attack as the Dodgers whipped the Milwaukee Braves 10-7. The game was called at the end of the eighth to permit the clubs to make a train. Eddie Mathews and Johnny Logan each homered twice for the Braves.

The improving Washington Senators broke loose for five runs in the sixth frame to defeat the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-2. Tom Wright, recently secured from the White Sox, homered during the big inning.

Joost Says A's May Be "Real Dangerous"

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics pulled up training camp stakes here last night and Manager Eddie Joost said "with a little pitching, we'll be downright dangerous."

Joost offered this summation of the A's training grind:

"We've been luckier than most clubs. Everybody worked hard and—I'm keeping my fingers crossed—is in good shape. Barring a streak of misfortune our pitching should be all right.

"Bobby Shantz and Alex Kellner have looked great and when they're ready, that's half the staff."

Game Is Postponed Due To Cold Weather

Cold and threatening weather resulted in postponement of the Fairfield-Emmitsburg High School baseball game scheduled to be played Wednesday afternoon at Emmitsburg.

The game has been re-scheduled for next Monday at Emmitsburg.

Fairfield is now listed to open its season at Smithsburg, Md., Friday afternoon.

"Pete" Kemper's York Springs team will also open its season Friday when the Springers play at Carlisle.

WILLIAMS GROVE OPENS SUNDAY

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — Major improvements and additional rides will be available at Williams Grove Park which opens on Sunday, coincident with the first AAA big car auto race of the 1954 season on the adjoining Williams Grove Speedway.

Roy Richwine, owner and operator of the Cumberland County amusement center, announced that the park has been revamped and painted, with additional tables, benches and shelter building accommodations for picnics and outings.

Two new major rides, giving the park a total of 17 rides, including two roller coasters, have been added to the amusements, and "Kiddieland," a park within a park, exclusive for youngsters and children, has been enlarged.

One of the major rides added is the "Roll-O-Whirl," a new and different riding device.

The other is a mechanical pony and cart ride, complete with bells. Through mechanical construction, the ponies have all the movements of a live pony pulling a cart. Each cart will accommodate two or more children.

Richwine said that the past policy of free shows in the Mt. Vernon Theatre every Sunday afternoon and evening, until the park is opened every day starting about May 30, will be continued for the 1954 season.

Richwine, who has operated the amusement park since 1930, added that for the present the midway will be open only on Sundays.

SON FAILS TO SAVE PARENTS FROM BURNING

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A salesman and his wife burned to death today in their Plymouth Township home despite a courageous rescue attempt by their 29-year old son.

Walter Jones, 66, and his wife, Ruth, 54, perished on the first floor of the burning house. Their son, Walter Jr., climbed a ladder into the second floor but was trapped when he became confused in the smoke. Firemen wearing gas masks rescued him.

The bodies of his parents were found on the ground floor of the residence, a 1½ story brick house at Belvoir road and New Hope street, near the eastern boundary of Norristown.

The elder Jones reached a window before he was felled by flame and smoke. His wife's body lay in the living room where the fire centered.

Jones was a native of Norristown and a salesman for the Westfield River Paper Co. of West Conshohocken.

Fire Marshal Donald Tarbutton said the beds in the couple's rooms had been slept in. He indicated the Jones were upstairs when they were awakened by the fire. Tarbutton believes they ran downstairs and became separated trying to escape in the smoke and were overcome. Mrs. Jones wandered into the living room away from the front door. Her husband fought his way as far as the guest room window before he was overcome.

The fire marshal said the greatest intensity of the fire appeared to be centered in the corner of the living room where a sofa and chair had stood. Both were destroyed. There was no official version of what may have caused the fire.

3 JAPS BURNED BY BOMB ASHES ARE "CRITICAL"

TOKYO (AP)—Three of the 23 Japanese fishermen burned by ashes from the March 1 hydrogen blast at Bikini were reported in "fairly critical" condition today with their blood count "falling sharply further since yesterday."

This report came from a Japanese doctor as a government official took issue with a statement by U. S. Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss that the fishermen's boat unwittingly was inside the official danger zone when showered with radioactive ash.

80 Miles From Blast

Tsutau Yamaguchi, director of Japan's Maritime Safety Board, told the Diet the fishing boat Lucky Dragon was at least 19 miles outside the danger area. Crewmen have said they were at least 80 miles from the blast site.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet the "United States should take responsibility for damage sustained . . . whether or not the ship was within the danger zone."

The House of Representatives adopted unanimously a resolution calling on the United Nations to "expedite outlawing of atomic weapons."

An American scientist said Wednesday the burned fishermen were at "the critical stage." He added that their chances of recovery were good.

The newspaper Tokyo Shimbun quoted Dr. Shinichi Miwa as saying:

Growing Weaker

"Three of the seven atomic patients now suffer from 102.2 degree temperature, and their white corpuscle count which has been 3,100 to 3,500—or about onehalf normal—has started falling sharply further since yesterday.

Dr. Miwa added that some patients have recovered when their white cell count drops even lower "but they require special attention now."

The newspaper Yomiuri said Japan will ask the United States to make a $10,000 monthly payment for treatment of the burned fishermen, plus an $80 monthly living allowance.

Police Chide Citizens For 'Chasing' Alarm

OSHKOSH, Neb. (AP)—That crowd that always follows a fire truck got a big surprise when firemen set fire to a pool of oil on a dead end street and sounded the alarm. When the usual crowd gathered the firemen blocked off the open end.

They warned people in cars that the next time they followed the truck they would get traffic tickets. Then they sold tickets to the firemen's benefit feed.

A record sale was reported.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO International Union of Electrical Workers—seeking a guaranteed annual wage, a substantial pay raise, and improved welfare and insurance plans—opened 1954 contract talks today with Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The union represents some 46,000 workers in 28 Westinghouse plants. The company's contract with CIO-IUE expires June 30.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania announced today that new excise tax cuts will mean an average yearly saving to state subscribers of $6.12.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania CIO council today called on Gov. John S. Fine to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the unemployment situation.

"The major concern of the people in Pennsylvania is how much worse may the unemployment situation become and how long will it continue," President Harry Boyer said in a letter to the governor.

Raschi Praises Stengel But Casey Lauds Coaches

By FRANK ECK

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Many glowing tributes have been paid Casey Stengel as he led the New York Yankees through five straight World Series. But one he is sure to enjoy comes from Vic Raschi, a pitcher he sold out of the American League.

"Casey Stengel knows his ball players and knows what they can do," says Raschi. "He also knows the ball parks. He really has made a study of the game."

This is especially high praise since it comes from a top pitcher who has been known for his silent qualities. It is all the more noteworthy when one considers that leaving the Yankees could mean about an $8,200 cut for Raschi. That was his World Series share last year and hes been getting a winner's share ever since 1949.

Turner Termed Best

"In Jim Turner the Yankees have the best pitching coach in the business," Raschi continued. "He helped me at Portland. He helped me in Yankee Stadium. He runs the Yankee staff. He's always thinking ahead. When he sees a pitcher in trouble in a close game and knows that that pitcher is due due to hit, he'll have two men warming up in the bull pen."

Raschi completed only 7 of 26 starts last year and that is the big reason for his sale to the St. Louis Cardinals for $75,000.

Allie Reynolds, who has pitched seven Series victories and who in 1953 saved many games for Raschi, says:

"The main think with the Yankees is over-all strength, plus a good bench. If one fellow moves into the lineup he's capable of winning that position. There's no complacency on the club. We have on the bench fellows who could be outstanding players on other clubs."

Two days later, the only amendment to his previous statement was:

"Casey has the utmost confidence in his coaches to handle the various departments."

Have Team Play

Today's Talk

TAKE THE CHANCE!

One of the commonest causes of failure is a lack of confidence and courage. Successful people are those who are not afraid to take a chance. How often you hear the statement: "I wish I had bought that stock when it was low!" Bold men did and that is one of the reasons why the stock advanced.

The story of every successful person is spotted with many a failure, but these later proved to be but stepping stones to something beyond and something better. Fortune smiles upon those who are bold and who take chances, backing their own judgment. Two men, with faith, took hold of Miami Beach when it was a swamp—Carl Fisher and Jim Allison—and today it is a paradise for hundreds of thousands of vacationists during the winter months.

The late Henry Ford never put a dollar into his company. He furnished the ideas and other people, who had confidence in those ideas, put up the money. Later all returned as millionaires! I know of a man in Wichita, Kansas, who invented a useful lamp. Then he improved it and made others. Today his lamps are known and used over a great part of the world. He took chances with his faith!

I think it was Wendell Phillips who said: "The biggest brains do not go to Congress." No, they stay home and serve their town or city, and become creators and builders of useful things. They are little heard of outside what they do for the benefit of us all. Few ever heard of Secretary of the Treasury of the United States until his appointment to that important place. Now the name of Mr. Humphrey is a famous one. The story of his earlier career is interesting.

Never sell democracy, or a free way of life, short. To do so can mean the loss of all our liberties and our dreams for a better world. Our forefathers took chances, often settling the account with their blood!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Make Yours Happiness."

EDGAR A. GUEST

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I shall have spent it well
If, when today is gone,
A friend or two may tell,
When I have journeyed on,
That I had time to stay
And help them on their way.

I shall have lived this day
And truly earned my rest
If I, at night, can say
That I have done my best,
And when I close my gate
Leave naught behind of hate.

But though I rise to fame
And win the goal I seek,
Though honors I may claim
And reach life's highest peak,
I've failed, if far behind
I leave one deed unkind.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin branded as "entirely baseless" today claims by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles that he had gotten Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov to agree the coming Geneva conference with Red China would not be a Big Five meeting.

A Soviet Foreign Ministry statement said Dulles had, in fact, agreed at the recent conference of Big Four foreign ministers in Berlin that the Peiping representatives would meet on an equal footing with the other great powers in Geneva April 26.

The Foreign Ministry statement, published in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda, charged Dulles now is trying to back out of his commitment.

Not Big 5 Meet

It quoted Dulles' speech before the Overseas Press Club in New York Monday night, in which the American chief diplomat said: "The United States position was made clear at the recent Berlin conference. There, by standing firm, I finally obtained the reluctant agreement by Mr. Molotov that the Geneva conference would not be a 'Big Five conference.'"

Pravda said it had received from the Soviet Foreign Ministry "an explanation that the statement by Dulles regarding a promise of Mr. Molotov that the Geneva conference will not be a conference of the Big Five 'is entirely baseless.'"

It added the Foreign Ministry supported its argument by drawing attention to the text of the communique which Molotov, Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault issued at Berlin.

"Equal Footing"

It quoted a portion of the communique saying Red China could attend the conference and added: "It is seen subsequently from the communique that the Chinese People's Republic will take part in the Geneva conference on an equal footing with the other great powers.

"From all this one can draw the conclusion that Mr. Dulles, in making the above-mentioned (New York) statement, has evidently decided to disregard the generally known facts."

The Moscow dispatch did not cite the portion of Dulles' speech in which he said he had also gotten Molotov's agreement "that the invitation to Geneva, would itself specify that neither the invitation to, nor the holding of that conference, should be deemed to imply diplomatic recognition where it had not already been accorded."

A statement to this effect was included in the Berlin communique of Feb. 18 after considerable wrangling between Dulles and Molotov.

RED CHINA NOT ON EQUAL LEVEL

LONDON (AP)—Britain rejected today the Kremlin's claim that Red China will participate in the Geneva conference on an equal footing with Russia and the Western Big Three.

A foreign office spokesman said the decision taken at Berlin called for Britain, the United States, France and Russia to act as the inviting powers for the foreign ministers parley on Korea and Indochina. The conference begins April 26.

The spokesman specifically rejected an assertion made yesterday by the Soviet foreign ministry that the Geneva conference would be a five-power conference including Red China as an equal member. The Russian declaration was made in reply to U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement March 29 that the Geneva conference would not be considered a five-power conference giving Red China the same status as the Big Four.

Persley Gets Decision Over Armand Savois

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The fight experts had tabbed lightweight Arthur Persley as a harder puncher than Armand Savoie of Montreal, and the Louisiana Negro proved it last night in his 10-round unanimous decision over the Canadian.

Persley began hammering Savoie from the opening bell and kept up a steady pace except for the third and seventh stanzas, when Savoie tried to dominate the action.

Both battlers scaled at 136.

GOP ON PACKAGED LIST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Pennsylvania is one of the installations the Defense Department has listed where packaged liquor still may be sold by officers' clubs.

The Defense Department disclosed yesterday a list of 79 installations out of 812 where officers' clubs may continue package liquor sales. At the others, starting today, package sales are discontinued.

Those permitted to continue such sales, the department said, are mostly "remote"—10 miles or more from the nearest commercial or state authority source of packaged supplies.

Scot Miners Will Live 'Forever' On Pension

SYDNEY, N. S. (AP)—They say if you a Scotsman on pension he'll live forever. Bolstering this adage are 15 ex-miners, mostly of Scottish descent, on the pension rolls of a coal company here.

All are over 90 years old, and all plan to enjoy retirement for years to come. They are some of the men who started in the pits at 11 or 12 years of age, back in the days before child labor laws and trade unions. They earned up to 50 cents a day. Some worked in the same mine-shaft for more than 50 years.

KENNAN SAYS BIGGEST THREAT IS WITHIN U. S.

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Russia, last night called on Americans to overcome what he termed a present demoralization.

In the last of four Stafford Little Lectures at Princeton University, Kennan painted a word picture of Americans alarmed by subversion within the nation, who wind up by spying on their neighbors and purging books.

These people, Kennan said, lost confidence in the integrity of the society as a whole. He added that the loss of confidence was being communicated abroad and was causing unsteadiness in foreign relations.

Kennan said Americans must not succumb to fear. The people must "act like what Americans really are, and not like what we fear we might be" in order to present a united front at the borders of the United States, he added.

Threat Within U.S.

The most frightening and menacing thing confronting the nation today, Kennan went on, was within the country rather than outside.

He described the "spectacle of millions of our citizens listening eagerly" to fear-creating suggestions and "then trotting off faithfully and anxiously, like the victims of some totalitarian brainwashing, to snoop and check up on their fellow citizens, to purge the libraries and lecture platforms, to protect us all from the impact of ideas."

External penetration and subversion in our life is "a relatively minor and almost routine problem" Kennan added.

Circus Opens With New York Benefit

NEW YORK (AP)—The "greatest show on earth" opened its 70th season last night in Madison Square Garden, as glittering and extravagant as ever and studded with new acts.

But all the old standbys were there too—they'll be in the show as long as there is a Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Last night's opening performance was a benefit for the United Cerebral Palsy Fund. Dozens of stage, television and movie stars took part as amateur clowns and showgirls.

Will Build 85-Bed Addition To Home

HARRISBURG (AP) — Architects are completing plans for an 85-bed addition to the Masonic homes at Elizabethtown as part of a $2,630,000 building expansion program.

Plans for the proposed expansion were announced last night at the 84th anniversary dinner of Robert Burns Lodge 464 in Zembo Mosque here.

Relph M. Lehr, grand master of the State Grand Lodge, said the bed addition project will cost $1,750,000. A recreation building also will be erected at a cost of $700,000. An $800,000 kitchen is being constructed to replace five separate kitchens now in use.

CONTINUE QUIZ OF TAX EVADER

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Atty. Vincent Russo, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, planned to continue cross-examination today of Howard R. B. Jones, Williamsport man accused of evading more than $10,000 in income taxes during 1946 and 1947.

Jones took the stand in his own defense yesterday and denied charges that he received a part of the income from slot machines at the Williamsport Radio Club. The government has been trying to establish the "net worth" of Jones at various times around the period covered by the indictment in building its case.

On the witness stand, Jones testified that he sold three or four slot machines and other equipment to the club when it rented space in a building he owned. He said, however, his only income from the club was a $35 weekly salary as a bartender and $100 a month in rental.

Russo, in his cross-examinatin, queried Jones about the purchase of an automobile and arrangements to enroll a son in the Peddie School in New Jersey.

ST. LOUIS COP IS CONVICTED OF PERJURY

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A federal court jury has convicted Elmer Dolan, suspended St. Louis patrolman, of perjury—a charge that grew out of the arrest of kidnap-killer Carl Austin Hall.

Dolan was found guilty yesterday of lying to a grand jury about the handling of ransom money recovered in Hall's room.

Judge Albert A. Ridge deferred sentencing due to a motion for a new trial. Dolan's attorney said he would seek a new trial and April 15 was set as the deadline for filing the motion.

Dolan and Louis Shoulders, former St. Louis police lieutenant, participated in the arrest of Hall last Oct. 6. Hall and his paramour, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, were executed last December for the kidnap-killing of 6 - year - old Bobby Greenlease.

Recover $296,280

Only $296,280 of the $600,000 ransom paid by Bobby's father, automobile dealer Robert C. Greenlease, was recovered.

Dolan was indicted after he told a grand jury he carried into a St. Louis police station one of the suitcases containing ransom money shortly after Hall was arrested and booked.

At Dolan's trial several government witnesses who were in the police station at the time testified they did not see any suitcases carried in at the time Hall was booked.

Mark Hennelly, Dolan's attorney, said in his closing arguments that several government witnesses admitted it might have been possible Dolan and Shoulders carried in the suitcases but that they did not see them.

Government attorneys maintained the size of the two metal suitcases, later found to contain the money, made it virtually impossible for them to be carried in unnoticed.

Dolan is free on $7,500 bond.

Shoulders, who also was indicted by the grand jury, is scheduled to go on trial on a perjury charge April 12.

Five years imprisonment and $2,000 fine is the maximum penalty for perjury.

ODDS SHORTER ON OLSON NOW

CHICAGO (AP)—An outbreak of rumors that Carl (Bobo) Olson has a head cold and that Kid Gavilan has a sore right hand today failed to affect the odds on their championship brawl at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

Olson, middleweight king making his first title defense since clinching the crown with a 15-round decision over Randy Turpin last October, was a 3-2 favorite.

A week ago he was a 9-5 choice. In the meantime, Gavilan moved his training headquarters to Chicago. The slide in odds followed a normal course and should be 6-5, take your pick, by ring time. It figures strictly a tossup, and getting behind a favorite is one of the hardest jobs boxing experts have had to do in years.

The fight will be televised nationally by NBC, starting at 10 p.m., EST, with Chicago and a 100-mile surrounding area blacked out.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Automobile license numbers are getting bigger in Connecticut. Four digits used in combination with letters did the trick until recently. All possible combinations have been exhausted, however, and the state has had to go to five digits.

Winters Were Hard Back In Early 1900's

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Len Costley has been playing Paul Bunyan roles since 1934 as an avocation—including tall tales. Reviewing the past winter he said things have been getting warmer.

"Back in the early 1900s when I was lumberjacking it got so cold we didn't get daylight until noon. The darkness froze and it took that long to thaw out."

ASK WILSON TO APPROVE CD TRANSFER

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Defense Secretary Wilson has been asked by the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission to clear transfer of the Federal Civil Defense Administration from Washington to the military reservation at Indiantown Gap, Pa.

Charles Weissman, chairman of the development commission's "economic task force," said yesterday he had written Wilson:

"This action, although it may bring only a few additional jobs for the southern end of our labor surplus area, would be another step in our attempted regionwide employment stabilization program which must be greatly accentuated in the face of the loss of thousands of jobs this spring due to further curtailment of anthracite coal production."

The commission also urged Wilson, in a separate letter, to disregard the adverse reaction of "certain employes of the Baltimoe depot of the U. S. Army Signal Depot" to the transfer of temporary operations from Baltimore to the new 35 million-dollar signal depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

Weissman said the development commission feels "the creation of these new jobs at Tobyhanna will, in a measure, assist our area of chronic labor surplus."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The appointment of a new Catholic auxiliary to the archbishop of Newark, N. J., was announced Wednesday.

The Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, announced the Episcopal appointment by His Holiness Pope Piux XII:

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Justin J. McCarthy, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows Church at South Orange, N. J., to be titular bishop of Doberus and auxiliary to his excellency, Thomas A. Boland, archbishop of Newark.

Bishop-elect McCarthy was born Nov. 26, 1900, in Sayre, Pa. He attended Seton Hall University, the Immaculate Conception Seminary, New Jersey and the North American College in Rome. He was ordained April 16, 1927, in the Basilica of St. John Lateran in Rome by his eminence, Cardinal Pompili. He was named a papal chamberlain in May 1941 and a domestic prelate, Right Reverend Monsignor, in December 1949. Msgr. McCarthy was director of the Priests' League and of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament from November 1940 to March 1954.

N. Y. Plans Ski-Lift For Summer Picnics

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — It's nothing new for skiers to ride up a mountainside in a chairlift, but did you ever do it with a picnic basket—and in the summer?

The New York State Conservation Department has under consideration a suggestion for developing a combined winter and summer recreation area near Old Forge, in the Adirondacks Mountains.

And a chairlift for the project would be used year-around.

HOMEMAKERS HEAR FRAILEY TALK ON WILLS

The Emmitsburg Homemakers Club held their monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Fuss, East Main St. There were 23 members and visitors present. The president, Mrs. Estelle Watkins, presided over the meeting.

The speaker for the meeting was Colonel Thomas J. Frailey, a local retired attorney. Mr. Frailey spoke on "Wills and Their Importance." He told all those present that it was important to have and hold a properly made will.

This was International Relations month. The chairman, Mrs. Mervin Tate, spoke briefly concerning the joint meeting with Thurmont that will be held in the near future and stated that the International Relaions program will be held at that time.

The annual Homemakers meeting for the county will be held in Frederick at Hood College on April 10. All of those people interested in getting tickets for the luncheon are asked to contact Miss Louise Sebold at once. These tickets must be reported by Friday.

The club is endeavoring to plan a bus tour to Washington, D. C., on April 24. At this time there will be a tour of six embassies and a tea at the Dominican embassy with Mrs. Richard Nixon as the guest of honor. For details concerning this trip members are asked to contact Mrs. J. Lawrence Orendorff.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

School Directors Lauded By Professor

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The important role of the board of education was noted yesterday in an address by Dr. Clyde B. Moore, Cornell University professor, at the closing session of the School Directors Conference here.

"School directors point the way for the common good and then through the agencies of the professionally competent bring the progressive program to a happy conclusion," he said.

Dr. Moore, who also is president of the Ithaca, N. Y., board of education, declared that the public has a right to demand that a board of education be made up of men and women of insight and vision.

VFW Plans Events For Community Fund

Plans for a member of public affairs to raise funds for the Community Affairs activities of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are being completed by the Emmitsburg VFW.

A public party this evening at the post home is one of a number of events that will be held to raise funds for operation of the playground this summer and operation of the ambulance provided by the VFW for the borough, as well as other community activities in which the veterans' organization participates.

The series started by Present Commander Fern Ohler, who is completing two years in office, will be continued by Commander Philip B. Sharpe, who is to be installed next Wednesday, April 7. Maryland Department VFW Adjutant-Quartermaster Roy C. Gamber, Westminster, is to be in charge of the installation of the new VFW officers next Wednesday.

STUDENT IS KILLED

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A University of Delaware student was killed early today when his car skidded and crashed on Limestone road west of here, just over the state line in Pennsylvania. The victim was George T. Mitchell, 20, of Chestertown, Md., a senior. A passenger, W. Glenn Dill, also a senior, of Milford, Pa., suffered minor injuries. Dill is editor of the Review, a student weekly paper.

SELECT PLAY FOR HI SENIORS

The Emmitsburg High Senior Class has revealed their plans for their class play. Mrs. Caldwell is the coach. The play is entitled "June Fever" and is about Mr. and Mrs. Mac Arthur and their two daughters, Donna and Irma. Donna is about to be graduated from high school and her boy friend, Bud, wants her to accept an engagement ring, but her parents object. The play portrays typical problems of teen-age boys and girls, also their social activities. No date has been set for the play.

On Tuesday at 9:10 a.m. the student body assembled in the school auditorium to see a show. Several French poodles performed tricks and stunts for the audience. Monkeys from India then made their entrance followed by a 12-year-old Shetland pony. The trainer explained the principles of training animals by using their power of vision.

The Junior and Senior Classes have joined efforts in making money for the prom of 1954. One food sale was given in March by both classes and the receipts went in the prom pool. Other activities are being planned by both classes.

The boys of the Senior High went to Frederick to a volleyball tournament. They were victorious over Thurmont, but were defeated in the semi-finals by Brunswick.

The Home Economics classes are preparing plans and articles of clothing to be shown in a fashion show sometime in May.

MINSTREL REHEARSALS

Some 35 to 40 people are busy rehearsing for the Minstrel Show chorus' appearance on television in the near future. If any more of the people who were formerly in the show are interested in making this trip to Baltimore the next rehearsal will be held on Sunday afternoon in the VFW Annex. The bass and tenor sections will meet at 2:30 p.m. and the soprano and alto sections will meet at 3:15 p.m.

McCarthy Pays $200 For Mailing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department says Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has voluntarily paid "200-odd dollars" in charges on mail originally sent out under his congressional frank.

Jesse M. Donaldson, postmaster general in the administration of former President Truman, in October 1952 challenged McCarthy's use of the frank to mail, along with speeches which were entitled to such handling, reprints of a review of McCarthy's book. Donaldson said he was acting on complaints from persons who received the material.

Postmaster Gen. Summerfield said yesterday "we wrote him a little note and he wrote a note back and sent the check and that is all there is to it."

Defends Right To Suspend Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Electric Co. today defended its right to suspend workers who refuse on constitutional grounds to answer questions of congressional committees.

The company filed papers in U.S. District Court asking dismissal of a suit brought by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (UE) and John W. Nelson of Erie, Pa.

The company contended the right of management to formulate policies for the hiring and discharge of personnel "is beyond question."

The company's policy calls for the suspension for 90 days with pay of any employe who claims a privilege against self-incrimination and refuses to answer questions about membership in the Communist party, or about espionage or sabotage activities. Nelson is among the GE employes who have been suspended under the policy.

COLDER TONIGHT IS FORECAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stubborn winter played another unwelcome visit in Pennsylvania today, dusting many parts of the state with snow and driving the mercury down to figures dismaying to early gardeners.

It was some consolation that the snow didn't last long and that it was a trace which couldn't even be measured.

Henry P. Adams, chief forecaster in Philadelphia, said warm air from the South, moving in on top of cold air already here, brought the snow. There was a sprinkling last night and another in the early morning hours.

Low temperatures were in the chillier 30's most places.

And, Adams added, it probably will be even colder tonight. Lows from 20 to 28 are indicated.

Friday's prospect, however, is for milder weather, warming up to at least 50 in southeastern Pennsylvania and perhaps as much in other sections. Saturday, too, may carry on in the pleasanter ways of spring.

STRIKE IN ROME

ROME (AP)—A public transport strike forced most Romans to walk to work today, or to ride in a strange assortment of emergency vehicles.

The unions called the strike, latest in a series of labor disturbances since Premier Mario Scelba took office, to get higher pay and other benefits.

WAVES TRAFFIC CHARGE

DETROIT (AP)—Traffic Referee John M. Wise promptly dismissed an illegal parking charge when Arthur Bensmiller's mother explained:

Arthur, 18, pulled into the parking space at the Federal Building and went in to enlist in the Air Force. The sign said "reserved for military vehicles." Arthur figured his car would qualify by the time he got back. But there was a ticket just the same. Arthur didn't come to court because he was in Texas, taking Air Force basic training.

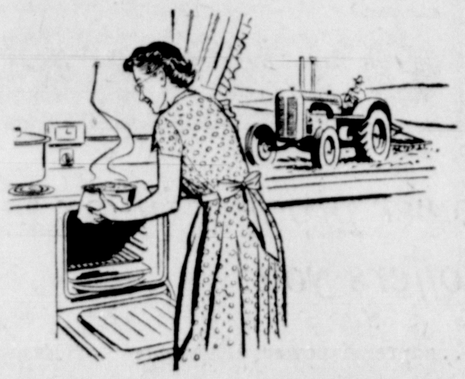
When steps add up to miles
Someone once said, "The steps you save are often as important as the steps you take." If you live on a farm, you'll probably agree with that. For instance, suppose you are to pick up a piece of equipment in town, but you're not sure it's ready. So you turn to the telephone to avoid an unnecessary trip. Time and trouble saved . . . by a single telephone call. That's why so many people say, "Telephone service is my biggest bargain."


The right recipe
You probably have a favorite recipe—one that you have had the best success with. And so it is with party-line telephone service. People have found that the best recipe there is good, old-fashioned courtesy—neighborly consideration for the other fellow. This means keeping calls reasonably brief and spaced out so that others may make use of the line in the intervals, and making sure the receiver is replaced properly after each call. Simple things, but they pay off in better, more useful telephone service for all.

MERCHANTS TO ASK CHANGE IN METER HOURS

A delegation of merchants will meet with the Emmitsburg borough commissioners and burgess Monday evening, at the regular meeting of the "town fathers," to seek to have the Saturday evening parking meter hours removed.

Roger Zurgable, William Rowe, Edward Houck and Bernard Boyle will comprise the committee of merchants to make the appeal to the commissioners and burgess.

Zurgable said today: "The merchants met about two weeks ago to discuss the problem, and we were appointed as a committee to meet with the commissioners.

Ruling Changed Recently

"We hope to be able to work out a solution by which the Saturday evening hours can be removed without loss of revenue to the town, because we fully realize that the borough needs funds to continue its operations. The commissioners do a good job of handling the affairs of the town and it takes money to do the job.

"At the same time many of the merchants are of the opinion that keeping the parking meters in operation from 6 to 9 on Saturday night hurts business here, because some customers will go elsewhere where they can park without paying on Saturday nights. We feel that something can be worked out to provide funds for the town and provide free parking on Saturday nights in Emmitsburg and that is what we hope to work out Monday night."

Until a few weeks ago parking meters in Emmitsburg were operative on Saturday nights only around the square. Then the ruling, placing the meters in operation Saturday nights, was extended to all of the meters through the town.

N. J. Gov. Casts For Extra Millions In '55

TRENTON, N.J., (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner said today New Jersey will need to raise about 89 million dollars more next year to operate its government.

He told a news conference he wanted advice on "how it can be done" without new or increased taxes.

Meyner said he wanted "the people and the Legislature to know they have got to raise" 40 million dollars next year just to continue the present essential government services. He has recommended a budget of 236 million dollars for the 1954-55 fiscal year. The additional 40 million would boost the 1955-56 budget to 276 million.

In addition, the governor said, another 49 million will be needed to cover increased state aid to schools, an expanded highway construction program, and a state medical college.

"If the legislators or anybody can raise the money without new or increased taxes, I'd like to kno how it can be done," the governor said.

BID FOR RITA, DICK

LONDON (AP)—British impresario Maurice Kinn said today he had offered Rita Hayworth and her crooner husband Dick Haymes $42,000 for a three-week theatrical tour of Britain. He said he is waiting for their decision.

He said he previously had an agreement for Haymes to come to Britain but the crooner had to cancel because of tax problems in the United States.

DEMOCRATS BUSY RAISING ELECTION FUND

Emmitsburg area Democrats are planning to hold a number of affairs, card parties, dances, and similar events, to raise funds for the forthcoming general election in November.

Lumen Norris, newly elected chairman of the Emmitsburg District Democratic Party, said today "it looks like we will win in November and we're planning to build up a fund to help us secure that victory."

Harmony is expected to reign throughout Frederick County's Democratic party at the June primary, Norris said, "and we'll have a united front for the general election." So far, he added, most candidates in the primary will be unopposed, with the Democratic party hoping to present a top-rank slate for the voters' approval in the general election.

Wales Rightnour, newly elected secretary-treasurer for the Democratic party in the three precincts including Emmitsburg, nearby rural area and the St. Anthony's section, said more than $30 has already been contributed to the central committee.

Named as precinct chairmen by the Democrats are: Precinct One, Eugene Kraemer, chairman, and Romanus Lawrence, co-chairman; Precinct Two, O. E. Woods, chairman, and Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, co-chairman; Precinct Three, John M. Roddy Jr., chairman, and Richary J. McCullough, co-chairman.

YOUTH IS HELD IN FATAL CRASH

An Emmitsburg area youth has been released on $1,000 bond on charges of manslaughter, reckless driving and driving without a permit following a fatal accident on Monday night near Fairland, Montgomery County, Maryland.

The charges were preferred against Lester C. Tyler, 19, of Emmitsburg R. 2. He has been released pending a hearing before a magistrate in Silver Spring.

Montgomery County police listed the dead youth as Louis E. Tyler, 19, Rockvill R. 3. He died as the result of a crushed chest. The deceased was a cousin of the driver, police said.

The car driven by Tyler overturned on a curve on the Briggs Chaney road, near Peach Orchard road after going off the pavement. Occupants of the car were thrown out, the police report said.

The accident occurred about 7:50 p.m. Monday.

McCarthy Pays $200 For Mailing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department says Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has voluntarily paid "200-odd dollars" in charges on mail originally sent out under his congressional frank.

Jesse M. Donaldson, postmaster general in the administration of former President Truman, in October 1952 challenged McCarthy's use of the frank to mail, along with speeches which were entitled to such handling, reprints of a review of McCarthy's book. Defends Right To Suspend Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Electric Co. today defended its right to suspend workers who refuse on constitutional grounds to answer questions of congressional committees.

The company filed papers in U.S. District Court asking dismissal of a suit brought by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (UE) and John W. Nelson of Erie, Pa.

The company contended the right of management to formulate policies for the hiring and discharge of personnel "is beyond question."

The company's policy calls for the suspension for 90 days with pay of any employe who claims a privilege against self-incrimination and refuses to answer questions about membership in the Communist party, or about espionage or sabotage activities. Nelson is among the GE employes who have been suspended under the policy.

COLDER TONIGHT IS FORECAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stubborn winter played another unwelcome visit in Pennsylvania today, dusting many parts of the state with snow and driving the mercury down to figures dismaying to early gardeners.

It was some consolation that the snow didn't last long and that it was a trace which couldn't even be measured.

Henry P. Adams, chief forecaster in Philadelphia, said warm air from the South, moving in on top of cold air already here, brought the snow. There was a sprinkling last night and another in the early morning hours.

Low temperatures were in the chillier 30's most places.

And, Adams added, it probably will be even colder tonight. Lows from 20 to 28 are indicated.

Friday's prospect, however, is for milder weather, warming up to at least 50 in southeastern Pennsylvania and perhaps as much in other sections. Saturday, too, may carry on in the pleasanter ways of spring.

STRIKE IN ROME

ROME (AP)—A public transport strike forced most Romans to walk to work today, or to ride in a strange assortment of emergency vehicles.

The unions called the strike, latest in a series of labor disturbances since Premier Mario Scelba took office, to get higher pay and other benefits.

WAVES TRAFFIC CHARGE

DETROIT (AP)—Traffic Referee John M. Wise promptly dismissed an illegal parking charge when Arthur Bensmiller's mother explained: Arthur, 18, pulled into the parking space at the Federal Building and went in to enlist in the Air Force. The sign said "reserved for military vehicles." Arthur figured his car would qualify by the time he got back. But there was a ticket just the same. Arthur didn't come to court because he was in Texas, taking Air Force basic training.

School Directors Lauded By Professor

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The important role of the board of education was noted yesterday in an address by Dr. Clyde B. Moore, Cornell University professor, at the closing session of the School Directors Conference here.

"School directors point the way for the common good and then through the agencies of the professionally competent bring the progressive program to a happy conclusion," he said.

Dr. Moore, who also is president of the Ithaca, N. Y., board of education, declared that the public has a right to demand that a board of education be made up of men and women of insight and vision.

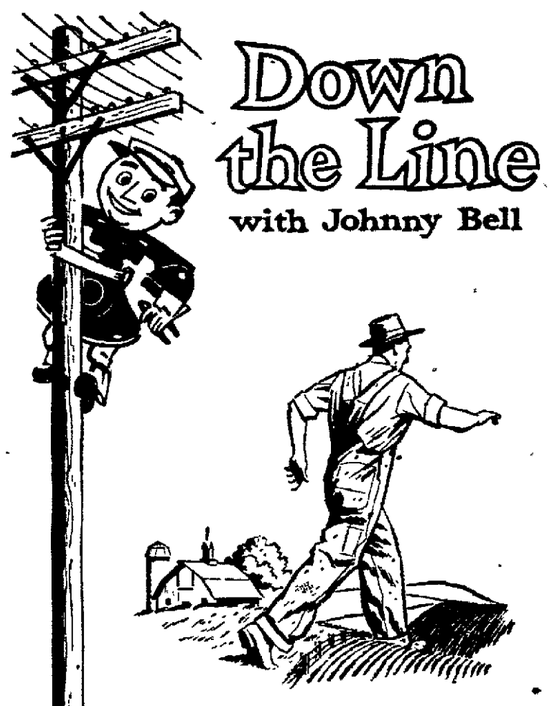
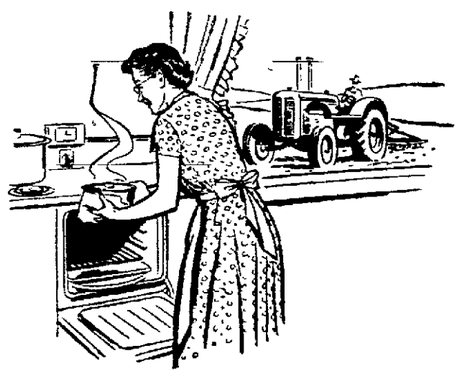
Down the Line with Johnny Bell


When steps add up to miles
Someone once said, "The steps you save are often as important as the steps you take." If you live on a farm, you'll probably agree with that. For instance, suppose you are to pick up a piece of equipment in town, but you're not sure it's ready. So you turn to the telephone to avoid an unnecessary trip. Time and trouble saved . . . by a single telephone call. That's why so many people say, "Telephone service is my biggest bargain."


The right recipe
You probably have a favorite recipe—one that you have had the best success with. And so it is with party-line telephone service. People have found that the best recipe there is good, old-fashioned courtesy—neighborly consideration for the other fellow. This means keeping calls reasonably brief and spaced out so that others may make use of the line in the intervals, and making sure the receiver is replaced properly after each call. Simple things, but they pay off in better, more useful telephone service for all.

FASHION EDITOR TELLS OF BUYING AN EASTER SUIT

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

A good suit is the backbone of the average American woman's wardrobe, probably representing her major clothes investment of the year.

They may economize on gay little dresses and accessories from the budget department, but when it comes to buying a suit, most women realize that it pays to get the best they can afford.

An advocate of this theory is Edith Small, of Hollywood, a designer noted especially for her knack making tailored suits look smooth, yet strictly suits look smooth, yet strictly feminine. During a recent New York visit Miss Small, whose stature matches her name, outlined the following tips on how to get your money's worth when you go shopping for a suit:

Know Your Size

1. Before you try on anything, determine your correct size. If you don't know it, have the saleswoman measure your waist, bust, shoulder width and length from back of neck to waist. This will tell you whether you should wear a misses', junior or so-called custom size. (The last is for gals who are short but somewhat wide.)

2. Determine ahead of time what color scheme you want in your spring wardrobe. You should plan to wear the same accessories with your new suit as with other items. If you have navy shoes and handbag, a navy or gray suit is in order. If your pet accessories are brown, choose beige or brown for your suit. Black accessories, of course, go with everything.

3. Choose the body line that fits you best. You have to feel good in the suit, if it fits well. When you try on the suit, don't just stand in front of the mirror and look at it. Move around. Sit down. Raise your arms to adjust your hat. The suit should feel comfortable and easy in any position if it fits correctly.

Don't Raise Shoulders

4. Don't buy a suit if it has to be raised at the shoulders. This is a tricky and expensive alteration. Jacket or skirt can be altered easily at the waistline, but if more extensive alterations are required, try another size.

5. Always look in the rear-view mirror when trying on a garment. If jacket pouches above the waist in back, it means it is too long from neck to waist. You need another size.

6. Look carefully at fabric labels.

7. Be fussy about styling and eye appeal.

8. Examine button holes, lining and inside seams for details of good workmanship.

9. Most important, be sure the suit is flattering to you, and that you feel comfortable in it.

10. Don't buy an extreme style unless you buy a new suit every year. A good suit should look just as smart next year as this.

When unexpected company comes, and you want a quick salad to add to your menu, open a can of snap beans and marinate them in French dressing. Serve the beans on salad greens with some of the dressing in which they were marinated. Strips of canned pimiento make a pretty garnish for this salad.

Prisoner Hauls Own Evidence To Court

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Anything to oblige, said T. H. (Tab) Bluejacket to state crime bureau agents who had just raided his night club near Afton.

Agent Ray Page asked Bluejacket for the use of his truck to haul in whisky and gambling equipment seized in the raid. Bluejacket not only loaned his vehicle but drove it to the courthouse.

He pleaded innocent to charges of illegal possession of liquor and gambling devices and was released on $1,000 bond.

GIRLS LEARN MECHANICS IN BALTIMORE HI

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore high school has a special course in home mechanics for girls which seems to be producing a crop of for lazy husbands.

Southern High School is teaching its girls such tasks as knife sharpening, fixing light sockets and plugs, picture hanging, rug cleaning and enough carpentry to enable them to put in shelves or build stairs.

The girls are learning to replace window panes, repair ironing cords, fix leaky faucets and even to make minor automobile repairs.

Just picture this, men:

You pull up in the driveway of your little home after a horrendous day at the ribbon factory and walk into the kitchen where the missus is whipping up a lemon souffle for dinner.

"Honey," you complain, "I had a little trouble getting the car started today, better take a look at it when you get time."

She gives the egg whites one last fast turn, slides the souffle into the oven and skips out to the driveway, donning her work smock on the way.

She had meant to clean those spark plugs last week and she knows you'll need the car to go bowling tonight. In a jiffy, the job is done, she's back in the kitchen. The only thing you have to worry about is maybe a trace of grease in the souffle, a small price to pay.

This can happen.

Though the course is only three years old, Principal John H Schwatka admits encouraging reports are coming back to the school.

One of the girls who graduated and married presented her loving husband with a handsome set of stair steps. And another said she built a bookcase for dear old dad.

The course is popular. Schwatka says there is constantly a long waiting list, and preference must be given to seniors.

Instruction includes three hours each week in the workshop on such equipment as band saws, jigsaw machines, drill presses, sinks for plumbing, work and mock-ups of electrical layouts.

This year, 225 girls (potential superwives) will graduate.

Up the vitamin content of your family's food by using wheat germ. Sprinkle it over ready-to-eat cereal or stir it into cooked cereal. Store the wheat germ, after you have opened the container it comes in, in the refrigerator ss as to prevent rancidity. Be sure to cover it tightly.

Cat Who Plays At The Met Shares Billing With Others

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, (AP)—Do you know the cat that takes the curtain calls at the Metropolitan Opera?

The name is Blondie. It's one of half a dozen animals—horses, dogs donkey and pony—that earn their oats, hay, catnip at opera careers they seem to enjoy.

There's even a canary. But the cat and the canary are never on together.

Whatever they do, they're not supposed to neigh, bark, bray, miaouw or sing, though sometimes they forget themselves. Even the canary was acquired with the understanding that, being a female, she would not burst into song.

The Met once upon a time herded as many as eight horses on stage in "Carmen." Now the largest number is two, in "Tannhaeuser." If you call Snowball or Rusty, they might give their manes an answering shake. One is white, and 5; the other near black, and 12.

They wear special rubber shoes so they won't cut the stage. They were trained for show business right in the stable where music was turned on loud enough to lay back their ears.

Amos, the donkey, 8 years old, is right at home on stage. He's got more than one string to his bow, too, for besides opera he hires out to music hall and TV. The Shetland pony of "Cavalleria Rusticana" fame, is 7 years old, named Mickey, has also been on TV.

Snowball, Rusty, Amos, Blondie and Mickey all live in an uptown East-side stable. The two dogs, mama Amby and daughter Shu Pan, are pedigreed Pekinese privately owned, and are said to like work in "Der Rosenkavalier."

The cat, a newcomer, is not listed in the "Barber of Seville" libretto. But at the director's suggestion, Jean Madeira, in the role of Bertha, works in some pretty business bringing Blondie on in a basket.

The canary appears in "Pagliacci." Bought outright for $10, the bird is kept by a super who lives nearby. The company used to have a make-believe bird, but manager Rudolf Bing, whose eye is on the canary as well as bigger matters, preferred the live one.

There are also make-believe birds and animals. In "Lohengrin" there is a swan, and one opera bears a bird's name, "The Golden Cockerel." In "The Ring" there's a bear, and birds with voices, and Fafner the dragon—presumably Bing, who had to have a live canary, will rest content with a stuffed dragon.

Parent's Ignorance Dulls Child Curiosity

NEW YORK (AP)—More special museums for children are needed to answer their questions about life, says Dr. Francis H. Horn, president of Pratt Institute.

Children have a great natural curiosity, but this important trait usually is dulled or killed because parents don't know the answers, he says.

If you are frying a small chicken and want to mix up some seasoned flour to roll it in before it goes into the skillet, remember these proportions: ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Some good cooks also like to add ⅛ teaspoon paprika to the seasoned flour mixture.

Although the average person reads at the rate of about 250 words a minute, some people can read at more than 700 words a minute.

U.S. To Confer With France, Britain On Rejection Of Bid By Russia For Control In West

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States planned to consult promptly today with Britain and France on its stern rejection of Russia's surprising bid for a hand in control of Western defenses through a new "security" system.

For its part, Washington turned down the Soviet maneuver last night as a boring-from-within trick "to gain admittance within the walls of the West, to undermine its security."

Moscow offered to consider joining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if the Western Powers would (A) join a Russian-sponsored European security plan from which Germany would be barred and (B) scrap plans for a European Defense Community (EDC) in which German troops would be rearmed.

Some Division

Initial Western reaction showed some division, and officials said it was reasonable to assume there would be consultation with Britain and France on the formal replies.

A few hours after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov handed his proposals to Western ambassadors in a 10-page note, a French Foreign Office spokesman said the note would require careful study "as it represents a considerable modification" of proposals on the same subject which the Soviets had put forth at the Berlin Big Four conference in February.

In Washington, meanwhile, Secretary of States Dulles and his top advisers wound up a quick study of the Russian message with a statement categorically turning down the Soviet move.

Might Join NATO

What Molotov proposed was that the United States should join a 32-nation European security treaty which he had first put fort hat the Berlin meeting. He then suggested that the United States — and Red China—should sit in merely as observers. Thus his suggestion for American membership represented a change.

In the new note he said acceptance of this plan for European security would lead the Soviet Union to consider joining NATO. This organization was formed for the precise purpose of unifying and building up the strength of the West against the threat of Russian power.

Out To Wreck EDC

At the Berlin conference, Molotov had said frankly he was out to wreck Western plans for EDC, under which Western Germany would be armed in the interest of strengthening Western defenses. Dulles and other Western ministers argued at Berlin that Molotov's whole purpose was to wreck the Western defense system and drive the United States out of Europe.

The State Department said in a formal statement last night the new Soviet note represented an effort by Molotov to "retrieve" the "diplomatic failure" which he suffered when the West rejected his European security proposals and when they failed to arouse any great public excitement.

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD—Little improvement is reported in the condition of Jimmy Cook, seven-year-old son of J. D. and Mary Catherine Poist Cook, who was taken to the Bethesda Naval Hospital two weeks ago for treatment of an ulcerative condition which now afflicts both his legs.

Gerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Smith, a pupil at the local parochial school, won an award by the Keystone Auto Club for an essay in a contest open to those of school safety patrols in this area.

The Wilson Linebaugh family, formerly of the Bigmount area, are beginning to farm their newly purchased Pine Run property, formerly the home of the Robert Howe family who now reside in Thomasville.

Miss Sarah Mummert, near Pine Run, who has been ill for several years, has been a patient at York Hospital for surgery to improve her sight.

The Rev. Jack Gardner, pastor of the Pines Lutheran Church, New Chester, exchanged pulpits Wednesday evening with the Rev. George E. Sheffer, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, for Lenten services.

Mrs. Nellie Kopman Stambaugh, Abbottstown postmistress and former resident of this section, joined the local postmistress, Mrs. Goldie M. Bower, last week to attend a postal employes' banquet at Railroad, York County.

Miss Mae Kuhn, who left here several weeks ago to take care of Mrs. James L. Spangler, East Berlin, is remaining with Mrs Spangler for an indefinite time, pending her recovery from the heart ailment, which confines her to her home.

Commies Pull Switch On Manchurian Run

HONG KONG (AP) — The Communist news agency carried a succession of stories about a new Moscow-Peiping Express, a luxury limited which went into service between the two Communist capitals. The stories told everything about the train except how it managed to run on two different track gauges—Russia has wide gauge track, Manchuria and China medium gauge.

A telephone query to the Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao in Hong Kong (which published these stories) brought the following reply:

"We have wondered about this ourselves. We don't know how they do it But we knew that the Communists are able to surmount such difficulties. They do it with a special switch or something."

REDS CLAIM HONG KONG

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have issued a map in an atlas which shows Hong Kong as part of China. This is one of the first Red claims on the British crown colony. The map was issued last August but the revised border was noted only recently by the Nationalist news agency, Central News. "Hong Kong and Kowloon are territories lost to us a result of unequal treaties, and are still occupied by British imperialists as a political, commercial and military base for aggression against the Far East," the atlas says.

BIG FEDERAL SALES TAX CUT IN FORCE TODAY

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A billion-dollar federal sales tax cut went into effect today, with indications it may be a huge headache to the public, businessmen and government.

It is a headache that will be borne happily.

Businessmen have long said excise tax rates were holding back sales. The public has groused at paying a 20 per cent tax on luggage, jewelry, furs, cameras, electric lights and theater admissions.

Business Stimulant

President Eisenhower, although his administration opposed the tax cuts, said yesterday he was signing the bill wholeheartedly, regarding it as a business stimulant.

The new rates, on hundreds of items, are effective on sales made today or hereafter. The administration calculates it will lose 999 million dollars revenue by the reductions, in a full year. That means 999 million dollars not spent on taxes that can be spent otherwise by business and consumers

Another government action, taken by Secretary of Agriculture Benson and reducing the level of price supports for dairy products, also will mean consumer savings starting today. Butter prices are expected to go down an average of about 10 cents; cheese prices somewhat less. Some stores said they would offer butter at 59 cents, but a 65-70 cent average was foreseen.

Face Many Questions

The excise tax changes brought a whole host of questions.

What about goods taxed at retail and bought on the installment plan, with payments still running? Does the consumer get something knocked off the price now that the tax is lower?

What about transportation tickets bought under the old rates, still not fully used?

What about tickets to the theater or sports events, bought before the rate reduction for an event tha hasn' yet occurred?

Throughout yesterday "what about" telegrams and telephone messages streamed into the revenue service. It seemed everyone had a special problem, possibly calling for a tax refund.

The entire technical staff of revenue service headquarters buckled down to work before the growing mass of inquiries, to interpret the new law. Late yesterday they came up with these guidelines:

Tax At Retail Level

1. The tax is at the retail level on luggage, jewelry, furs and cosmetics and has been passed directly to the buyer The tax went down from 20 to 10 per cent and should be fully reflected. On installment purchases, it depends chiefly on the sales contract as to whether the buyer gets a refund.

2. Levied on the manufacturer is the 10 per cent rate (down from 20) on cameras and film and electric bulbs, the 5 per cent rate (down from 10) on refrigerators, stoves, freezers and other gas and electric appliances, and the 10 per cent rate (down from 15) on sporting goods, mechanical pens and pencils and lighters. Manufacturers may get refunds if they supply evidence that rebates have been given to sellers Consumers would get refunds to the extent merchants cut prices after getting refunds. Most appliance makers have said the tax cuts will be fully reflected in lower prices.

Tax On Admissions

3. On admissions, the rates changed generally from 1 cent tax for each 5 cents of ticket price to 1 cent for each 10 cents. This includes season tickets, and the new rate applies to all events scheduled today or after. The ticket seller can get a refund upon proof he has made a refund to the purchaser.

4 The tax on passenger fares on trains, planes and busses dropped from 15 to 10 per cent. Generally, the cut is effective for transportation beginning today or hereafter. Thus, no refund would be called for on the unused half of a round-trip ticket. But for a cruise starting tomorrow, a refund would be allowed, if made before travel started.

The six so-called platinum metals are platinum, palladium, rhodium, iridium, osmium and ruthenium.

U.S. To Confer With France, Britain On Rejection Of Bid By Russia For Control In West

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States planned to consult promptly today with Britain and France on its stern rejection of Russia's surprising bid for a hand in control of Western defenses through a new "security" system.

For its part, Washington turned down the Soviet maneuver last night as a boring-from-within trick "to gain admittance within the walls of the West, to undermine its security."

Moscow offered to consider joining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if the Western Powers would (A) join a Russian-sponsored European security plan from which Germany would be barred and (B) scrap plans for a European Defense Community (EDC) in which German troops would be rearmed.

Some Division

Initial Western reaction showed some division, and officials said it was reasonable to assume there would be consultation with Britain and France on the formal replies.

A few hours after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov handed his proposals to Western ambassadors in a 10-page note, a French Foreign Office spokesman said the note would require careful study "as it represents a considerable modification" of proposals on the same subject which the Soviets had put forth at the Berlin Big Four conference in February.

In Washington, meanwhile, Secretary of States Dulles and his top advisers wound up a quick study of the Russian message with a statement categorically turning down the Soviet move.

Might Join NATO

What Molotov proposed was that the United States should join a 32-nation European security treaty which he had first put fort hat the Berlin meeting. He then suggested that the United States — and Red China—should sit in merely as observers. Thus his suggestion for American membership represented a change.

In the new note he said acceptance of this plan for European security would lead the Soviet Union to consider joining NATO. This organization was formed for the precise purposeo f unifying and building up the strength of the West against the threat of Russian power.

Out To Wreck EDC

At the Berlin conference, Molotov had said frankly he was out to wreck Western plans for EDC, under which Western Germany would be armed in the interest of strengthening Western defenses. Dulles and other Western ministers argued at Berlin that Molotov's whole purpose was to wreck the Western defense system and drive the United States out of Europe.

The State Department said in a formal statement last night the new Soviet note represented an effort by Molotov to "retrieve" the "diplomatic failure" which he suffered when the West rejected his European security proposals and when they failed to arouse any great public excitement.

Commies Pull Switch On Manchurian Run

HONG KONG (AP) — The Communist news agency carried a succession of stories about a new Moscow-Peiping Express, a luxury limited which went into service between the two Communist capitals. The stories told everything about the train except how it managed to run on two different track gauges—Russia has wide gauge track, Manchuria and China medium gauge.

A telephone query to the Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao in Hong Kong (which published these stories) brought the following reply:

"We have wondered about this ourselves. We don't know how they do it. But we knew that the Communists are able to surmount such difficulties. They do it with a special switch or something."

REDS CLAIM HONG KONG

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Fashion Editor

A good suit is the backbone of the average American woman's wardrobe, probably representing her major clothes investment of the year.

They may economize on gay little dresses and accessories from the budget department, but when it comes to buying a suit, most women realize that it pays to get the best they can afford.

An advocate of this theory is Edith Small, of Hollywood, a designer noted especially for her knack making tailored suits look smooth, yet strictly suits look smooth, yet strictly feminine. During a recent New York visit, Miss Small, whose stature matches her name, outlined the following tips on how to get your money's worth when you go shopping for a suit:

Know Your Size

1. Before you try on anything, determine your correct size. If you don't know it, have the saleswoman measure your waist, bust, shoulder width and length from back of neck to waist. This will tell you whether you should wear a misses', junior or so-called custom size. (The last is for gals who are short but somewhat wide.)

2. Determine ahead of time what color scheme you want in your spring wardrobe. You should plan to wear the same accessories with your new suit as with other items. If you have navy shoes and handbag, a navy or gray suit is in order. If your pet accessories are brown, choose beige or brown for your suit. Black accessories, of course, go with everything.

3. Choose the body line that fits you best. You have to feel good in the suit, if it fits well. When you try on the suit, don't just stand in front of the mirror and look at it. Move around. Sit down. Raise your arms to adjust your hat. The suit should feel comfortable and easy in any position if it fits correctly.

Don't Raise Shoulders

4. Don't buy a suit if it hes to be raised at the shoulders. This is a tricky and expensive alteration. Jacket or skirt can be altered easily at the waistline, but if more extensive alterations are required, try another size.

5. Always look in the rear-view mirror when trying on a garment. If jacket pouches above the waist in back, it means it is too long from neck to waist. You need another size.

6. Look carefully at fabric labels.

7. Be fussy about styling and eye appeal.

8. Examine button holes, lining and inside seams for details of good workmanship.

9. Most important, be sure the suit is flattering to you, and that you feel comfortable in it.

10. Don't buy an extreme style unless you buy a new suit every year. A good suit should look just as smart next year as this.

When unexpected company comes, and you want a quick salad to add to your menu, open a can of snap beans and marinate them in French dressing. Serve the beans on salad greens with some of the dressing in which they were marinated. Strips of canned pimiento make a pretty garnish for this salad.

Prisoner Hauls Own Evidence To Court

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Anything to oblige, said T. H. (Tab) Bluejacket to state crime bureau agents who had just raided his night club near Afton.

Agent Ray Page asked Bluejacket for the use of his truck to haul in whisky and gambling equipment seized in the raid. Bluejacket not only loaned his vehicle but drove it to the courthouse.

He pleaded innocent to charges of illegal possession of liquor and gambling devices and was released on $1,000 bond.

GIRLS LEARN MECHANICS IN BALTIMORE HI

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore high school has a special course in home mechanics for girls which seems to be producing a crop of for lazy husbands.

Southern High School is teaching its girls such tasks as knife sharpening, fixing light sockets and plugs, picture hanging, rug cleaning and enough carpentry to enable them to put in shelves or build stairs.

The girls are learning to replace window panes, repair ironing cords, fix leaky faucets and even to make minor automobile repairs.

Just picture this, men:

You pull up in the driveway of your little home after a horrendous day at the ribbon factory and walk into the kitchen where the missus is whipping up a lemon souffle for dinner.

"Honey," you complain, "I had a little trouble getting the car started today, better take a look at it when you get time."

She gives the egg whites one last fast turn, slides the souffle into the oven and skips out to the driveway, donning her work smock on the way.

She had meant to clean those spark plugs last week and she knows you'll need the car to go bowling tonight. In a jiffy, the job is done, she's back in the kitchen. The only thing you have to worry about is maybe a trace of grease in the souffle, a small price to pay.

This can happen.

Though the course is only three years old, Principal John H. Schwatka admits encouraging reports are coming back to the school.

One of the girls who graduated and married presented her loving husband with a handsome set of stair steps. And another said she built a bookcase for dear old dad.

The course is popular. Schwatka says there is constantly a long waiting list, and preference must be given to seniors.

Instruction includes three hours each week in the workshop on such equipment as band saws, jigsaw machines, drill presses, sinks for plumbing, work and mock-ups of electrical layouts.

This year, 225 girls (potential superwives) will graduate.

Up the vitamin content of your family's food by using wheat germ. Sprinkle it over ready-to-eat cereal or stir it into cooked cereal. Store the wheat germ, after you have opened the container it comes in, in the refrigerator as as to prevent rancidity. Be sure to cover it tightly.

Cat Who Plays At The Met Shares Billing With Others

(ADVANCE) NEW YORK, (AP)—Do you know the cat that takes the curtain calls at the Metropolitan Opera?

The name is Blondie. It's one of half a dozen animals—horses, dogs donkey and pony—that earn their oats, hay, catnip at opera careers they seem to enjoy.

There's even a canary. But the cat and the canary are never on together.

Whatever they do, they're not supposed to neigh, bark, bray, miaouw or sing, though sometimes they forget themselves. Even the canary was acquired with the understanding that, being a female, she would not burst into song.

The Met once upon a time herded as many as eight horses on stage in "Carmen." Now the largest number is two, in "Tannhaeuser." If you call Snowball or Rusty, they might give their manes an answering shake. One is white, and 5; the other near black, and 12.

They wear special rubber shoes so they won't cut the stage. They were trained for show business right in the stable where music was turned on loud enough to lay back their ears.

Amos, the donkey, 8 years old, is right at home on stage. He's got more than one string to his bow, too, for besides opera he hires out to music hall and TV. The Shetland pony of "Cavalleria Rusticana" fame, is 7 years old, named Mickey, has also been on TV.

Snowball, Rusty, Amos, Blondie and Mickey all live in an uptown East-side stable. The two dogs, mama Amby and daughter Shu Pan, are pedigreed Pekinese privately owned, and are said to like work in "Der Rosenkavalier."

The cat, a newcomer, is not listed in the "Barber of Seville" libretto. But at the director's suggestion, Jean Madeira, in the role of Bertha, works in some pretty business bringing Blondie on in a basket.

The canary appears in "Pagliacci." Bought outright for $10, the bird is kept by a super who lives nearby. The company used to have a make-believe bird, but manager Rudolf Bing, whose eye is on the canary as well as bigger matters, preferred the live one.

There are also make-believe birds and animals. In "Lohengrin" there is a swan, and one opera bears a bird's name, "The Golden Cockerel." In "The Ring" there's a bear, and birds with voices, and Fafner the dragon—presumably Bing, who had to have a live canary, will rest content with a stuffed dragon.

Parent's Ignorance Dulls Child Curiosity

NEW YORK (AP)—More special museums for children are needed to answer their questions about life, says Dr. Francis H. Horn, president of Pratt Institute.

Children have a great natural curiosity, but this important trait usually is dulled or killed because parents don't know the answers, he says.

If you are frying a small chicken and want to mix up some seasoned flour to roll it in before it goes into the skillet, remember these proportions: ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Some good cooks also like to add ⅛ teaspoon paprika to the seasoned flour mixture.

COMMUNISM

seem entirely indifferent to the actual and potential evils inherent in any philosophy that would alienate man from his Creator. This, on the theory that there is nothing supernatural about man's creation, that he is not the handiwork of God, and that there is not the slightest spiritual or metaphysical significance in his existence.

Gradual Dissolution

At a time when such thinking prevails to a greater extent than we perhaps realize, it is surely more than a coincidence that we see a gradual dissolution of the old-fashioned American Home and Family. This regrettable situation contributes largely to our current widespread juvenile delinquency, to our increasing crimes of violence, to the growth of me-first selfishness among individuals and pressure groups, and to the ascendancy of vulgarity and tawdry cheapness in the entertainment and other fields.

But the foregoing pessimistic note is not to be construed as indicating an appreciable weakening of the spiritual and religious fibre of the vast majority of Americans. Rather it has aroused them to greater vigilance and zeal in an effort to change the purely materialistic viewpoint of indifferent and misguided citizens.

Ask Divine Guidance

From the Mayflower Compact and Jamestown to the present day, Americans in every worthwhile public undertaking have invoked the help and guidance of their Creator. The Mayflower Compact was entered into by a persecuted people seeking a new life in which they might worship God as they pleased. Before disembarking from their little storm-tossed ship they entered into the following Compact, kneeling as they did so:

"IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN: Having undertaken for the Glory of God an advancement of the Christian faith, . . . we do, by these presents, solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and one another, convenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic for our better ordering and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid, and by virtue hereof do enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and officers from time to time as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony into which we promise all due submission and obedience."

Spiritual Renewal

Not long since, at 8 o'clock in the morning, more than 600 leaders, mostly public officials, sat down for breakfast in one of Washington's famous hotels. These men, many in the Nation's most strategic posts, were not there primarily for breakfast. They had been brought together by a common faith that man cannot live by bread alone. They represented various branches of the church, as well as the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the government. They came, in these perilous times, to declare their faith in a living Christianity, and to proclaim it as the most effective answer to militant materialism.

Taking part in this simple ceremony was our President, who, at every suitable opportunity, beginning with the prelude to his inaugural address, invokes God's help and guidance in the administration of his great office; and who summons the Nation from time to time to a new affirmation and application of the founding faith of the Republic.

An outstanding Senator who presided declared:

"The only hope for mankind today as we face chaos, confusion, and spiritual decline, lies in a spiritual renewal. We must have a fellowship of believers whose faith prompts action and sacrificial living. By prayer as a practical reality, and daily reading of the Bible, we shall find that God is the answer to our personal, economic, and social problems."

HERE WAS AMERICA AT ITS BEST. IT WAS A RINGING ANSWER TO THE CREED OF DENIAL AND NEGATION WHICH IS THE ESSENCE OF THE KREMLIN CONSPIRACY AGAINST THE SOVEREIGNTY OF GOD, AND THE DIGNITY AND WORTH OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

God-fearing People

Americans, throughout our history, have been God-fearing people. They read their Bibles and worship their Creator. They have always wanted to be free to do this and to belong to the church of their choice.

We have our Bill of Rights because of the knowledge our forefathers had of the Bible and their belief in it. We enjoy freedom of belief, of expression, of assembly, of petition, the dignity of the individual, the sanctity of the home, equal justice under law, and the reservation of powers to the people. These things are the very essence of Christianity. They have characterized all of our institutions; they have shaped our national life, and they have given us our vision of the future.

Yes; it is consoling and comforting to know that we are living in the spirit of the Christian religion, and the writer firmly believes that AS LONG AS WE DO SO LIVE NO GREAT HARM CAN COME TO OUR BELOVED COUNRTY.

Police Douse Idea Of Fake Fire Plug

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati businessman solved his parking problem by using his own fire plug.

He found the old plug at the waterworks. Every day the porter at his business establishment would roll out the plug about 6 a.m. After his boss parked, he would bring it in.

He got away with it for months. Then a policeman got curious about a fire plug which sometimes wasn't there. He doused the false fire plug idea right then and there.

Lost Library Book Turns Up, $263 Fine

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Librarians at the Toledo Public Library estimated the fine on a book which turned up the other day at $263 — but they said they would forget about it since there was no record who took the book out back in 1882.

The book, "David Crockett: His Life and Adventures," was retrieved from among the books left by the late Antone Zeitler, who died several months ago. A note in the back said a 3-cents-a-day fine would be levied if kept more than two weeks.

"David Crockett" cost $1 new.

Foreigners Find Life On Formosa Austere

TAIPEH (AP)—More than 3,000 foreigners now live in Formosa, the majority in Taipeh, giving this capital city of Nationalist Chna some of the cosmopoltan atmosphere which once prevailed in Shanghai and other former treaty ports on the mainland.

There is no chance, however, of Taipeh ever becoming the Paris of the east as was Shanghai. The government's austerity program prevents that. Most entertaining is done in private homes. There are no western-type night clubs.

Okla. Cops Consider 'Honor System' Fines

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP)—An "honor system" for overparking violators is being considered by the Police Department. Under discussion is the installation of collection boxes on downtown parking meters where the violator could pay his fine without coming to headquarters.

He would insert the amount of the fine and his ticket in an envelope, then drop it into the box for collection by the patrolman on the beat.

Rendered Performer Ends Circus Career

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Doctor's orders have driven Mrs. Frank Amand out of business. At 420 pounds she was billed as Baby Thelma in a circus sideshow but her physician said she had to come down to 200.

After she had knocked off 73 pounds, her husband, a 125-pound circus performer, had to go to a hospital with tuberculosis. Now Thelma must be the family breadwinner but at some other job.

Physician Tells How To Treat Babies Suffering From Colic

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Colic is a sharp pain in the stomach that makes a baby pull up his legs and scream.

If your baby has an attack of colic, pick him up, hold him, rock him, walk with him. It's a very real pain and he needs you to do something for him. Never make a colicky baby cry it out.

A drink a of quite warm water sometimes helps. If his feet and legs are cold wrap up a warm hot-water battle in his blanket and get him well warmed up. Sometimes lying on his stomach across your knee helps. Put the warm hot-water bottle under him. If he can expel gas by rectum he feels better. A warm enema will often give relief when nothing else seems to work.

Many babies never have colic. Some have one or two attacks, others have one bad spell almost every day. Then there are those unfortunate ones whose mothers say they are never comfortable and have colic off and on all their first three months.

Usually Husky Baby

Almost always a colicky baby is a big strong husby youngster who gains weight well and doesn't have anything wrong with him — except colic.

Colic is almost always outgrown by the time the baby is three months old.

Sometimes it's easy to figure out why your baby has colic—sometimes it's very difficult. By all means talk to your doctor about it, but he may not be able to perform miracles.

A baby may have colic because he isn't getting enough to eat. This is the most likely cause in a breast-fed baby—mother just doesn't have enough milk.

In bottle fed babies—and colic is much more frequent in bottle babies than in breast fed babies—the formula may be too weak, or the formula may be too strong and the baby cannot digest it. The formula may not be right for your baby.

Long Wait For Food

Maybe you are making your baby wait too long for his food. Long periods of crying make a baby so tired he cannot eat properly when the food finally comes. Also the baby may swallow so much air while he is crying that his stomach becomes distended with the air (gas we call it) to the point where it causes enough pressure to hurt.

Colic caused by food that's too skimpy, too weak, too strong or just not right can be cured by making the necessary changes in the formula, but you'd better not make these changes without consulting your doctor. Frequent changes of formula are in themselves upsetting to a baby.

Colic often has a more subtle cause. If mother is tense and scared, if her arms shake as she picks up her baby, she somehow transfers to him her tensions. He is tense and scared too and he can't digest his food properly. No matter how many times that baby's food is changed, he is still going to have colic until he grows up enough not to react to his mother's tension with indigestion.

It's easy to tell a mother to relax. It's hard to relax if you are a tense mother. However you can try. Reassurance from your doctor that there is nothing really wrong with your baby helps. Maybe you need to get away a little. Perhaps the best treatment for the baby's coloc is to have mother go to a movie!

ROTARY MARATHON

Washington News Letter

By Jane Eads

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)— Where did you go? What did you wear? What is Mamie like? Congressmen's wives are peppered with questions like this by the women back in their husbands' districts.

In an attempt to report on their activities more coherently, some of the ladies are taking a journalism course one morning a week at their Congressional Club headquarters. Their teacher is a former newswoman, Elizabeth Oldfield of Washington. Mrs. Karl Le Compte, wife of the Republican congressman from Iowa, is chairman of the group.

"We don't expect to break into the newspaper business, though some of us may write weekly columns for papers in our districts," Mrs. Le Compte explained. "We just want to learn how to put our thoughts together more clearly. Not everybody from our home states gets to come to Washington. The women especially are interested in all the little details of our life here."

Mrs. Le Compte used to write about her recipes for the Corydon, La., Times-Republican, owned by her husband. She is thinking of offering the paper a social column. Her first one would be about a party at the White House.

"We have been here 16 years, and this is the first dinner we have attended at the White House," she told me. "The women back home want to know what the looked like, who was there, what I wore. The dinner was for Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, and I wore a black and gold lace dress."

Most of the journalism class will write accounts "purely for consumption of the womenfolk back in their home districts" she said, adding: "If our husbands introduce a bill in Congress we might mention it incidentally."

Mrs. Leroy Johnston, wife of the Republican congressman from California, is expecting to resume the weekly letter she wrote for a Sacramento paper. The wives of Congressmen Claire Engle (D.-Calif.), Harold Patten (D.-Ariz.) and William M. McCulloch (R.-O.) may try to get into type with their Washington reports.

COMMUNISM

seem entirely indifferent to the actual and potential evils inherent in any philosophy that would alienate man from his Creator. This, on the theory that there is nothing supernatural about man's creation, that he is not the handiwork of God, and that there is not the slightest spiritual or metaphysical significance in his existence.

Gradual Dissolution

At a time when such thinking prevails to a greater extent than we perhaps realize, it is surely more than a coincidence that we see a gradual dissolution of the old-fashioned American Home and Family. This regrettable situation contributes largely to our current widespread juvenile delinquency, to our increasing crimes of violence, to the growth of me-first selfishness among individuals and pressure groups, and to the ascendancy of vulgarity and tawdry cheapness in the entertainment and other fields.

But the foregoing pessimistic note is not to be construed as indicating an appreciable weakening of the spiritual and religious fibre of the vast majority of Americans. Rather it has aroused them to greater vigilance and zeal in an effort to change the purely materialistic viewpoint of indifferent and misguided citizens.

Ask Divine Guidance

From the Mayflower Compact and Jamestown to the present day, Americans in every worthwhile public undertaking have invoked the help and guidance of their Creator. The Mayflower Compact was entered into by a persecuted people seeking a new life in which they might worship God as they pleased. Before disembarking from their little storm-tossed ship they entered into the following Compact, kneeling as they did so:

"IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN: Having undertaken for the Glory of God an advancement of the Christian faith, . . . we do, by these presents, solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and one another, convenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic for our better ordering and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid, and by virtue hereof do enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and officers from time to time as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony into which we promise all due submission and obedience."

Spiritual Renewal

Not long since, at 8 o'clock in the morning, more than 600 leaders, mostly public officials, sat down for breakfast in one of Washington's famous hotels. These men, many in the Nation's most strategic posts, were not there primarily for breakfast. They had been brought together by a common faith that man cannot live by bread alone. They represented various branches of the church, as well as the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the government. They came, in these perilous times, to declare their faith in a living Christianity, and to proclaim it as the most effective answer to militant materialism.

Taking part in this simple ceremony was our President, who, at every suitable opportunity, beginning with the prelude to his inaugural address, invokes God's help and guidance in the administration of his great office; and who summons the Nation from time to time to a new affirmation and application of the founding faith of the Republic.

An outstanding Senator who presided declared:

"The only hope for mankind today as we face chaos, confusion, and spiritual decline, lies in a spiritual renewal. We must have a fellowship of believers whose faith prompts action and sacrificial living. By prayer as a practical reality, and daily reading of the Bible, we shall find that God is the answer to our personal, economic, and social problems."

HERE WAS AMERICA AT ITS BEST. IT WAS A RINGING ANSWER TO THE CREED OF DENIAL AND NEGATION WHICH IS THE ESSENCE OF THE KREMLIN CONSPIRACY AGAINST THE SOVEREIGNTY OF GOD, AND THE DIGNITY AND WORTH OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

God-fearing People

Americans, throughout our history, have been God-fearing people. They read their Bibles and worship their Creator. They have always wanted to be free to do this and to belong to the church of their choice.

We have our Bill of Rights because of the knowledge our forefathers had of the Bible and their belief in it. We enjoy freedom of belief, of expression, of assembly, of petition, the dignity of the individual, the sanctity of the home, equal justice under law, and the reservation of powers to the people. These things are the very essence of Christianity. They have characterized all of our institutions; they have shaped our national life, and they have given us our vision of the future.

Yes; it is consoling and comforting to know that we are living in the spirit of the Christian religion, and the writer firmly believes that AS LONG AS WE DO SO LIVE NO GREAT HARM CAN COME TO OUR BELOVED COUNRTY.

Police Douse Idea Of Fake Fire Plug

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati businessman solved his parking problem by using his own fire plug.

He found the old plug at the waterworks. Every day the porter at his business establishment would roll out the plug about 6 a.m. After his boss parked, he would bring it in.

He got away with it for months. Then a policeman got curious about a fire plug which sometimes wasn't there. He doused the false fire plug idea right then and there.

Lost Library Book Turns Up, $263 Fine

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Librarians at the Toledo Public Library estimated the fine on a book which turned up the other day at $263 — but they said they would forget about it since there was no record who took the book out back in 1882.

The book, "David Crockett: His Life and Adventures," was retrieved from among the books left by the late Antone Zeitler, who died several months ago. A note in the back said a 3-cents-a-day fine would be levied if kept more than two weeks.

"David Crockett" cost $1 new.

Foreigners Find Life On Formosa Austere

TAIPEH (AP)—More than 3,000 foreigners now live in Formosa, the majority in Taipeh, giving this capital city of Nationalist China some of the cosmopolitan atmosphere which once prevailed in Shanghai and other former treaty ports on the mainland.

There is no chance, however, of Taipeh ever becoming the Paris of the east as was Shanghai. The government's austerity program prevents that. Most entertaining is done in private homes. There are no western-type night clubs.

Okla. Cops Consider 'Honor System' Fines

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP)—An "honor system" for overparking violators is being considered by the Police Department. Under discussion is the installation of collection boxes on downtown parking meters where the violator could pay his fine without coming to headquarters.

He would insert the amount of the fine and his ticket in an envelope, then drop it into the box for collection by the patrolman on the beat.

Rendered Performer Ends Circus Career

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Doctor's orders have driven Mrs. Frank Amand out of business. At 420 pounds she was billed as Baby Thelma in a circus sideshow but her physician said she had to come down to 200.

After she had knocked off 73 pounds, her husband, a 125-pound circus performer, had to go to a hospital with tuberculosis. Now Thelma must be the family breadwinner but at some other job.

Physician Tells How To Treat Babies Suffering From Colic

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Colic is a sharp pain in the stomach that makes a baby pull up his legs and scream.

If your baby has an attack of colic, pick him up, hold him, rock him, walk with him. It's a very real pain and he needs you to do something for him. Never make a colicky baby cry it out.

A drink a of quite warm water sometimes helps. If his feet and legs are cold wrap up a warm hot-water battle in his blanket and get him well warmed up. Sometimes lying on his stomach across your knee helps. Put the warm hot-water bottle under him. If he can expel gas by rectum he feels better. A warm enema will often give relief when nothing else seems to work.

Many babies never have colic. Some have one or two attacks, others have one bad spell almost every day. Then there are those unfortunate ones whose mothers say they are never comfortable and have colic off and on all their first three months.

Usually Husky Baby

Almost always a colicky baby is a big strong husky youngster who gains weight well and doesn't have anything wrong with him — except colic.

Colic is almost always outgrown by the time the baby is three months old.

Sometimes it's easy to figure out why your baby has colic—sometimes it's very difficult. By all means talk to your doctor about it, but he may not be able to perform miracles.

A baby may have colic because he isn't getting enough to eat. This is the most likely cause in a breast-fed baby—mother just doesn't have enough milk.

In bottle fed babies—and colic is much more frequent in bottle babies than in breast fed babies—the formula may be too weak, or the formula may be too strong and the baby cannot digest it. The formula may not be right for your baby.

Long Wait For Food

Maybe you are making your baby wait too long for his food. Long periods of crying make a baby so tired he cannot eat properly when the food finally comes. Also the baby may swallow so much air while he is crying that his stomach becomes distended with the air (gas we call it) to the point where it causes enough pressure to hurt.

Colic caused by food that's too skimpy, too weak, too strong or just not right can be cured by making the necessary changes in the formula, but you'd better not make these changes without consulting your doctor. Frequent changes of formula are in themselves upsetting to a baby.

Colic often has a more subtle cause. If mother is tense and scared, if her arms shake as she picks up her baby, she somehow transfers to him her tensions. He is tense and scared too and he can't digest his food properly. No matter how many times that baby's food is changed, he is still going to have colic until he grows up enough not to react to his mother's tension with indigestion.

It's easy to tell a mother to relax. It's hard to relax if you are a tense mother. However you can try. Reassurance from your doctor that there is nothing really wrong with your baby helps. Maybe you need to get away a little. Perhaps the best treatment for the baby's colic is to have mother go to a movie!

Washington News Letter

By Jane Eads

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)— Where did you go? What did you wear? What is Mamie like? Congressmen's wives are peppered with questions like this by the women back in their husbands' districts.

In an attempt to report on their activities more coherently, some of the ladies are taking a journalism course one morning a week at their Congressional Club headquarters. Their teacher is a former newswoman, Elizabeth Oldfield of Washington. Mrs. Karl Le Compte, wife of the Republican congressman from Iowa, is chairman of the group.

"We don't expect to break into the newspaper business, though some of us may write weekly columns for papers in our districts," Mrs. Le Compte explained. "We just want to learn how to put our thoughts together more clearly. Not everybody from our home states gets to come to Washington. The women especially are interested in all the little details of our life here."

Mrs. Le Compte used to write about her recipes for the Corydon, La., Times-Republican, owned by her husband. She is thinking of offering the paper a social column. Her first one would be about a party at the White House.

"We have been here 16 years, and this is the first dinner we have attended at the White House," she told me. "The women back home want to know what the looked like, who was there, what I wore. The dinner was for Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, and I wore a black and gold lace dress."

Most of the journalism class will write accounts "purely for consumption of the womenfolk back in their home districts" she said, adding: "If our husbands introduce a bill in Congress we might mention it incidentally."

Mrs Leroy Johnston, wife of the Republican congressman from California, is expecting to resume the weekly letter she wrote for a Sacramento paper. The wives of Congressmen Claire Engle (D.-Calif.), Harold Patten (D.-Ariz.) and William M. McCulloch (R.-O.) may try to get into type with their Washington reports.

Others taking the course include the wives of Congressmen John J. Dempsey (D.-N.M.), Edward T. Miller (R-Md.) Edward H. Rees (R.-Kas.) Winston L. Prouty (R.-Vt.), William F. Norrell (D.-Ark.), Sam Coon (R.-Ore.), J. B. Frazier, Jr. (D.-Tenn.), James S. Golden (R.-Ky.), and John Taber (R.-N.Y.)

VAN ZANDT RAPS CONSTRUCTION OF "SEAWAY"

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway will add to unemployment in the United States, will destroy the economy of many communities and will add to the national debt, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said today.

In a statement prepared for the House Rules Committee, which is considering a senate-passed bill to provide for United States participation with Canada in building the seaway, Van Zandt declared:

"We who live in the central Pennsylvania area are opposed to the St. Lawrence Seaway regardless of how it is dressed up. In any form, the St. Lawrence Seaway will permit foreign flag ships to haul their cargoes to inland ports at the expense of our American railroads and their employes as well as employes of related industries.

"It will add unemployment to the thousands of unemployed in critical areas where surplus labor already exists."

Called "Ghost Towns"

Van Zandt, who has been battling the seaway proposal for years, said imports of residual oil have "captured the Eastern Seaboard coal market from the central Pennsylvania mining industry" and has "destroyed the economy of many of our communities, some of which are veritable ghost towns." He added:

"If this St. Lawrence Seaway project ever becomes a reality, the thousands of jobs it will destory will simply add to the problem we already have in central Pennsylvania where good Americans are today trying to exist on unemployment insurance and public assistance."

He said a railroad and coal center such as his home city of Altoona, now experiencing critical unemployment, would be especially hard hit by operation of the seaway.

"I can not for the life of me understand hov the advocates of the St. Lawrence Seaway can ignore the damage that will be done to the economy of many congressional districts like mine," he said. "or can I understand how a project such as this can be advocated at a time when Congress is pledged to economy and a reduction of governmental expenditures as well as our national debt. . .

"If you want to make a contribution to stop unemployment, then you should vote to keep S2150 (the seaway bill) in committee and off the floor of the House.

"If we have any money to spend on projects of this type—rather than create another military target—we had better spend it on military aircraft and guided missiles to intercept the enemy bombers that can attack already existing targets in the northern portion of our country."

Musician, Actress End With Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A difference in artistic interests was cited by George A. Hormel II of the meat-packing family as he explained the breakup of his marriage to Leslie Caron, French actress and ballerina.

"I am a musician; my wife is an actress," Hormel, 25, a pianist, said as he obtained a divorce yesterday on grounds of cruelty. He and Miss Caron, 23, were married in 1951 in Las Vegas, Nev.

He said Miss Caron "wanted to live an intense artistic life." During an attempted reconcillation in New York last October, he said, his wife told him she had never loved him and did not care to continue the marriage. Miss Caron did not contest the divorce.

MINE FATALITY RATE DROPPING

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The mine fatality rate in the U.S. is dropping steadily but Charles Ferguson, safety director of the United Mine Workers, says the UMW will press for more stringent safety regulations.

In a talk yesterday at the coal mining session of the western Pennsylvania Safety Engineering Conference, Ferguson said:

"We are not satisfied with the accident rate of coal lining fatalities. We are not pleased with the disspirited attitude of some segments of the industry in making coal mining a safer occupation."

Ferguson said 457 coal mining fatalities were recorded last year but that "these individual accidents do not as a rule make newspaper headlines."

In another talk, M. J. Ankeny, safety director for the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., said the fatality rate was .82 per million man hours last year. In 1920, he pointed out there were 2,272, men killed in coal mining mishaps and the fatality rate was 1.57 per million man hours.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. William McClelland, Allegheny County coroner seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, today named Atty. William F. Cercone his statewide legal advisor. Cercone, solicitor for nearby Stowe Twp., is a former Allegheny County assistant district attorney. He is a nephew of State Supreme Court Justice Michael Musmanno.

British Troopship Burns

The British troopship Empire Windrush starts to lists as it burns off the Algerian coast in the Mediterranean Sea, March 28. The transport sank following an explosion and fire about 20 miles off Algiers while enroute to Southampton from Japan. More than 1,500 men, women and children were rescued from the blazing ship. Four crewmen were killed in the explosion which took place in ship's boiler room.

Tells Wrong William Come Up The Stairs

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. William Moyer heard someone moving about on the ground floor of her home.

"Is that you, William?" she inquired, thinking it was her husband.

"It is William," came the reply.

Mrs. Moyer turned to resume her sleep and saw her husband asleep in the bed next to her.

A quick check revealed several dollars in cash and a watch had been taken from a downstairs room.

Pop Demands Police 'Make Daughter Talk'

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A father called the Knox County Jail.

"Make my daughter talk to me," was the demand. "I've been trying to get her to talk to me for quite awhile, but she won't talk to me."

County police, who've been called on for a lot of things, politely but firmly declined to aid.

MINES CLOSED TODAY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—All coal mines covered by United Mine Workers' contracts closed today to mark the 56th anniversary of the union winning the 8-hour day. The traditional contract holiday is marked by numerous rallies.

WANTED: GARBAGE COOKER

PEABODY, Mass. (AP)—Owners of the city's pig population (the latest official registration was over 4,000) must cook all garbage fed to the porkers. Enforcement of the new law comes under state supervision through the division of livestock. The city raises pigs at the infirmary.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

REDS SLACKEN WAVE ATTACKS IN INDOCHINA

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French high command announced today the Communist-led Vietminh had slackened their human-wave assaults on the Dien Bien Phu fortress after losing close to 2,000 men in 24 hours of furious battle.

The French Union defenders held grimly to the northwest Indochina plain despite the onslaught of rebel forces in their second major bid to seize Dien Bien Phu at no matter what cost.

A French spokesman at headquarters here said the Vietminh was "taking time out" while they rushed up more ammunition in preparation for a possible renewed infantry charge tonight.

The spokesman said in addition to the 1,350 Vietminh reported killed yesterday in hand-to-hand fighting at the barbed wire barricades and by curtains of artillery fire and record French aerial attacks, the enemy had gathered up several hundred more bodies from the battlefields early today.

The forces of Moscow-schooled Ho Chi Minh were estimated to number about 30,000 regulars — three divisions equipped, trained and advised by neighboring Red China—and possibly another 10,000 guerrilla and regional fighters brought in for this crucial battle of the seven-year-old Indochina war.

The French claimed to have knocked out another division in the first major enemy assault of March 13, from which the rebels pulled back after three days of fighting.

Urges Cooperation In Cancer Crusade

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Every person in the state financially able to do so should help in the crusade against cancer, a leader in the fight against the dread disease said last night.

In a speech opening the Pennsylvania Cancer Crusade, Dr. B. H. Dimmit of Indiana, Pa., president of the State Cancer Crusade, told of the progress which is being made by medical research and treatment and of the need to continue both.

Dr. John H. Harris of Harrisburg, was presented the American Cancer Society's bronze medal and a citation in recognition of "Distinguished service in the field of cancer control." About 4,000 persons attended the meeting.

ASK FARE INCREASE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Short Line, Inc., West Chester, has asked the Public Utility Commission to authorize a $22,300 a year rate increase on bus rides in the Chester-West Chester - Pottstown - Oxford areas, effective May 1.

Under the new schedule, five cents would be added to all fares up to 40 cents and a dime to higher fares.

Conscience Wins Out Over Old Haircut Bill

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Paul L. Miller, who quit barbering a quarter of a century ago, has received $2 and the following note:

"Approximately 28 years ago I owed you 50 cents for a haircut and I neglected to pay it. I enclose $2 to take care of that little debt. I know I shall feel better for it. Thank you."

Miller says he will send the man his change. He declined to reveal his name.

XIII. RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING

Always be alert, let nothing distract your attention from your job of driving.
Approach pedestrians with caution. Be ready to make a quick, safe stop. Be alert in business districts for pedestrians stepping from between parked cars.
Always remain a sufficient distance behind the car in front of you to be able to stop safely.
Slow moving vehicles must keep to the extreme right of the highway. They are an accident hazard, inviting foolish motorists to make dangerous passes.
When an officer signals for you to stop, drive to the extreme right of the highway and give notice of your intention to the vehicle which is behind you.
Always slow down before reaching a curve.
Instead of coasting around a curve, keep your car in gear and feed the gas cautiously.
Never jam your brakes, best braking power is obtained by applying and releasing the brakes intermittently with a pumping motion.
Permit clutch to remain engaged in slowing down.
To insure safety, use the same gear in descending a steep grade as you would have to use to ascend it.
your car starts to skid, keep it in gear and turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid.
ver over drive your head lamps at night. A good ule is to drive two-thirds as fast by night as ou do by day. Sun-down—slow down.
p your windshield clean. A dirty windshield is pecially hazardous at sun-down and at night.
on the alert at night for identification lights of ucks and buses. These indicate the presence of large, slow-moving vehicle.
r operate a car more than four hours with less n thirty minutes relaxation or more than eight rs with less than two hours' rest.
your car under control while passing children are walking or playing along the highway.
looking directly at the lights of an oncom- car at night. An eye is a sensitive instru- which is quickly blinded by glare.
ful when pulling your car away from a curb. not always possible to see cars approaching from the rear, in your mirror.
Be careful of vehicles making left turns when driving thru intersections.
Do not fail to obey Stop Signs. They are placed for your protection.
Always dim your lights when 500 feet away from the car coming towards you.

Longer Life!

Every new driver gets a Student's Manual when he receives his Learner's Permit from the State of Pennsylvania. This booklet can be a manual to longer life.

All the rules and regulations that experience has shown to be necessary for safe driving are contained in this book. It would be well for every driver, beginner or not, to re-learn the things this manual points out. Write to The Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee, Finance Building, Harrisburg, for a copy.

Only when you know what makes a good driver . . . only when you practice what you know every minute you are behind the wheel . . . only then will you be safeguarding your life and the lives of those you love.

Drive carefully! Make 1954 the safest year ever.

Red Thirst For Western Book Stirs Lively "Blackmarket"

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE

MOSCOW, (AP)—Have you ever heard of a blackmarket in Homer's Odyssey? Or in the stories of Charles Dickens, Jules Verne and Jack London? Just plain printings, not rare editions.

These are a few items in a blackmarket in books operating in the book-hungry Soviet Union.

The newspaper Evening Moscow exposes rings operating in the book blackmarket and accuses the police of dealing too leniently with their operators.

The newspaper says the ring is master-minded by a behind-scenes Big Shot — an elegantly-dressed, suave connoisseur of literature who goes about openly telling how he can get complete sets of certain authors at any price he desires to fix.

There is big money in the book racket, according to Evening News, and it is also apparently well-organized.

400 Per Cent Profit

The newspaper's article, titled "Book 'Connoisseurs' ", says that it is common to make 400 per cent profit on a book in the blackmarket. A book bought for 5 or 6 rubles ($1.25 to $1.50 by the official exchange rate) can be resold for 25 to 30 rubles.

The explanation for such an illicit trade in just plain books—not collector's items—lies in the continuing shortages in many items that still beset the Soviet Union, from toasters to Tolstoy. The Malenkov government has a vast program underway to remedy these shortages in consumer goods and the other better things in life.

Moscow Evening News says the big book blackmarket rings has many little agents working for it who "continuously wait at the stores for appearance of books which will be in big demand, and immediately buy them up.

Plant Their "Spies"

"They also have their own men planted in stockrooms of the book trading organizations who report to them where they are sending what books.

"The members of this gang watch closely for all forthcoming literary printings. They know all the new books. They visit the Lenin Library not to read but to find out what books are being published in the provincial publishing houses. These fellows are no ignoramuses. They know the market prices of books."

If a Soviet citizen wants a complete edition of Shakespeare, or Gorki or any other author he has to subscribe to it and get it when it comes out—perhaps, if he's lucky. But the demand is much greater than the supply and the ordinary citizen has to take his chance as much on getting a single copy of a book as on a full set. The desired, books, that is—and the blackmarketers know what is desired around here.

"The militia (police)," continues Evening News, "knows members of this gang but they do not do anything about them. They only reprimand the book blackmarketers when they pull them in.

"But behind these gangs of small blackmarketers hides somebody who is bigger. This big shot call himself 'literator.' He is a tall, elegantly-dressed, well-nourished man who likes to speak about literature and who is able to pick up acquaintances easily."

Evening News remarks that the biggest aid to blackmarketers is the small printing of books that the public really wants.

For instance, the selected works of Byron came out in only 30,000 copies. Other books, like Goethe's Faust, in only 10,000 copies. As a result 70 Moscow book stores received only 772 copies of Faust and 1,080 copies of Byron.

"Why are such small printings issued? And why are there hundreds of thousands of copies printed of books which nobody buys?" demanded Evening News.

The newspaper did not list the authors of those books which nobody buys and which gather dust on the shelves of book stores.

But among other authors whose books fetch blackmarket prices are Mark Twain, Victor Hugo, Theodore Dreiser, Balzac, Bret Harte's cowboy stories Alexander Dumas and the Italian poet Petrarch.

"Nobody in the world loves books as much as the Soviet people," says Evening News, "and nobody reads as much as do the Soviet people. The demand for books here is growing and one cannot permit the dirty hands of blackmarketers to get into this great cultural cause."

J. ROOSEVELT WANTS LETTER TO WIFE ERASED

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—James Roosevelt moved yesterday to strike from the separate maintenance suit of his estranged wife, Romelle, the letter he wrote her in 1945, admitting intimacies with nine women.

A hearing is scheduled for April 9 on the motion by Roosevelt's lawyer, based on the contention the letter should be striken on the grounds of public policy "so as to discourage any other harmful effects" on the Roosevelt's three children and other innocent persons.

Roosevelt also has asked to have striken another letter made part of his wife's suit in which he promised in event they failed to become reconciled he would give her 50 per cent of all property, community or separate, and 50 per cent of his net annual income for the rest of his life. She alleged Roosevelt had not lived up to the contract.

"Outline Of Conditions"

Counsel for Roosevelt maintains the letter about finances was merely the outline of conditions of a contract that might be executed at some future date. The continuance of the couple's marital relations and by the birth of three children after the letters were written "canceled any possible executory obligation of any purported agreement," attorney Samuel Picone contends.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been receiving $1,625 monthly support for herself and children, pending trial of their contested separate maintenance suits. Roosevelt's suit is based on "mental and physical anguish and distress." He has denied the infidelities mentioned in the letter, claiming he signed such a letter to avoid embarrassment to his father, the late President Roosevelt, by a wartime divorce action.

He also has denied Mrs. Roosevelt's specific charge of adultery in which she named three co-respondents.

Howard Hughes Buys R K O Pictures Corp.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Howard Hughes has acquired all the assets of RKO Pictures Corp., with a $23,489,474 cash payment from his personal funds.

The plane maker and movie producer signed a bank order yesterday for the purchase price he offered for all outstanding RKO stock.

Each shareholder will receive the equivalent of $6 a share, more than twice the market value of the stock at the time Hughes made his offer last Feb. 7, a Sunday. Closing price on the preceding Friday was $2.87 a share.

At Wilmington, Del., RKO Vice President J. Miller Walker said the corporation will advise stockholders of arrangements for tendering their stock for redemption at $6 a share.

VAN ZANDT RAPS CONSTRUCTION OF "SEAWAY"

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway will add to unemployment in the United States, will destroy the economy of many communities and will add to the national debt, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said today.

In a statement prepared for the House Rules Committee, which is considering a senate-passed bill to provide for United States participation with Canada in building the seaway, Van Zandt declared:

"We who live in the central Pennsylvania area are opposed to the St. Lawrence Seaway regardless of how it is dressed up. In any form, the St. Lawrence Seaway will permit foreign flag ships to haul their cargoes to inland ports at the expense of our American railroads and their employes as well as employes of related industries.

"It will add unemployment to the thousands of unemployed in critical areas where surplus labor already exists."

Called "Ghost Towns"

Van Zandt, who has been battling the seaway proposal for years, said imports of residual oil have "captured the Eastern Seaboard coal market from the central Pennsylvania mining industry" and has "destroyed the economy of many of our communities, some of which are veritable ghost towns." He added:

"If this St. Lawrence Seaway project ever becomes a reality, the thousands of jobs it will destory will simply add to the problem we already have in central Pennsylvania where good Americans are today trying to exist on unemployment insurance and public assistance."

He said a railroad and coal center such as his home city of Altoona, now experiencing critical unemployment, would be especially hard hit by operation of the seaway.

"I can not for the life of me understand how the advocates of the St. Lawrence Seaway can ignore the damage that will be done to the economy of many congressional districts like mine," he said. "or can I understand how a project such as this can be advocated at a time when Congress is pledged to economy and a reduction of governmental expenditures as well as our national debt...

"If you want to make a contribution to stop unemployment, then you should vote to keep S2150 (the seaway bill) in committee and off the floor of the House.

"If we have any money to spend on projects of this type—rather than create another military target—we had better spend it on military aircraft and guided missiles to intercept the enemy bombers that can attack already existing targets in the northern portion of our country."

Musician, Actress End With Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A difference in artistic interests was cited by George A. Hormel II of the meat-packing family as he explained the breakup of his marriage to Leslie Caron, French actress and ballerina.

"I am a musician; my wife is an actress," Hormel, 25, a pianist, said as he obtained a divorce yesterday on grounds of cruelty. He and Miss Caron, 23, were married in 1951 in Las Vegas, Nev.

He said Miss Caron "wanted to live an intense artistic life." During an attempted reconcillation in New York last October, he said, his wife told him she had never loved him and did not care to continue the marriage. Miss Caron did not contest the divorce.

MINE FATALITY RATE DROPPING

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The mine fatality rate in the U.S. is dropping steadily, but Charles Ferguson, safety director of the United Mine Workers, says the UMW will press for more stringent safety regulations.

In a talk yesterday at the coal mining session of the western Pennsylvania Safety Engineering Conference, Ferguson said:

"We are not satisfied with the accident rate of coal lining fatalities. We are not pleased with the dissipirited attitude of some segments of the industry in making coal mining a safer occupation."

Ferguson said 457 coal mining fatalities were recorded last year but that "these individual accidents do not as a rule make newspaper headlines."

In another talk, M. J. Ankeny, safety director for the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., said the fatality rate was .82 per million man hours last year. In 1920, he pointed out there were 2,272, men killed in coal mining mishaps and the fatality rate was 1.57 per million man hours.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. William McClelland, Allegheny County coroner seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, today named Atty. William F. Cercone his statewide legal advisor. Cercone, solicitor for nearby Stowe Twp., is a former Allegheny County assistant district attorney. He is a nephew of State Supreme Court Justice Michael Musmanno.

Tells Wrong William Come Up The Stairs

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. William Moyer heard someone moving about on the ground floor of her home.

"Is that you, William?" she inquired, thinking it was her husband.

"It is William," came the reply.

Mrs. Moyer turned to resume her sleep and saw her husband asleep in the bed next to her.

A quick check revealed several dollars in cash and a watch had been taken from a downstairs room.

Pop Demands Police 'Make Daughter Talk'

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A father called the Knox County Jail.

"Make my daughter talk to me," was the demand. "I've been trying to get her to talk to me for quite awhile, but she won't talk to me."

County police, who've been called on for a lot of things, politely but firmly declined to aid.

MINES CLOSED TODAY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—All coal mines covered by United Mine Workers' contracts closed today to mark the 56th anniversary of the union winning the 8-hour day. The traditional contract holiday is marked by numerous rallies.

WANTED: GARBAGE COOKER

PEABODY, Mass. (AP)—Owners of the city's pig population (the latest official registration was over 4,000) must cook all garbage fed to the porkers. Enforcement of the new law comes under state supervision through the division of livestock. The city raises pigs at the infirmary.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

REDS SLACKEN WAVE ATTACKS IN INDOCHINA

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French high command announced today the Communist-led Vietminh had slackened their human-wave assaults on the Dien Bien Phu fortress after losing close to 2,000 men in 24 hours of furious battle.

The French Union defenders held grimly to the northwest Indochina plain despite the onslaught of rebel forces in their second major bid to seize Dien Bien Phu at no matter what cost.

A French spokesman at headquarters here said the Vietminh was "taking time out" while they rushed up more ammunition in preparation for a possible renewed infantry charge tonight.

The spokesman said in addition to the 1,350 Vietminh reported killed yesterday in hand-to-hand fighting at the barbed wire barricades and by curtains of artillery fire and record French aerial attacks, the enemy had gathered up several hundred more bodies from the battlefields early today.

The forces of Moscow-schooled Ho Chi Minh were estimated to number about 30,000 regulars — three divisions equipped, trained and advised by neighboring Red China—and possibly another 10,000 guerrilla and regional fighters brought in for this crucial battle of the seven-year-old Indochina war.

The French claimed to have knocked out another division in the first major enemy assault of March 13, from which the rebels pulled back after three days of fighting.

Urges Cooperation In Cancer Crusade

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Every person in the state financially able to do so should help in the crusade against cancer, a leader in the fight against the dread disease said last night.

In a speech opening the Pennsylvania Cancer Crusade, Dr. B. H. Dimmit of Indiana, Pa., president of the State Cancer Crusade, told of the progress which is being made by medical research and treatment and of the need to continue both.

Dr. John H. Harris of Harrisburg, was presented the American Cancer Society's bronze medal and a citation in recognition of "Distinguished service in the field of cancer control." About 4,000 persons attended the meeting.

ASK FARE INCREASE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Short Line, Inc., West Chester, has asked the Public Utility Commission to authorize a $22,300 a year rate increase on bus rides in the Chester-West Chester - Pottstown - Oxford areas, effective May 1.

Under the new schedule, five cents would be added to all fares up to 40 cents and a dime to higher fares.

Conscience Wins Out Over Old Haircut Bill

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Paul L. Miller, who quit barbering a quarter of a century ago, has received $2 and the following note:

"Approximately 26 years ago I owed you 50 cents for a haircut and I neglected to pay it. I enclose $2 to take care of that little debt. I know I shall feel better for it. Thank you."

Miller says he will send the man his change. He declined to reveal his name.

XIII. RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING

Always be alert, let nothing distract your attention from your job of driving.
Approach pedestrians with caution. Be ready to make a quick, safe stop. Be alert in business districts for pedestrians stepping from between parked cars.
Always remain a sufficient distance behind the car in front of you to be able to stop safely.
Slow moving vehicles must keep to the extreme right of the highway. They are an accident hazard, inviting foolish motorists to make dangerous passes.
When an officer signals for you to stop, drive to the extreme right of the highway and give notice of your intention to the vehicle which is behind you.
Always slow down before reaching a curve.
Instead of coasting around a curve, keep your car in gear and feed the gas cautiously.
Never jam your brakes, best braking power is obtained by applying and releasing the brakes intermittently with a pumping motion.
Permit clutch to remain engaged in slowing down.
To insure safety, use the same gear in descending a steep grade as you would have to use to ascend it.
[illegible] your car starts to skid, keep it in gear and turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid.
[illegible]ver over drive your head lamps at night. A good [illegible]ule is to drive two-thirds as fast by night as [illegible]ou do by day. Sun-down—slow down.
[illegible]ep your windshield clean. A dirty windshield is [illegible]specially hazardous at sun-down and at night.
[illegible]on the alert at night for identification lights of [illegible]ucks and buses. These indicate the presence of [illegible]large, slow-moving vehicle.
[illegible]r operate a car more than four hours with less [illegible]n thirty minutes relaxation or more than eight [illegible]rs with less than two hours' rest.
[illegible] your car under control while passing children [illegible] are walking or playing along the highway.
[illegible] looking directly at the lights of an oncom- [illegible] car at night. An eye is a sensitive instru- [illegible] which is quickly blinded by glare.
[illegible]ful when pulling your car away from a curb. [illegible] not always possible to see cars approaching [illegible]from the rear, in your mirror.
Be careful of vehicles making left turns when driving thru intersections.
Do not fail to obey Stop Signs. They are placed for your protection.
Always dim your lights when 500 feet away from the car coming towards you.

Longer Life!

Every new driver gets a Student's Manual when he receives his Learner's Permit from the State of Pennsylvania. This booklet can be a manual to longer life.

All the rules and regulations that experience has shown to be necessary for safe driving are contained in this book. It would be well for every driver, beginner or not, to re-learn the things this manual points out. Write to The Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee, Finance Building, Harrisburg, for a copy.

Only when you know what makes a good driver ... only when you practice what you know every minute you are behind the wheel... only then will you be safeguarding your life and the lives of those you love.

Drive carefully! Make 1954 the safest year ever.

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

The Associated Press

Do you have kid sister trouble? Who doesn't, you ask? Only sisterless teeners, probably.

Big sister is almost always the injured party—in her own estimation, that is. She resents little Sis walking off in her best hat or trying to horn in on her date or just not having enough sense to scram when the crowd is in.

Most times Big Sis wishes Little Sis was on a desert island surrounded by alligators.

Then some day both grow up and look back on their teens as having been a little mixed up.

So it was with Anahid and Maro Ajemian, equal partners today in a well-known piano duo. Says Maro:

Overhears Complaints

"I don't think about little sister Anahid's role in our household until one day I overheard her telling her woes to mother. She wailed that she never was allowed to go out at night alone, while I was always off on roller-skating and 'splash' parties with the gang, how she was burned up by having it thrown in he face at school that I had been the prize student in the class three years earlier, how she resented being bossed by me in our parents' absence, how she ate foods she loathed, simply because I had been fond of them. It suddenly occurred to me that a younger sister could have legitimate gripes."

Maro says she realized, too, that although younger sister got out of dusting and dishes, she was the one who did the errands. It was only when they agreed to switch chores occasionaly that she realized that doing the dishes could be an easy chore compared to running errands.

The more Maro kept thinking about it, the more she realized she had to apply the Golden Rule to her sister.

Psychology!

So she started with psychology. Says she:

"One day when our gang was planning a wiener roast and I knew Anahid would be nagging to come along, I beat her to the punch by suggesting she have her three best friends in the very night before for an old-fashioned taffy pull which I would show them how to run. She was so interested in this deal that she lost interest in the next day's project."

Another time Anahid's teacher was taking her class for a lunch and movie treat and Maro offered to lend her a red stocking cap with gold coins which she'd always had a yen for. She was so happy with it that she blushingly confessed she had really planned to walk off with Maro's brand new shoulder bag.

Became Warm Friends

Soon, says Maro, Anahid gave up her borrowing habit. And by the time they were 20 and 17 respectively they were warm friends and shared each other's confidences.

Let that be a lesson to you next time little sister drools at sight of your new suit or the snacks you've prepared for your crowd. Treat her like you would a school chum or any of the kids in your neighborhood, instead of a household pest.

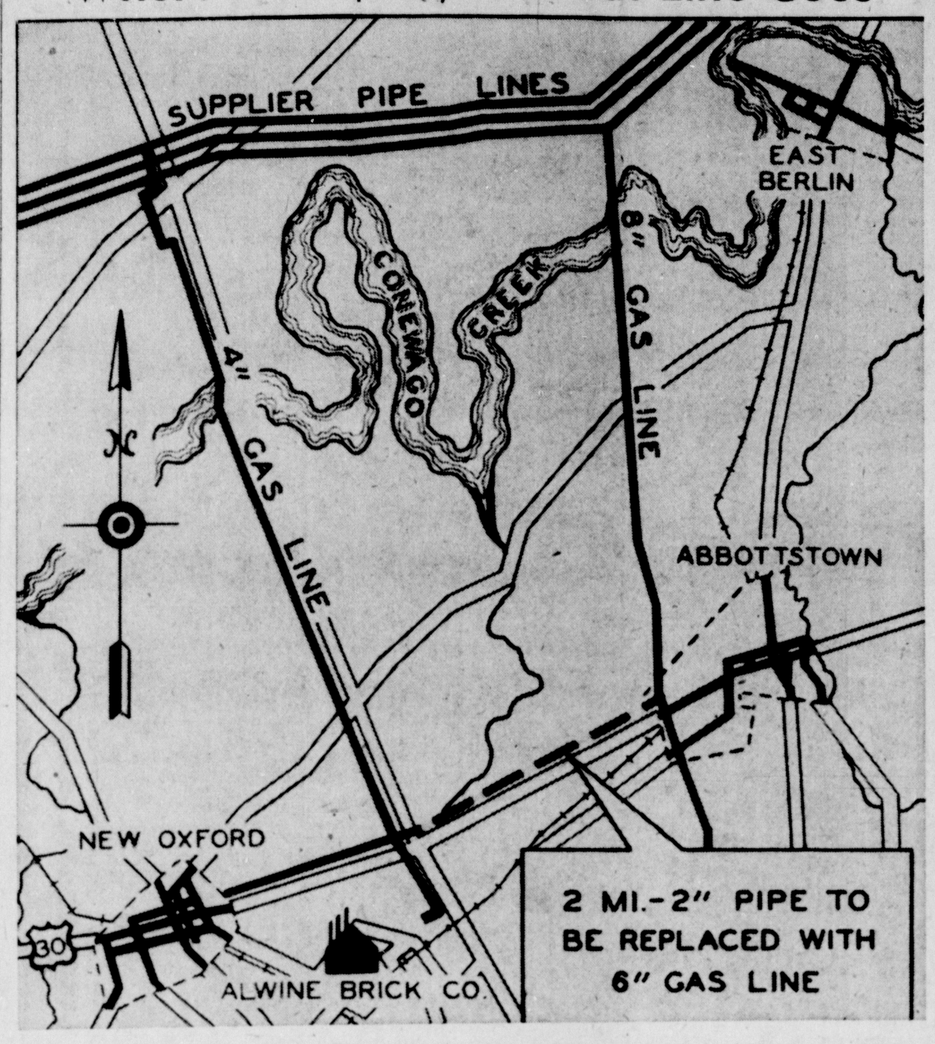
Remember, too, that little sister might be tired of wearing hand-me-down clothes and having to take a back seat when the living room is occupied, to say nothing of having last look at the comics sheets and playing a poor fourth to the television set. All in all it is much duller to be the little Sis in a household than any big sister would ever realize — unless, like Maro, she stops to think about it.

Lady Confesses All, Skipped A Red Light

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A Lincoln woman telephoned police headquarters with her "confession."

After a short consultation, police decided all would be forgiven—this time. The offense was running a red light.

Where New $40,700 Gas Line Goes



GAS COMPANY

Oxford need so much gas that it becomes impossible to maintain adequate pressures.

"By replacing the 2-inch pipe with new 6-inch line we will gain the capacity needed to meet those 'peak load' demands. That will enable us to maintain adequate cold weather gas pressures both in New Oxford and to Alwine Brick."

A smaller improvement project, also aimed at bettering cold weather gas pressures in New Oxford, calls for the replacement of a section of gas main within that community. It involves replacing 1,390 feet of 2-inch pipe with a 4-inch gas main from the east borough line to Center Square. Mr. Estep estimated the work will cost another $6,951.

Demand Is Up

Both projects stem from greatly increased demands for gas in New Oxford, increases resulting from the large numbers of families extended gas heating service in the past eight years, Estep explained.

At the end of World War II the gas company was furnishing gas for central heating to just one consumer in all New Oxford. Today nearly half of all residential customers there heat with gas, he said.

Pipeline capacity to handle greater cold weather fuel volumes both here and throughout the Tri-State area, has been increased as a result of Manufacturers' post-war improvement program. Since 1945 over $85,000,000 have gone into enlargements and improvements to the gas delivery system. And another $27,000,000 is earmarked for additional work this year.

10-Mile Dadius

The picture included an imposition of the fireball on a drawn outline of Manhattan's skyline. It overwhelmed about one quarter of Manhattan.

The official estimate was that the area of "complete annihilation" extended outward in a three-mile radius; that severe to moderate damage reached out to seven miles; light damage as far as 10.

The damage as applied to Washington, D.C., would have looked like this:

If an H-bomb had been exploded at the Capitol, the zone of utter annihilation would have reached west to Arlington National Cemetary (across the Potomac River from Washington.) Eastward it would have touched the Anacostia River Northward the edge would have been soldiers' home, the farmlike place in the heart of modern Washington. Southward it would have engulfed Bolling Field, the Air Force's base at the national capital.

The motion picture, as well as still photographs taken from it, is to be released next Wednesday. Accounts were to have been withheld until then too, but some broke into print ahead of time.

Used By Columnist

The New York Times, publishing an account in today's editions, said it did so because a descriptive review by a syndicated columnist appeared in newspapers a few hours after a special press showing.

In his column in some newspapers today, Drew Pearson noted that "the veil covering the H-bomb will be lifted next week," and he added: "However, this column is able to give a word preview of the horrible holocaust."

Following publication of these accounts, the major news services decided to go ahead with their own reviews.

Court Workers Tread Light, House Unsound

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)— Old-time workers in the City Hall are a little stunned by what the man who supervised its construction has to say. Architect M. H. Starkweather said the building went up according to faulty plans. He said it was unsound from the day it was built. That was in 1917.

"It was falling to pieces then," Starkweather added.

Meanwhile, City Hall workers tread lightly.

Warden Claims TV 'Bores' Many Cons

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif. (AP)—All California State prisons now have television, but many convicts still are bored. Warden Robert A. Heinze, acknowledging a gift of six TV sets from movie producer Walter Wanger, said Folsom was the last of the State prisons to acquire TV.

"Most of the prisoners like it," Heinze commented. "But a good many don't seem to be interested at all."

Cooking Class Wins Court Room Verdict

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Defending a suit against her husband for failing to pay installments on a set of aluminumware, Mrs. J. C. Davenport in a cross action charged food stuck to the pans.

A company representative promptly whipped out a small stove, picked up a pan and fried an egg in the courtroom. Then he removed the egg and showed the jury a pan with no egg stuck to it.

The jury ruled the company could have both the pans and the money Davenport had paid on them.

Yokel Pays Taxes With Outdated Bills

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—When a man from an isolated section of the county came in to pay his taxes, he put down two of the "blanket" style $20 bills which the government took out of circulation back in 1933.

The young fellow behind the cashier's window, a mere lad of 25 or so, eyed the bills skeptically. Called in for consultation, Chief Tax Deputy Ansel Umberger said:

"Nothing wrong with those notes, they're just a little aged," and swept them into the till.

The taxpayer triumphatly pocketed his receipt and swaggered away.

ATLANTA (AP)—J. Paul Cobb was driving along a highway in South Georgia when he banged into a 250-pound black bear. The impact killed the animal and threw Cobb's car against a bridge railing. After raking the bridge for many yards, it cost him $1,090 to get his car back in shape.

Why 208 Women Got Furious At One Department Store

By Betty Blue

The head buyer for a New York department store got a bright idea. He was going to stop selling Bluko! So what happened? Nothing much—except exactly 208 good customers sat down and wrote the store some pretty nasty letters. So Bluko is back on the shelf, thank you—and selling faster than ever. Not every housewife has tried this all-purpose, liquid household cleaner. But those who have swear by it. They love Bluko—because Bluko hates dirt. One wipe. No rubbing. No rinsing. That's Bluko for you. Nothing like it. 60¢ a quart—$1.00 a half-gallon—$1.50 a gallon. And you can have it all back if you don't agree it's got powders and soaps and flakes and detergents beat a mile.

WALLS! Don't they make you want to SCREAM?

Keeping 'em clean is no picnic. Especially if you don't know about Bluko. This liquid cleaner is a wall's best friend. One wipe and your wall is clean! Shades lighter. No brushes or rinse water to fool with! Pour Bluko into pan. Wipe Bluko on wall with clean cloth! Ladies love Bluko—Bluko hates dirt! That's why we've sold millions of bottles. Buy your first one tomorrow—on a money-back guarantee!

Odorless, fireproof, all-purpose household cleaner. At supers, hardware, grocery & department stores.

For beautiful floors—CELLO WAX

Does Bad Climate Cause Colds?

No, colds occur in widely different climates at about the same season. They affect about the same percentage of people in one region as in another. Apparently the greatest contributing factor is the change to indoor crowding, especially in schools, during the winter months. Children acquire and transmit the disease more readily than adults.

Your doctor can give you advice which will do much toward protecting you from colds. When your physician writes you a prescription, bring it to us for filling.

Queen Elizabeth Leaves Australia

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II sailed from Australia today after a 57-day visit that won resounding cheers from her Australian subjects.

The royal liner Gothic steamed from Fremantle Harbor as thousands of onlookers waved and shouted goodby and other ships sounded their whistles.

The next stop on the young monarch's commonwealth tour is the Cocoas Islands, in the Indian Ocean 800 miles southwest of Singapore.

The Queen, standing on the top deck with her husband, the Duke refreshed today as on Feb. 3, when of Edinburgh, looked as happy and the Gothic brought her into Sydney. She had traveled thousands of miles across the broad nation and carried out 250 formal engagements.

Price Of Butter Slashed Ten Cents

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Butter price reductions ranging up to 10 cents a pound went into effect today in the 150 Food Fair markets in a five-state area.

The butter price cuts were announced yesterday by Food Fair for its stores and markets in Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Delaware. The announcement came one day before an eight-cent per pound drop in government price supports on butter, from 66½ to 58½.

Food Fair said it was reducing its most popular grade of butter from 73 cents a pound to 63 cents and its highest grade from 75 to 66 cents.

The other food store chains in the Philadelphia area previously reduced butter prices, but the Food Fair cuts were the most drastic thus far. Independent stores in this area have indicated they plan to go along in cutting butter prices.

Queen Elizabeth Leaves Australia

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II sailed from Australia today after a 57-day visit that won resounding cheers from her Australian subjects.

The royal liner Gothic steamed from Fremantle Harbor as thousands of onlookers waved and shouted goodby and other ships sounded their whistles.

The next stop on the young monarch's commonwealth tour is the Cocoas Islands, in the Indian Ocean 800 miles southwest of Singapore.

The Queen, standing on the top deck with her husband, the Duke refreshed today as on Feb. 3, when of Edinburgh, looked as happy and the Gothic brought her into Sydney. She had traveled thousands of miles across the broad nation and carried out 250 formal engagements.

Price Of Butter Slashed Ten Cents

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Butter price reductions ranging up to 10 cents a pound went into effect today in the 150 Food Fair markets in a five-state area.

The butter price cuts were announced yesterday by Food Fair for its stores and markets in Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Delaware. The announcement came one day before an eight-cent per pound drop in government price supports on butter, from 66½ to 58½.

Food Fair said it was reducing its most popular grade of butter from 73 cents a pound to 63 cents and its highest grade from 75 to 66 cents.

The other food store chains in the Philadelphia area previously reduced butter prices, but the Food Fair cuts were the most drastic thus far. Independent stores in this area have indicated they plan to go along in cutting butter prices.

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

The Associated Press

Do you have kid sister trouble? Who doesn't, you ask? Only sisterless teeners, probably.

Big sister is almost always the injured party—in her own estimation, that is. She resents little Sis walking off in her best hat or trying to horn in on her date or just not having enough sense to scram when the crowd is in.

Most times Big Sis wishes Little Sis was on a desert island surrounded by alligators.

Then some day both grow up and look back on their teens as having been a little mixed up.

So it was with Anahid and Maro Ajemian, equal partners today in a well-known piano duo. Says Maro:

Overhears Complaints

"I don't think about little sister Anahid's role in our household until one day I overheard her telling her woes to mother. She wailed that she never was allowed to go out at night alone, while I was always off on roller-skating and 'splash' parties with the gang, how she was burned up by having it thrown in he face at school that I had been the prize student in the class three years earlier, how she resented being bossed by me in our parents' absence, how she ate foods she loathed, simply because I had been fond of them. It suddenly occurred to me that a younger sister could have legitimate gripes."

Maro says she realized, too, that although younger sister got out of dusting and dishes, she was the one who did the errands. It was only when they agreed to switch chores occasionaly that she realized that doing the dishes could be an easy chore compared to running errands.

The more Maro kept thinking about it, the more she realized she had to apply the Golden Rule to her sister.

Psychology!

So she started with psychology. Says she:

"One day when our gang was planning a wiener roast and I knew Anahid would be nagging to come along, I beat her to the punch by suggesting she have her three best friends in the very night before for an old-fashioned taffy pull which I would show them how to run. She was so interested in this deal that she lost interest in the next day's project."

Another time Anahid's teacher was taking her class for a lunch and movie treat and Maro offered to lend her a red stocking cap with gold coins which she'd always had a yen for. She was so happy with it that she blushingly confessed she had really planned to walk off with Maro's brand new shoulder bag.

Became Warm Friends

Soon, says Maro, Anahid gave up her borrowing habit. And by the time they were 20 and 17 respectively they were warm friends and shared each other's confidences.

Let that be a lesson to you next time little sister drools at sight of your new suit or the snacks you've prepared for your crowd. Treat her like you would a school chum or any of the kids in your neighborhood, instead of a household pest.

Remember, too, that little sister might be tired of wearing hand-me-down clothes and having to take a back seat when the living room is occupied, to say nothing of having last look at the comics sheets and playing a poor fourth to the television set. All in all it is much duller to be the little Sis in a household than any big sister would ever realize — unless, like Maro, she stops to think about it.

After a short consultation, police decided all would be forgiven—this time. The offense was running a red light.

Where New $40,700 Gas Line Goes

Oxford need so much gas that it becomes impossible to maintain adequate pressures.

"By replacing the 2-inch pipe with new 6-inch line we will gain the capacity needed to meet those 'peak load' demands. That will enable us to maintain adequate cold weather gas pressures both in New Oxford and to Alwine Brick."

A smaller improvement project, also aimed at bettering cold weather gas pressures in New Oxford, calls for the replacement of a section of gas main within that community. It involves replacing 1,390 feet of 2-inch pipe with a 4-inch gas main from the east borough line to Center Square. Mr. Estep estimated the work will cost another $6,951.

Demand Is Up

Both projects stem from greatly increased demands for gas in New Oxford, increases resulting from the large numbers of families extended gas heating service in the past eight years, Estep explained.

At the end of World War II the gas company was furnishing gas for central heating to just one consumer in all New Oxford. Today nearly half of all residential customers there heat with gas, he said.

Pipeline capacity to handle greater cold weather fuel volumes, both here and throughout the Tri-State area, has been increased as a result of Manufacturers' post-war improvement program. Since 1945 over $85,000,000 have gone into enlargements and improvements to the gas delivery system. And another $27,000,000 is earmarked for additional work this year.

First Hydrogen

10-Mile Dadius

The picture included an imposition of the fireball on a drawn outline of Manhattan's skyline. It overwhelmed about one quarter of Manhattan.

The official estimate was that the area of "complete annihilation" extended outward in a three-mile radius; that severe to moderate damage reached out to seven miles; light damage as far as 10.

The damage as applied to Washington, D.C., would have looked like this:

If an H-bomb had been exploded at the Capitol, the zone of utter annihilation would have reached west to Arlington National Cemetary (across the Potomac River from Washington.) Eastward it would have touched the Anacostia River Northward the edge would have been soldiers' home, the farmlike place in the heart of modern Washington. Southward it would have engulfed Bolling Field, the Air Force's base at the national capital.

The motion picture, as well as still photographs taken from it, is to be released next Wednesday. Accounts were to have been withheld until then too, but some broke into print ahead of time.

Used By Columnist

The New York Times, publishing an account in today's editions, said it did so because a descriptive review by a syndicated columnist appeared in newspapers a few hours after a special press showing.

In his column in some newspapers today, Drew Pearson noted that "the veil covering the H-bomb will be lifted next week," and he added: "However, this column is able to give a word preview of the horrible holocaust."

Following publication of these accounts, the major news services decided to go ahead with their own reviews.

Court Workers Tread Light, House Unsound

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)— Old-time workers in the City Hall are a little stunned by what the man who supervised its construction has to say. Architect M. H. Starkweather said the building went up according to faulty plans. He said it was unsound from the day it was built. That was in 1917.

"It was falling to pieces then," Starkweather added.

Meanwhile, City Hall workers tread lightly.

Warden Claims TV 'Bores' Many Cons

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif. (AP)—All California State prisons now have television, but many convicts still are bored. Warden Robert A. Heinze, acknowledging a gift of six TV sets from movie producer Walter Wanger, said Folsom was the last of the State prisons to acquire TV.

"Most of the prisoners like it," Heinze commented. "But a good many don't seem to be interested at all."

Cooking Class Wins Court Room Verdict

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Defending a suit against her husband for failing to pay installments on a set of aluminumware, Mrs. J. C. Davenport in a cross action charged food stuck to the pans.

A company representative promptly whipped out a small stove, picked up a pan and fried an egg in the courtroom. Then he removed the egg and showed the jury a pan with no egg stuck to it.

The jury ruled the company could have both the pans and the money Davenport had paid on them.

Yokel Pays Taxes With Outdated Bills

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—When a man from an isolated section of the county came in to pay his taxes, he put down two of the "blanket" style $20 bills which the government took out of circulation back in 1933.

The young fellow behind the cashier's window, a mere lad of 25 or so, eyed the bills skeptically. Called in for consultation, Chief Tax Deputy Ansel Umberger said:

"Nothing wrong with those notes, they're just a little aged," and swept them into the till.

The taxpayer triumphatly pocketed his receipt and swaggered away.

ATLANTA (AP)—J. Paul Cobb was driving along a highway in South Georgia when he banged into a 250-pound black bear. The impact killed the animal and threw Cobb's car against a bridge railing. After raking the bridge for many yards, it cost him $1,000 to get his car back in shape.

Does Bad Climate Cause Colds?

No, colds occur in widely different climates at about the same season. They affect about the same percentage of people in one region as in another. Apparently the greatest contributing factor is the change to indoor crowding, especially in schools, during the winter months. Children acquire and transmit the disease more readily than adults.

Your doctor can give you advice which will do much toward protecting you from colds. When your physician writes you a prescription, bring it to us for filling.

SPRING CALLS FOR FRAGRANCE, "GOOD SCENTS"

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Spring is the time for a new fragrance. At the first sight of a floral chapeau, garden-fresh lilies, tulips or daffodils, feminine vanity is intrigued by a perfume counter. Last winter's favorite scent seems much too heavy blend with the first breath of spring.

You don't have to break the bank to radiate good scents these days. If you can afford it, perfume is your best bet for long-lasting fragrance. Even an inexpensive purse-sized dram or two, sparingly used, can make you feel like a queen.

Colognes and toilet waters are satisfying fillips to the bath; sachet may be used to scent lingerie, scarfs and dresses; stick and creamy fragrances are available on any budget. Bath oils, scented soap and bath powder all offer the fastidiousness a girl seeks.

Select Right Fragrance

But how to select the right fragrance? Ingredients come from every corner of the world to blend that perfect bouquet for your pleasure. The sweet smelling essential oils such as Bulgaria's rose, France's lavender and mimosa are blended with extract from Ethiopian civet cats, cinnamon from Ceylon, musk from Tibet, Canadian castor from the beaver, eucalyptus from Australia. Even the mosquito repellant, citronella, goes into some perfume.

So it is no wonder there are different tastes in perfume. When selecting your scents, these suggestions will help:

1. Ask yourself whether the perfume goes with you. Don't buy it because it flatters your friend. Is it your type?

Get Perfume Sprays

2. If you are undecided about scents, visit a perfume counter asking to be sprayed with a perfume you select. Wear it that day, noting how others react to it. If you are not sure the following day, ask for a spray of another scent.

3. When you've made your selection, ask the salesgirl to open the bottle. Then you will not have any excuse for hoarding it on your dressing table unopened, until the scent has faded from exposure to light and heat. Use the perfume you buy.

4. Perfume may be worn in the morning, providing you do not shower yourself with it. It is a good idea to transfer some from a large bottle to a purse size container so that it may be renewed several times a day.

5. If your husband or beau objects to your perfume, discard it immediately. One reason you choose scented feminine accessories is to please the man in your life. If he's particularly fussy about fragrances, insist that he go with you when you shop for a new one. (Better still—make him foot the bill.)

Former Nazi Raider Now U. S. Navy Craft

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Jack-of-All-Trades of the Navy is the Conecuh, once a combination raider and replenishment ship of Nazi Germany.

Under United States jurisdiction it has been converted to do the combined work of a fleet oiler, ammunition ship, provision ship and stores-issue ship—all while under way. It is classed as the fastest ship (20 knots) among service fleet auxiliaries.

Routine Sign Request Causes Major Change

EMMET, Idaho (AP) — R. O. McMaham, a real estate agent, figured it was just a rountine request when he asked the city council for permission to put up one of those wooden signs he'd seen over the sidewalk in front of other business houses.

The council looked in the statute book to make sure, found a 36-year-old fire ordinance on the subject, and had to order all the wooden signs taken down.

Conversion To Gas Befuddles Oil Man

OMAHA (AP) — When the Ervin R. Simons of Omaha redecorated their basement, they converted their furnace from oil to gas. Later their oil man came along with a tankful for another house on the same street and purely from the force of habit stopped at the Simon home.

Eighty gallons of fuel oil had poured over the Simons' new basement before Mrs. Simon ran out and put a stop to it.

Hard of hearing persons often say their ability to hear is lowered when they are nervous or upset.

Blind, Deaf Spotters Staff Aircraft Station

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The team of Carter and Thatcher rates high as aircraft spotters at the Volunteer Ground Observer Corps station at Rainbow, near here.

Carter, 57, is nearly blind. Thatcher, 59, is hard of hearing. He explained: "Carter hears the planes; I spot them. We get along fine." Mrs. Lorna Blankenship, chief observer for San Diego County, agrees.

Philip of Macedon won his great military victories and set the stage for his son, Alexander's, conquests by an effective combination of infantry and cavalry.

If you met this scene when bringing a prescription to be filled, you might run screaming out of the drug store. For this is a scene taken from the past — about 3700 B.C., the date of the oldest prescriptions in existence. The ingredients were such ludicrous things as pulverized unicorn's horn, hog's teeth, dog's heels. We are fortunate to live in an age when we can take our prescriptions to registered pharmacists who will use only those ingredients tested and approved by qualified chemists. You can always depend on your Rexall Pharmacist. Prompt, friendly service, always.

"Big" Washington Parties Set Pace That's "Killing"

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a week that left official and social Washington gasping. White ties were ready for the laundry, and every evening gown in milady's wardrobe had made at least one public appearance.

"We haven't had a night at home for days," sighed one cabinet wife. "I'll be glad when the Lenten season starts and the partying slows down."

There was the White House reception for the Army, Navy and Air Force, with no military rank under a two-star general or rear admiral senior grade invited. The gold braid outshone even the most glittering evening gown.

For the first time, President and Mrs. Eisenhower mingled with the guests in the State Dining Room.

8,000 at Supper

The Republicans' annual Lincoln Day box supper was attended by some 8,000. Every big-name GOP-er from the President on down, and their wives attended but all of them didn't eat. Big Wheel Congressman Charles Halleck of Indiana, loading up on fried shrimp and open-faced turdey sandwiches at a big cocktail party earlier, was heard to say: "I'm eating here so I won't have to eat that darned box supper."

Another big Republican shindig was thrown by handsome Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the Republican National Chairman, at the swank Sulgrave Club.

This was in honor of three equally handsome ladies: Mrs. Oswald Lord, alternate delegate to the U. N. General Assembly; Mrs. Katherine G. Howard, deputy federal civil defense administrator, and Mrs. Pearl Pace, member of the War Claims Commission. The men turned out for this in black tie, most of them going on to the annual dinner of radio and TV correspondents for the President.

White Tie Party

Most glamorous white tie affair of the week was the reception staged by the dean of the diplomatic corps, Norwegian Ambassador and Mrs. Morgenstierne, for the new Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren.

The week wound up with another wingding for the top brass when the American Newspaper Women's Club honored Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Mrs. Radford. Sandwiched in from noon until the dinner hour every day this hectic week were luncheons, teas and cocktail parties. I'm panting!

Reds Plan To Expand 3-Dimensional Films

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, which claims to have had the first three-dimensional movie process not requiring polaroid glasses as early as 1941, is now planning expansion into the provinces. Moscow has a 3-D theater. The plan calls for a network of them.

Prof P. Koslov, director of the Research Cinema Photo Institute, says, the old screen had shortcomings. "Now we not only have a new screen but a new system of shooting and projecting 3-D films which greatly improve their quality."

Americans who have seen Russian 3-D in Moscow find it good. Soviet Film production faces no stiff competition from television Theaters are still overcrowded and any foreigner with a ticket to spare is besieged by Russians who want to buy it.

THE PEOPLE of Germany would like to see their country unified. The Western sector desires a democratic form of government The Eastern sector wants a unification under Communist auspices.

Both sides took advantage of a golden opportunity for propaganda when the Berlin Four Power Conference was held by issuing special stamps to commemorate the occasion.

The West German Berlin Post Office issued a 20 p fennig stamp. The post mark and the stamp carried the words "Four Power Conference. Berlin 1954." The design shows Berlin's Allied Control Authority Building, site of the conference.

A special cachet envelope also was issued. On the envelope was from Johan Wolfgang von Goethe (1749-1832), greatest of Germany's poets: "I have no fear that Germany will not unite . . . It is, after all, united in mutual love."

The Communist postal officials issued a 12 p fennig commemorative showing a mass of people looking upwards at an empty table surrounded by four empty chairs. A dove of peace flies above the conference scene. Across the stamp is written: "We demand a peace treaty with Germany."

THE FALKLAND Islands has issued a new definite set featuring ships connected with Antarctic exploration. A profile vignette of Queen Elizabeth appears on each. Some of the ships depicted are: the Belgica, Antarctic, Scotia, Francais, Endurance, Discovery, Wyatt Earp, Penola, Eagle, Trepassey and the John Biscoe.

A NEW 200 franc airmail has been issued for the Comoro Islands, located in the Mozambique Channel between Madagascar and Mozambique off the African coast. Depicted is an ancient tower with birds flying above. Palm trees flank the tower.

CUBA has issed a new set of five stamps for its communication workers retirement fund. Shown on the stamps are the portraits of famous Cubans. One of the set is an airmail, reports the New York Stamp Co.

THE CROWN agents for the British Colonies announced a new issue for the Seward Islands. The set is in the decimal currency with the designs the same as the current set.

THE KHATIRI State in Hadramout, southern Arabia, has issued a new series of stamps. The 5 and 10 cents, sepia and blue respectively, show the Sultan's head. The 15 cents green, 35 cents blue and 1 shilling orange are of the "slyoon" series. The 25 cent red, 50 cents sepiacarmine, and 2 shillings green are of the "tarim" series The 5 shillings blue-mauve and 10 shillings brown-mauve show a Khatiri horse.

SNACKS OKAYED UNDER NEW DIET

A new reducing diet which permits the dieter to indulge his hunger by eating full-sized snacks between meals has proved itself successful with a high percentage of obesity cases.

The new diet, propounded by New York physician Leonid Kotkin, is strict in forbidding low protein foods. But the dieter who complains of constant hunger can satisfy his appetite with a variety of high quality snacks at any time between meals.

The snacks may consist of all vegetables, except five, as well as lean meat and pot cheese. The five forbidden vegetables are rice, potatoes, corn, peas and all beans —except stringbeans.

Dr. Kotkin says the average dieter is almost always troubled "by a tendency to cheat just a little bit on his diet."

"This cheating leads inevitably to the failure of the diet regime," he says. "But if the cheating is indulged by allowing the dieter to eat substantial snacks of permitted foods, NO harm is done and the reducing program is usually concluded successfully."

A typical snack suggested by Dr. Kotkin, whose basic diet is rigid in forbidding all fatty foods and limiting all carbohydrates, might consist of a tomato and lettuce salad with pot cheese. A snack of raw carrot and celery sticks, or a lean hamburger patty —without the bun—could satisfy the hunger of almost any obese dieter, Dr. Kotkin says.

"Big" Washington Parties Set Pace That's "Killing"

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a week that left official and social Washington gasping. White ties were ready for the laundry, and every evening gown in milady's wardrobe had made at least one public appearance.

"We haven't had a night at home for days," sighed one cabinet wife. "I'll be glad when the Lenten season starts and the partying slows down."

There was the White House reception for the Army, Navy and Air Force, with no military rank under a two-star general or rear admiral senior grade invited. The gold braid outshone even the most glittering evening gown.

For the first time, President and Mrs. Eisenhower mingled with the guests in the State Dining Room.

8,000 at Supper

The Republicans' annual Lincoln Day box supper was attended by some 8,000. Every big name GOP-er from the President on down, and their wives attended but all of them didn't eat. Big Wheel Congressman Charles Halleck of Indiana, loading up on fried shrimp and open-faced turdey sandwiches at a big cocktail party earlier, was heard to say: "I'm eating here so I won't have to eat that darned box supper."

Another big Republican shindig was thrown by handsome Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the Republican National Chairman, at the swank Sulgrave Club.

This was in honor of three equally handsome ladies: Mrs. Oswald Lord, alternate delegate to the U. N. General Assembly; Mrs. Katherine G. Howard, deputy federal civil defense administrator, and Mrs. Pearl Pace, member of the War Claims Commission. The men turned out for this in black tie, most of them going on to the annual dinner of radio and TV correspondents for the President.

White Tie Party

Most glamorous white tie affair of the week was the reception staged by the dean of the diplomatic corps, Norwegian Ambassador and Mrs. Morgenstierne, for the new Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren.

The week wound up with another wingding for the top brass when the American Newspaper Women's Club honored Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Mrs. Radford. Sandwiched in from noon until the dinner hour every day this hectic week were luncheons, teas and cocktail parties. I'm panting!

SPRING CALLS FOR FRAGRANCE, "GOOD SCENTS"

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Spring is the time for a new fragrance. At the first sight of a floral chapeau, garden-fresh lilies, tulips or daffodils, feminine vanity is intrigued by a perfume counter. Last winter's favorite scent seems much too heavy blend with the first breath of spring.

You don't have to break the bank to radiate good scents these days. If you can afford it, perfume is your best bet for long-lasting fragrance. Even an inexpensive purse-sized dram or two, sparingly used, can make you feel like a queen.

Colognes and toilet waters are satisfying fillips to the bath; sachet may be used to scent lingerie, scarfs and dresses; stick and creamy fragrances are available on any budget. Bath oils, scented soap and bath powder all offer the fastidiousness a girl seeks.

Select Right Fragrance

But how to select the right fragrance? Ingredients come from every corner of the world to blend that perfect bouquet for your pleasure. The sweet smelling essential oils such as Bulgaria's rose, France's lavender and mimosa are blended with extract from Ethiopian civet cats, cinnamon from Ceylon, musk from Tibet, Canadian castor from the beaver, eucalyptus from Australia. Even the mosquito repellant, citronella, goes into some perfume.

So it is no wonder there are different tastes in perfume. When selecting your scents, these suggestions will help:

1. Ask yourself whether the perfume goes with you. Don't buy it because it flatters your friend. Is it your type?

Get Perfume Sprays

2. If you are undecided about scents, visit a perfume counter asking to be sprayed with a perfume you select. Wear it that day, noting how others react to it. If you are not sure the following day, ask for a spray of another scent.

3. When you've made your selection, ask the salesgirl to open the bottle. Then you will not have any excuse for hoarding it on your dressing table unopened, until the scent has faded from exposure to light and heat. Use the perfume you buy.

4. Perfume may be worn in the morning, providing you do not shower yourself with it. It is a good idea to transfer some from a large bottle to a purse size container so that it may be renewed several times a day.

5. If your husband or beau objects to your perfume, discard it immediately. One reason you choose scented feminine accessories is to please the man in your life. If he's particularly fussy about fragrances, insist that he go with you when you shop for a new one. (Better still—make him foot the bill.)

Former Nazi Raider Now U.S. Navy Craft

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Jack-of-All-Trades of the Navy is the Conecuh, once a combination raider and replenishment ship of Nazi Germany.

Under United States jurisdiction it has been converted to do the combined work of a fleet oiler, ammunition ship, provision ship and stores-issue ship—all while under way. It is classed as the fastest ship (20 knots) among service fleet auxiliaries.

Routine Sign Request Causes Major Change

EMMET, Idaho (AP) — R. O. McMaham, a real estate agent, figured it was just a rountine request when he asked the city council for permission to put up one of those wooden signs he'd seen over the sidewalk in front of other business houses.

The council looked in the statute book to make sure, found a 36-year-old fire ordinance on the subject, and had to order all the wooden signs taken down.

Conversion To Gas Befuddles Oil Man

OMAHA (AP) — When the Ervin R. Simons of Omaha redecorated their basement, they converted their furnace from oil to gas. Later their oil man came along with a tankful for another house on the same street and purely from the force of habit stopped at the Simon home.

Eighty gallons of fuel oil had poured over the Simons' new basement before Mrs. Simon ran out and put a stop to it.

Hard of hearing persons often say their ability to hear is lowered when they are nervous or upset.

Blind, Deaf Spotters Staff Aircraft Station

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The team of Carter and Thatcher rates high as aircraft spotters at the Volunteer Ground Observer Corps station at Rainbow, near here.

Carter, 57, is nearly blind. Thatcher, 59, is hard of hearing. He explained: "Carter hears the planes; I spot them. We get along fine." Mrs. Lorna Blankenship, chief observer for San Diego County, agrees.

Philip of Macedon won his great military victories and set the stage for his son, Alexander's, conquests by an effective combination of infantry and cavalry.

If you met this scene when bringing a prescription to be filled, you might run screaming out of the drug store. For this is a scene taken from the past — about 3700 B.C., the date of the oldest prescriptions in existence. The ingredients were such ludicrous things as pulverized unicorn's horn, hog's teeth, dog's heels. We are fortunate to live in an age when we can take our prescriptions to registered pharmacists who will use only those ingredients tested and approved by qualified chemists. You can always depend on your Rexall Pharmacist. Prompt, friendly service, always.

Japanese Envoy And Wife Have Many U.S. Friends

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — An attractive new hostess has come from the land of the cherry blossoms to this cherry blossom-wreathed capital of the western world.

She is the dainty, cultured wife of Sadao Iguchi, the new Japanese ambassador. Iguchi replaces Eikichi Araki, first postwar ambassador to the United States, who returned to Japan before Christmas.

The Iguchis have many friends in Washington. The ambassador, a career diplomat, was counselor at the embassy here before the war. He also served as consul in Chicago and New York. More recently he has been ambassador to Canada.

Mrs. Iguchi, whose first name, Masako, means "Crystal Clear," is the daughter of Kenkichi Yoshizawa, veteran diplomat of Japan, who is now ambassador to the Republic of China at Taipeh, Formosa.

Speaks Fluent English

A graduate of the famous Sutaba Girls High School of Tokyo and the Peeress' School for the daughters of Japanese noble families, Mrs. Iguchi, like her husband, speaks fluent English as well as several other languages. She is fond of music and the drama, enjoys a game of tennis and is an accomplished hostess, though she prefers small informal parties to the big lavish official functions she is called upon to give.

The Iguchis have three children, Tatsuko, 24, a graduate of Tokyo Women's College and former exchange student from Japan to the University of California, who will live at the embassy, and two sons. Takeo, 23, a graduate of Tokyo University, passed the diplomatic service examination of the Japanese government and is now in London. Norio, 21, is a drama student at Yale University.

When Araki, a widower, was here his young daughter, Tomiko, served as his official hostess for a time. When she went to New York to study voice the charming Mrs. Ryuji Takeuchi, wife of the first minister and charge d'affaires, took over.

The Takeuchis, who have been here two and a half years, are returning to Japan next month. Takeuchi will be chief of the European and American bureau of Japan's foreign ministry.

Church Building Gone But Services Continue

ORANGE, Mass. (AP)—A Universalist parish which has had no church or formal religious services for nearly 18 years observed the 25th anniversary recently of its monthly vespers.

The parish once had members in the towns of Dana and North Dana, Mass. These communities were wiped out when a huge reservoir supplying the Boston area was completed in 1936. Dana vespers had become a tradition by then, and they still are being held. Forty members of the original church membership are among the 141 who form the parish today.

Money from a trust fund provides for 12 services every year and usually enough for a "bonus" offering annually.

BRITISH BIRTHS INCREASE

LONDON (AP)—The British ministry of health says 682,007 babies were born last year, several thousand more than in any of the previous five years but still 198,992 below the post-war peak in 1947.

CITY GARDENS ARE NEW LURE

CHICAGO (AP) — Town house garden apartments are now being tried to lure suburbanites back to the city.

A new $800,000 development on Chicago's South Side calls for construction of 64 garden units at 48th St. and Drexel Boulevard. The project will serve as a pilot plan for future low cost homes designed to eliminate slum and blight areas through the initiative of private enterprise.

Officials of the development say this is an effective means of neighborhood rejuvenation. It will utilize facilities of schools, parks, public transportation, police and fire protection already established in a large city.

Bertrand Goldberg the architect, also designed the 9 million dollar North Kansas City "Dynamic Triangle" for which he won the Progressive Architect's annual award in 1953.

Each town house unit will sell for about $12,500 and can be had for $2,500 down, with monthly mortgage payments of $70.

Each two-story unit will have six rooms—a living room, an outside walled-in patio, living-kitchen, and a bath on the downstairs level. The second floor will contain master bedroom and two smaller bedrooms which can be opened into one large room by folding back accordion type doors.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A year ago Mrs. Martin W. Lidstone was Savings Bank and present a $5 savings account to a newborn child. Annually Hartford's mutual savings banks conduct Thrift Week and the banks take turns daily in presenting $5 accounts to new citizens.

This year Mrs. Lidstone, new accounts teller at State Savings Bank, gave birth to son, Neil, at Hartford hospital.

She was presented the $5 account for Neil by the rival Mechanics Savings Bank. Neil arrived in the middle of Thrift Week but too late to receive the $5 from his mother's place of employment.

FIRM SEEKS TO SALVAGE GOLD

WIJDE WORMER, Netherlands (AP)—A Dutch salvage firm this summer will try to recover 20 million dollars in gold from the German vessel Renate Leonhardt, torpedoed in 1917.

A Dutch group has formed a cooperative salvage firm, which has spent years on preparations. About 60 per cent of its capital was pledged by unidentified Canadian sources; 40 per cent is Dutch.

One of the firm's officials, Piet Visser, 51, says that after he got a concession in 1939 to salvage the cargo, he started charting the exact place of the ship five miles off the coast, outside the Dutch territorial waters. The outbreak of World War II prevented further investigations. After the war, he charted the whole ship accurately. It now rests under 70 feet of water, a 10-foot solid layer of clay and another 10-foot layer of mud.

A work shop topped by a 60-foot funnel is under construction.

Under favorable weather conditions the huge iron structure 86 feet high, weighing nearly 1,000 tons will be placed on the ship's wreck this summer.

This iron workshop will be secured on the clay layer. Through the floor a wide tube will be sunk into one of the Renate's hatches to allow divers working around the clock, to snatch away the millions.

The salvage operations will be directed by J. Adriaanse, a retired chief diving instructor of the Royal Dutch Navy.

Gathering "Gwendolysms" Is New Game In Nation's Capital

By SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Society reporters on Washington newspapers have a new game.

They collect "Gwendolysms."

Gwendloysms are the sayings of the beauteous Gwendolyn Cafritz, contender with Mrs. Perle Mesta for the mythical title of No. 1 Washington hostess . . .

A guest at one of "Gwen's" small dinner parties first toasted the hostess and then a new diamond necklace which her husband, Morris, a wealthy builder and real estate operator, had given her.

Gwendolysm: "Oh well! When Morris buys jewels he buys collections."

Preparing for an important party Mrs. Cafritz confided the guest list to one reporter.

Gwendolysm: "I've got quite a collection of ambassadors, but I've expurgated the congressmen from this list."

Mrs. Cafritz went to New York in December for the Knickerbocker ball.

Gwendolysm: "I'm glad the newspaper strike is over—it's so much more fun to read about a party the next day."

Mrs. Cafritz likes to collect new menu ideas on her frequent trips to Europe. Last summer she returned from across the Atlantic aglow with triumph.

Gwendolysm: "I've worked out a menu around pink champagne."

The Cafritzes live in a big white palace with a pink roof, atop a ridge at 2801 Foxhall Rd., one of the most imposing neighborhoods in Washington.

Their vast modern drawing room is two stories high and done in dull pastels. The far wall is covered with a mural of very tall, very breezily dressed women. From the window guests can view the graceful lighted pencil of the Washington Monument, some four miles away across a wooded park.

Mobs At Parties

In this room collect mobs of Washingtonians, most of whom have been able to get their names in the newspapers. Limousines pull up outside on big party days, and uniformed chauffeurs wait patiently.

Providing the finest food and drink is a heavy responsibility to Mrs. Cafritz. She says:

"I take my social obligations very seriously. You know, I am sort of an unofficial ambassador's wife."

No one knows whether Mrs. Cafritz can keep her laurels once Mrs. Mesta settles back into town after some years as President Truman's ambassador to Luxembourg.

Gwen is the subject of much conversation in Washington. Among families who have been in diplomatic and official life for two or three generations there is a feeling there are better hostesses whose names never show up in the newspapers.

Having Difficulty

Right now Mrs. Cafritz is having very little luck in pulling Eisenhower administration bigwigs to her parties. Bue even her critics admit it's fun to go to them because usually they do include one or more reasonably important Washington personalities. The great Washington dinner pastime is to listen for hints dropped by political leaders.

Critics also admit she supplies good food. Also the gentlemen find pretty, cooing Gwen restful at the end of a hard day.

A slim and dainty size 12, indeterminately fortyish, with coal black hair and big black eyes, expertly shadowed, Mrs. Cafritz exercises a little-girl air in meeting her guests.

She likes to jump fashion trends It was barely noised about that Mrs. Eisenhower likes touches of pink in her costumes when the Cafritzes gave their big Easter reception last spring. Gwen was a lovely confection, all in pink.

Gwen, Fighting Word

Gwen is a fighting word at tea tables when the subject of clothes comes up. Some think she is Washington's best dressed woman. Some think not. Says one dowager:

"Well, she goes to all the trouble European women do. If she wears a satin dress with a beaded pearl design, the same pattern in repeated on her evening bag and her satin slippers. ou know, American women don't go to that trouble."

In point of fact, Mrs. Cafritz is a European. She says she was born in Budapest to a Washington mother and a Hungarian father. They traveled. Finally she came back to Washington and married Cafritz, who a few years ago sunk some hard-earned pennies in Washington real estate and is now said to be worth millions. Of her husband, Gwen says:

"Morris was born in a very humble home here. It's gone now but he bought the whole block."

Morris is a well-mannered background at his wife's dinner parties. But one tired old social traipser remembers a dinner party wherf he had his innings. The late Chief Justice Fred Vinson was a guest. He rose and said something like this:

"I could pay my usual compliments to the lovely hostess. But tonight I want to say what a grand fellow Morris Gafritz is"

Mrs. Cafritz wore a gray pencil skirt and a gray-and-white striped blouse the day I went to see her At her neck was one of the huge emerald pieces her husband bought her when the Drexel family of Philadelphia auctioned off its heirlooms. She says the secret of a successful party is planning.

SLEUTHS FOR 35 YEARS WITHOUT MAKING ARREST

OMAHA Neb. (AP)—Meet a detective who, in 35 years of sleuthing never has made an arrest—and probably never will.

She is Mollie Lamb, a veteran Sherlock employed by the Union Pacific Railroad to track down owners of lost or unclaimed luggage, parchels, false teeth and whatnots which forgetful travelers keep leaving in washrooms, depots, baggage checkrooms and trains

From her desk at the railroad's general headquarters here she directs a search for owners of some 1,000 items annually left behind

One thing she's been impressed with: Not all of the owners want to be found

Take the case of the traveling man who checked a suitcase and forgot to claim it. From a business card in a coat pocket, Miss Lamb got his office address After two letters to the man, she got this request:

"In the suitcase, you'll find a bunch of letters. Would it be too much trouble to package the letters and send them to me at this office, marked 'personal'? Then you could ship the suitcase to my home address, as follows . . ."

Scented Letters

Miss Lamb complied. The letters, she noted, gave off the scent of perfume.

Turned in once was a costly jeweled watch. Miss Lamb checked the watch's serial number with the manufacturer who then supplied the name of the jeweler who retailed the watch as an anniversary gift for his wife.

About half of the 1,000 items lost or unclaimed in a year wind up at auction.

Most common of the articles are eye glasses, gloves, books, coats, hats, jewelry, watches, false teeth and, strangely enough, crutches.

There's a flood of rubbers and umbrellas in the spring and straw hats in the summer.

Miss Lamb's suggestion to travelers Make sure your name and address are in or on whatever you may be carrying.

U.S. Navy Sinks Craft For Divers' Practice

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP)—The Navy sinks a ship in New York harbor once a month and then brings it up again It's part of the operation of the Navy school for Salvage Divers at the Bayonne Navy Base

Each time it's a 320-ton LSI (landing ship, infantry), sunk in 20 feet of water.

The student divers aren't told what made the ship sink. They're just told to go down and fix it and get it to the surface again. When everything is shipshape, they pump air into the vessel to refloat it

Japanese Envoy And Wife Have Many U.S. Friends

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — An attractive new hostess has come from the land of the cherry blossoms to this cherry blossom-wreathed capital of the western world.

She is the dainty, cultured wife of Sadao Iguchi, the new Japanese ambassador. Iguchi replaces Eikichi Araki, first postwar ambassador to the United States, who returned to Japan before Christmas.

The Iguchis have many friends in Washington. The ambassador, a career diplomat, was counselor at the embassy here before the war. He also served as consul in Chicago and New York. More recently he has been ambassador to Canada.

Mrs. Iguchi, whose first name, Masako, means "Crystal Clear," is the daughter of Kenkichi Yoshizawa, veteran diplomat of Japan, who is now ambassador to the Republic of China at Taipeh, Formosa.

Speaks Fluent English

A graduate of the famous Sutaba Girls High School of Tokyo and the Peeress' School for the daughters of Japanese noble families, Mrs. Iguchi, like her husband, speaks fluent English as well as several other languages. She is fond of music and the drama, enjoys a game of tennis and is an accomplished hostess, though she prefers small informal parties to the big lavish official functions she is called upon to give.

The Iguchis have three children, Tatsuko, 24, a graduate of Tokyo Women's College and former exchange student from Japan to the University of California, who will live at the embassy, and two sons Takeo, 23, a graduate of Tokyo University, passed the diplomatic service examination of the Japanese government and is now in London. Norio, 21, is a drama student at Yale University.

When Araki, a widower, was here his young daughter, Tomiko, served as his official hostess for a time. When she went to New York to study voice the charming Mrs. Ryuji Takeuchi, wife of the first minister and charge d'affaires, took over.

The Takeuchis, who have been here two and a half years, are returning to Japan next month. Takeuchi will be chief of the European and American bureau of Japan's foreign ministry.

Church Building Gone But Services Continue

ORANGE, Mass. (AP)—A Universalist parish which has had no church or formal religious services for nearly 18 years observed the 25th anniversary recently of its monthly vespers.

The parish once had members in the towns of Dana and North Dana, Mass. These communities were wiped out when a huge reservoir supplying the Boston area was completed in 1936. Dana vespers had become a tradition by then, and they still are being held. Forty members of the original church membership are among the 141 who form the parish today.

Money from a trust fund provides for 12 services every year and usually enough for a "bonus" offering annually.

BRITISH BIRTHS INCREASE

LONDON (AP)—The British ministry of health says 682,007 babies were born last year, several thousand more than in any of the previous five years but still 196,992 below the post-war peak in 1947.

CITY GARDENS ARE NEW LURE

CHICAGO (AP) — Town house garden apartments are now being tried to lure suburbanites back to the city.

A new $800,000 development on Chicago's South Side calls for construction of 64 garden units at 48th St. and Drexel Boulevard. The project will serve as a pilot plan for future low cost homes designed to eliminate slum and blight areas through the initiative of private enterprise.

Officials of the development say this is an effective means of neighborhood rejuvenation. It will utilize facilities of schools, parks, public transportation, police and fire protection already established in a large city.

Bertrand Goldberg the architect, also designed the 9 million dollar North Kansas City "Dynamic Triangle" for which he won the Progressive Architect's annual award in 1953.

Each town house unit will sell for about $12,500 and can be had for $2,500 down, with monthly mortgage payments of $70.

Each two-story unit will have six rooms—a living room, an outside walled-in patio, living-kitchen, and a bath on the downstairs level. The second floor will contain master bedroom and two smaller bedrooms which can be opened into one large room by folding back accordion type doors.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A year ago Mrs. Martin W. Lidstone was Savings Bank and present a $5 savings account to a newborn child. Annually Hartford's mutual savings banks conduct Thrift Week and the banks take turns daily in presenting $5 accounts to new citizens.

This year Mrs. Lidstone, new accounts teller at State Savings Bank, gave birth to son, Neil, at Hartford hospital.

She was presented the $5 account for Neil by the rival Mechanics Savings Bank. Neil arrived in the middle of Thrift Week but too late to receive the $5 from his mother's place of employment.

FIRM SEEKS TO SALVAGE GOLD

WIJDE WORMER, Netherlands (AP)—A Dutch salvage firm this summer will try to recover 20 million dollars in gold from the German vessel Renate Leonhardt, torpedoed in 1917.

A Dutch group has formed a cooperative salvage firm, which has spent years on preparations. About 60 per cent of its capital was pledged by unidentified Canadian sources; 40 per cent is Dutch.

One of the firm's officials, Piet Visser, 51, says that after he got a concession in 1939 to salvage the cargo, he started charting the exact place of the ship five miles off the coast, outside the Dutch territorial waters. The outbreak of World War II prevented further investigations. After the war, he charted the whole ship accurately. It now rests under 70 feet of water, a 10-foot solid layer of clay and another 10-foot layer of mud.

A work shop topped by a 60-foot funnel is under construction.

Under favorable weather conditions the huge iron structure 86 feet high, weighing nearly 1,000 tons will be placed on the ship's wreck this summer.

This iron workshop will be secured on the clay layer. Through the floor a wide tube will be sunk into one of the Renate's hatches to allow divers working around the clock, to snatch away the millions.

The salvage operations will be directed by J. Adriaanse, a retired chief diving instructor of the Royal Dutch Navy.

Bedding Needs Special Spring Cleaning Job

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

SPRING CLEANING includes bedding too. Years ago the homemaker wasn't averse to joining her neighbors in a mass morning sunning and airing of bedding over the window sill, porch railing or backyard clothesline. This is a practice that has been made almost obsolete by the rapid growth of cities and towns.

During the spring, bedding may be aired discreetly at open windows, hung over a line of chairs. A good thorough cleaning may be given to mattress, spring, cover, pad and pillow every few months, but with special zip in the spring.

Here are some suggestions formulated by cleanliness experts to help in a more effective cleaning job for bedding:

MATTRESS — Every mattress should have a thorough vacuuming once a week. Turn them frequently to avoid developing uncomfortable hollows and to preserve a firm contour. At regular intervals during the year—as well as spring—your mattress needs an all-over scrubbing. Work on small areas at a time, using soap jelly whipped into a lather and as little moisture as possible. One side of the mattress should dry before the other side is tackled. If possible this job should be done in the sunshine. A good day is essential to speed the drying process and leave the mattress fragrant. An electric fan may be used in an emergency.

Foam rubber mattresses must be washed quickly, without too much moisture. This is a long-drying material.

PADS AND COVERS — slide fastened covers of pre-shrunk muslin are washed easily by hand or machine, need no ironing. Plastics may be sponged clean with warm suds right on the bed, wiped with a rinse cloth, then wiped completely dry. Pads should be washed, rinsed and placed lengthwise over a parallel clothes line to dry. Quilted pads should not be ironed as air space in the stuffing is necessary to keep pads puffy and absorbent. Reverse pads during drying, shaking them vigorously to encourage fluffiness.

PILLOWS — Feather, foam rubber, or dacron pillows may be washed easily. Just squeeze the pillow gently in warm soapy suds. Two sudsings are better than one. Three rinsings are better than two. Never wring the pillow, especially if filled with foam rubber. Put your foam rubber pillow on a flat surface after it has been rinsed. Press excess moisture but with clean bath towels applied to each side. Let the pillow lie flat to dry at room temperature, never in direct sunlight. Feather pillows should be squeezed gently, but may be hung on a line to dry. Plump them frequently to distribute the feathers. Dacron filled pillows can be machine washed, dried in a jiffy.

BED SPRINGS — Treat box-type springs as you would the traditional mattress. The blower vacuum attachment is wonderful for ridding flat or open-type springs of dust and dirt. Spread a damp cloth or paper beneath the springs to catch the dust. Go over wire springs with a cloth wrung out in soapsuds. To prevent the chance of rust, finish off the operation with a cloth dampened with a few drops of lemon oil.

Ocean Study Group Releases $1 Bottles

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. (AP)—Keep your eyes open for a floating or stranded bottle.

It could be one of 800 released in this vicinity by vessels of the Woods Hole, Mass., Oceanographic Institution. Each bottle contains a postal card asking the finder to fill in the date and location of the bottle. The finder gets a dollar.

In 1951, one man located 61 bottles in two days.

IT COMES NATURALLY

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—When Police Chief Joe Bosler, attending ceremonies at the airport here, put his pipe in his pocket and accidentally set his overcoat on fire, Dick Evans, standing nearby, quickly beat out the fire.

Evans is the fire chief.

ten years ago the rear half of the room was added as was the large shoe department in what is now the rear of the establishment.

Many of the "lines" of clothing carried on the opening day of the store 20 years ago are still features of the establishment's offerings. Cinderella frocks for youngsters, Winnie Mae house dresses, Rite-Fit half size line of dresses, and Budster coats, for youngsters, were the basis of the original store's selections and still are.

A salesman who came to the store 18 years ago to attempt to sell goods has become one-half of the enterprise. Paul Littleton, then a salesman, and Mrs. Littleton were wed 17 years ago. Mr. Littleton continued on the road for a number of years, but six years ago the increased business of the Rose Ann Shoppe meant that full time help had to be given there, and he became a full time partner in the operation of the store.

In observance of the anniversary the store is planning to give nylon hose as gifts with each purchase of a $5.95 or better dress. In addition movie tickets are to be given to purchasers of Cinderella frocks and special lowered prices are being set on many items.

N. Korean Port City Claims Building Boom

TOYKO (AP)—Peiping radio says that Hamhung in Communist-ruled northeast Korea has come back to life during the armistice after having been 97 per cent wrecked by Allied plans during the war.

A recent broadcast said the revived coast city now has 45,000 wooden and brick buildings, a university, five technical schools, nine "middle" schools, 12 primary schools, a school for Chinese Nationals, 78 "state-owned stores," three movie houses and one legitimate theater.

Allied forces pulled back through Hamhung to Wonsam, then withdrew in ships on Christmas, 1950, after encountering overwhelming numbers of Chinese.

Math Formula Equals 1 Admission To Dance

BALTIMORE (AP)—Algebra professors may not agree, but sponsors of the sophomore prom at Towson High School have declared $\frac{x}{15}x\frac{15}{y}$ equals 1.

Somebody counterfeited $1 and $2 tickets to the prom the other day. The phonies trickled onto the market at 25 cents a copy. The sponsors called in buyers of the genuine article and stamped their tickets with the distinguishing symbols "$\frac{x}{15}x\frac{15}{y}$."

And, on the night of the prom, anyway, $\frac{x}{15}x\frac{15}{y}$ equalled 1 admission.

Judge Tells Culprit 'It's In The Book'

BOSTON (AP)— Municipal Court Judge Elijah Adlow listened to the testimony of Fred White, 60, and acquitted him of a charge that he kicked his upstairs neighbor. White said that at the time of the alleged offense he was reading a book — "Policemen and the People," written by Judge Elijah Adlow.

The Judge counselled White: "Why don't you move from where you live — and take my book with you?"

Youth Against Stripes Now Clothed In Them

DES MOINES (AP)—An inquiring reporter interviewed six persons the other day on whether they would approve issuing striped automobile registration plates to drivers who repeatedly violate traffic laws.

Only one, a youth, was strongly opposed. A couple of days later he was sent to jail for allowing two companions to drive recklessly in his car on two different occasions.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania State University has an "ice cream short course." Some 35 Pennsylvania have enrolled for study designed to teach fundamentals in management of ice cream plants.

Wives Of Congressmen Try To Make Their Hats

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Because they need so many hats, gadding about Washington as they do, wives of members of Congress decided to cut down on their millinery bills by learning to do over some of their old ones.

Sixteen of the ladies, all members of the Congressional Club, made up of congressmen's wives, took lessons from an expert, Mrs. R. C. Resides of New York, who was in the capital to teach a class at the YWCA.

Chic Mrs. Abernethy, wife of the Democratic congressman from Mississippi, was chairman of the group, which included the wives of these congressmen, to mention a few: Mrs. Gerald R. Ford, Jr. (R.-Mich.), Mrs. E. E. Willis (D.-La.), Mrs. H. C. Ostertag (R.-N.Y.), Mrs. Clair Engle (D.-Calif.), Mrs. Alfred D. Sieminski (D.-N.J.) and Mrs. Harold Pattern (D.-Ariz.)

Not only were they told how to do over a hat, or make a new one, but how to wear a hat and how to buy one.

"We were told never to buy a hat sitting down and never to pay $40 for a number unless it was a style that could be worn several seasons," one of the millinery pupils explained.

Mrs. Clifford McIntyre, wife of the Republican congressman from Maine, made herself a tricky little number of four yards of shiny black straw braid with a tiny veil. Total cost: $2.50. Mrs. Walter Riehlman, wife of the Republican congressman from New York, whipped up a diller in navy straw braid, and Mrs. Pattern produced a pixie hat of pink straw, topped with a rose.

"Our husbands thought we were real smart," Mrs. McIntyre said, "but they laughed when we brought wooden heads home to use for blocking our hats."

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, wife of the Texas senator and Democratic minority leader, was christened Claudia Alta Taylor, but no one has ever called her anything but Lady Bird since she was given that name by the family's colored nursemaid at the age of two months.

Soft And Flattering

Some of the new dress suits are as soft and flattering as cocktail dresses, with low, open necklines and slim, fitted midriffs. The aim of practically all designers is to accent the natural lines of the figure, and they achieve this goal in varied ways.

Some use curving seams about the bust, others introduce a crushed cummerbund midriff on dressy suits.

In all instances fabrics are light as a thistle, whether they be wools, silks or blends. As a matter of fact, its hard to tell the silks from the wools this spring, so skillful is the work of the fabric manufacturers. There are nubby silk tweeds that look like wools, and there are gossamer light wools that look like silk.

Even wool tweeds are of chiffon weights this season, with handsome textured surface such as is familiar in heavier weights, but so light that you can see through them.

Stove Oil Runs Cars —But Not For Long

PORTLAND (AP) — The mystery of the missing stove oil in a Portland residential neighborhood has been solved.

His son, who is a hot rod enthusiast, along with half a dozen others in the neighborhood, complained that his car needed a push to get it started. The engine was sluggish. Soon the parent noticed other jalopies were having similar troubles. He asked the owners if the engine could have any connection with the frequent loss of stove oil from the family tank. It had.

Gasoline costs around 30 cents a gallon, stove oil 16½.

Tanks in the cars to hold the oil and valves permit them to start with regular gasoline. Then when the manifold is hot, they switch to stove oil. And the cars function satisfactorily. Except that ultimately the engines gum up.

Power has been produced before by coal-burning gas turbines but Prof. Donald Louis Mordell inventor of an "operating cycle" which ensures that only clean air comes into contact with the turbine. A U. S. firm developed an unsuccessful prototype gas-turbine locomotive several years ago. On trial runs ashes got mixed up with the gas and ground the turbine blades to pieces.

It has been estimated that a coal-burning gas turbine locomotive could haul trains four times as far as a present-day steam locomotive with the same amount of coal. Fuel costs would be a third as much as for present diesel locomotives. The new locomotive could use lower grades of coal than steam engines.

DEATH BACKS PETITION

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Those signing a petition to have the city mark with white lines the street cross walks at 30th St. and Adams Ave. included James McMahon, 78. Later, McMahon was hit and killed by an automobile while crossing at the intersection. The city council was then told that crosswalk markings and lighting would be placed there immediately by the street department.

Fish Costs Operator 34-Year Car Record

DALLAS (AP)—In 34 years of driving Mrs. Clarence Kimber had never dented a fender. Then she bought a gold fish in a small carton of water. She put it on the front seat of her car.

As she rounded a curve on the way home, the carton started to slide off the seat.

Mrs. Kimber grabbed for the fish, the car jumped a curb and smashed into a tree. It cost $80 to repair.

The gold fish lost its water supply and apparently was dead by the time Mrs. Kimber got home. She put it on the kitchen drain board and forgot about it. Some time later she put the fish in water. It revived and was apparently none the worse for wear.

PLANES REPLACE MEN

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — Sheepherders, once scarce and expensive in eastern Montana, no longer are in demand there. An Albion area sheepman, James Courtney, says sheepmen in his area have fenced their ranges and use airplanes to herd their sheep.

SCIENTISTS PUSH TURBINE TESTS

MONTREAL (AP)—McGill University scientists have made the first successful tests with a coal-burning gas turbine engine that may bring about a revolution in railway operations.

Concern over the future of vast Canadian coal reserves led the federal government to ask McGill scientists to develop the engine.

It is not a prototype for a locomotive or for other uses but it is expected to provide all the answers scientists need to know before the engine can be developed commercially.

EASTER SUITS "INSPIRED" BY WEATHER MAN

The Associated Press

There's a new look about this year's Easter suits that marks them strictly 1954.

First in importance is the fabric, which is lighter in weight than ever before, with colors tending toward pale beiges, grays and off-whites, in addition, of course, to the perennial navy.

Designers have considered our changing weather this year, and have produced spring tailleurs which can be worn almost the year round. Many are dress-and-jacket costumes, which peel for comfort on warm days.

Jackets are likely to have open necklines, for air-conditioned business, short or push-up sleeves and smooth, fluid lines. The day of the mannish tailored suit is past, with today's accent on curving lines and feminine detail.

Shoulders are natural, with little padding. Skirts are slim, for the most part, but the woman who insists on skirt fullness can find it. With at the top is achieved often by sleeves rounded between shoulder and elbow.

Some of the new dress suits are as soft and flattering as cocktail dresses, with low, open necklines and slim, fitted midriffs. The aim of practically all designers is to accent the natural lines of the figure, and they achieve this goal in varied ways.

Some use curving seams about the bust, others introduce a crushed cummerbund midriff on dressy suits.

In all instances fabrics are light as a thistle, whether they be wools, silks or blends. As a matter of fact, its hard to tell the silks from the wools this spring, so skillful is the work of the fabric manufacturers. There are nubby silk tweeds that look like wools, and there are gossamer light wools that look like silk.

Even wool tweeds are of chiffon weights this season, with handsome textured surface such as is familiar in heavier weights, but so light that you can see through them.

SCIENTISTS PUSH TURBINE TESTS

MONTREAL (AP)—McGill University scientists have made the first successful tests with a coal-burning gas turbine engine that may bring about a revolution in railway operations.

Concern over the future of vast Canadian coal reserves led the federal government to ask McGill scientists to develop the engine.

It is not a prototype for a locomotive or for other uses but it is expected to provide all the answers scientists need to know before the engine can be developed commercially.

Power has been produced before by coal-burning gas turbines but Prof. Donald Louis Mordell invented an "operating cycle" which ensures that only clean air comes into contact with the turbine. A U. S. firm developed an unsuccessful prototype gas-turbine locomotive several years ago. On trial runs ashes got mixed up with the gas and ground the turbine blades to pieces.

It has been estimated that a coal-burning gas turbine locomotive could haul trains four times as far as a present-day steam locomotive with the same amount of coal. Fuel costs would be a third as much as for present diesel locomotives. The new locomotive could use lower grades of coal than steam engines.

DEATH BACKS PETITION

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Those signing a petition to have the city mark with white lines the street cross walks at 30th St. and Adams Ave. included James McMahon, 78. Later, McMahon was hit and killed by an automobile while crossing at the intersection. The city council was then told that crosswalk markings and lighting would be placed there immediately by the street department.

MODIFICATION OF DAIRY PRICE CUTBACK TOSSED OUT BY BENSON

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Laird (R-Wis) has disclosed a modification of the cutback in dairy price supports had the tentative approval of President Eisenhower but Secretary of Agriculture Benson knocked it out.

"A source close to President Eisenhower called a House Republican leader and said that Benson told the President that he would quit as secretary of agriculture if he was forced to change his position," Laird said in an interview.

About a month ago, Benson ordered a cut in the support prices of butter, cheese and dried milk from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, effective at midnight Wednesday.

The change is expected to bring a cut of about 8 cents a pound in butter prices.

Laird, working with members from other dairy states, called the cut too drastic and sought a modification. Benson held firm, citing the millions of pounds of dairy products already acquired by the government.

Laird said that as late as last Friday it appeared that Benson's order would be changed to provide support prices after April 1 of 82½ per cent of parity instead of 75

Issued Ultimatum

Laird said he conferred at the White House with Wilton B. Persons, presidential liaison man with Congress, about the support level.

"It was my understanding last week that President Eisenhower was perfectly agreeable to modification of the order to make the cut only 82½ per cent instead of 75," Laird said.

"Contacts were made with Secretary Benson. But Benson received support for his position from various state farm bureaus and he believed his position was sound.

"The information I received from very high sources is that, when the President sought to have Benson change his position, the secretary informed him that he would not have a secretary of agriculture if he insisted."

Founded By W. J. Collins

The recently-completed 30 x 100 cement-block structure is located four and one-half miles south of Gettysburg on the Baltimore Pike. The building houses a 20 x 30 showroom.

The business was founded by William J. Collins who traveled by horse and wagon in the late 1800's to install the first iron pump in this section of the county.

The hardy founder was assisted by a son, L. U. Collins, from 1900 until 1939, when the third generation—represented by L. William Collins—assumed active management of the business.

L. U. Collins and Son now distribute many types of pumps, plumbing, and heating supplies while handling repair, installation, and supply work.

Doctor Opens Child's Chest To Reach Heart

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fifteen-month-old Jo Ann Yurick stopped breathing during a choking spell at her home last night. Quickly Dr. Harry Hall slit open her chest with a razor blade and massaged her heart until it started beating again.

The child died later, however, at a hospital despite efforts to revive her with plasma and oxygen.

SUSQUEHANNA MILLS MERGES

NEW YORK (AP)—The merger of Susquehanna Mills, Inc., into H & B American Machine Co. of Chicago has gone into effect with Susquehanna's big mill at Sunbury, Pa., continuing as a textile operation.

The merger became a fact yesterday following approval of the plan by a committee of Susquehanna's creditors. The action apparently quashed an alternate merger offer from General Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio.

Plant To Continue

The merger completion with H & B was confirmed by Susquehanna President Kenneth B. Cook, who also said that the Sunbury plant would continue to operate.

The fact that Susquehanna—which produces woolens and plastic fabrics—has sustained severe losses in the last two years was reported a major factor in H & B's decision to make its merger offer. H & B received Susquehanna's assets in exchange for stock. The new company retains the H & B name and will be operated by the old H & B management, headed by President Victor Nemeroff.

H & B makes drop forgings, sheet metal parts and aircraft products.

Machine Sorts Cut Flowers By Weight

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — In cut flowers it isn't the smell nor the color that determines quality, it's the weight, say the specialists.

Arthur Leach of Manchester, N. H., a graduate student at Cornell University, has constructed a machine that grades flowers by weight. Patterned after an egg-grader, the gadget handles 120 dozen flowers an hour.

The machine makes possible standard grades — special, fancy, extra, first — which means something to the grower if not to the customer. Previously each grower separated the blooms according to his own system and the retailer had to regrade to satisfy his customers.

Bedding Needs Special Spring Cleaning Job

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

SPRING CLEANING includes bedding too. Years ago the homemaker wasn't avere to joining her neighbors in a mass morning sunning and airing of bedding over the window sill, porch railing or backyard clothesline. This is a practice that has been made almost obsolete by the rapid growth of cities and towns.

During the spring, bedding may be aired discreetly at open windows, hung over a line of chairs A good thorough cleaning may be given to mattress, spring, cover, pad and pillow every few months but with special zip in the spring.

Here are some suggestions formulated by cleanliness experts to help in a more effective cleaning job for bedding:

MATTRESS — Every mattress should have a thorough vacuuming once a week. Turn them frequently to avoid developing uncomfortable hollows and to preserve a firm contour. At regular intervals during the year—as well as spring—your mattress needs an all-over scrubbing. Work on small areas at a time, using soap jelly whipped into a lather and as little moisture as possible. One side of the mattress should dry before the other side is tackled. If possible this job should be done in the sunshine. A good day is essential to speed the drying process and leave the mattress fragrant. An electric fan may be used in an emergency.

Foam rubber mattresses must be washed quickly, without too much moisture. This is a long-drying material.

PADS AND COVERS — Slide fastened covers of pre-shrunk muslin are washed easily by hand or machine, need no ironing Plastics may be sponged clean with warm suds right on the bed, wiped with a rinse cloth, then wiped completely dry. Pads should be washed, rinsed and placed lengthwise over a parallel clothes line to dry Quilted pads should not be ironed as air space in the stuffing is necessary to keep pads puffy and absorbent Reverse pads during drying, shaking them vigorously to encourage fluffiness.

PILLOWS — Feather foam rubber, or dacron pillows may be washed easily Just squeeze the pillow gently in warm soap suds Two sudsings are better than one Three rinsings are better than two Never wring the pillow, especially if filled with foam rubber. Put your foam rubber pillow on a flat surface after it has been rinsed. Press excess moisture but with clean bath towels applied to each side Let the pillow lie flat to dry at room temperature, never in direct sunlight Feather pillows should be squeezed gently, but may be hung on a line to dry. Plump them frequently to distribute the feathers Dacron filled pillows can be machine washed, dried in a jiffy

BED SPRINGS — Treat box-type springs as you would the traditional mattress The blower vacuum attachment is wonderful for ridding flat or open-type springs of dust and dirt. Spread a damp cloth or paper beneath the springs to catch the dust. Go over wire springs with a cloth wrung out in soapsuds To prevent the chance of rust finish off the operation with a cloth dampened with a few drops of lemon oil

Many of the "lines" of clothing carried on the opening day of the store 20 years ago are still features of the establishment's offerings. Cinderella frocks for youngsters, Winnie Mae house dresses, Rite-Fit half size line of dresses, and Budster coats, for youngsters, were the basis of the original store's selections and still are.

A salesman who came to the store 18 years ago to attempt to sell goods has become one-half of the enterprise Paul Littleton, then a salesman, and Mrs. Littleton were wed 17 years ago. Mr. Littleton continued on the road for a number of years, but six years ago the increased business of the Rose Ann Shoppe meant that full time help had to be given there, and he became a full time partner in the operation of the store

MARSHAL JUIN OF FRANCE LOSES MILITARY POSTS

PARIS (AP)—France's government fired Marshal Alphonse Juin today from the nation's two top military strategy posts. It appeared likely he also would lose his NATO job as commander of land, sea and air forces in central Europe.

The Cabinet ordered the outspoken, 65-year-old marshal removed from his French military posts—adviser to the government on defense strategy and vice president of the National Superior Council for Armed Forces—after he refused Premier Joseph Laniel's summons to explain his public criticism last weekend of the proposed European Defense Community (EDC).

The firing touched off a furor in France comparable to that in America following then President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Opponents in Parliament of EDC led the critics of the French government action.

Ranking Military Man

Since the presidency of the National Superior Council is held by President of the Republic Rene Coty, Juin actually was the ranking French military man in questions of strategy.

Paris newspapers agreed the French government, which had nominated Juin for his NATO post, now had no choice except to ask the NATO Council and the Supreme Allied commander in Europe, U. S. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, to dismiss him.

A spokesman at SHAPE, Gruenther's headquarters near Paris, said SHAPE has nothing to say on Juin's discharge.

In the French Senate, supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle interrupted debate on the national defense budget to protest the discharge.

Laniel had asked Juin to come to his office last night to explain his speech to a reserve officers group last weekend in which he said that EDC was unwieldy and should be replaced by some other arrangement.

Reprimanded, Dismissed

After Juin had failed to show up, the Cabinet in an extraordinary session reprimanded him and dismissed him from his two posts for discourtesy and disobedience to the government. He also had ignored a 15-year-old law requiring him to submit to the government in advance any speeches he planned to make.

The action did not affect his rank of marshal, an irrevocable lifetime rank which he himself cannot resign.

Instead of meeting Laniel, Juin went to a reserve officers' dinner in a Paris restaurant and repeated his criticism of EDC.

"To prevent a conspiracy of silence against the country," he declared, "I have forced the issue, fully conscious of my responsibilities. I believe a common-sense solution—a middle - of - the - road solution—can be found for this problem."

Mrs. Dolores S. Sheppard of Milford asked compensation after the Cincinnati & Southern Bell Telephone Co. moved its Milford office to Batavia.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and its board of review said she was not entitled to the checks because she was physically unfit for employment.

Judge Britton said yesterday the board's decision was "unlawful, unreasonable and against the manifest of evidence." He ordered it to reconsider the case.

SUN OIL CO. REPORTS NEAR RECORD PROFIT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sun Oil Co. has reported profits of $45,153,602, or $5.85 a share, during 1953, the second highest on record. Business volume was the greatest in Sun's history.

"Sun oil set a new postwar records in all operations," President Robert G. Dunlop said yesterday, "and for the first time paid wages and salaries in excess of 100 million dollars to employes in the oil division of the business, as distinct from Sun Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., a subsidiary."

In 1952 Sun Oil's net income was $43,013,063 and $6.01 a share.

The company's gross operating income increased 8.6 per cent—from $617,390,185 in 1952, to $670,787,391 last year.

Increased Reserves

Dunlop said the firm produced 42,975,000 net barrels of crude oil and natural gas liquids and increased proved reserves to 750 million barrels.

In addition it completed a total of 605 wells, of which 73 per cent were producers, compared with 614 in 1952 when 64 per cent were successful. The company increased by 25 per cent its combined operating capacity of its tanker fleet and trunk pipe line systems.

"Our planning and activities over the post war years were undertaken with an eye on the day when a buyer's market would require strenuous competitive effort by sellers," Dunlop said. "That day is now with us. Sun is prepared for it. From 1946 to 1953, inclusive, we spent 620 million dollars to rebuild, modernize and expand facilities.

"Our aim was to combat rising costs, to maintain and increase proved reserves, to upgrade the quality of products, to maximize the yield of higher value products and to improve transportation and marketing efficiency."

Iowa Mayor Wants Scaled Meter Rates

JEFFERSON, Iowa (AP) — Mayor L. E. (Tex) Fay has made a tongue-in-cheek suggestion for increasing parking meter revenues here. His plan:

Dollars meters in front of the banks, 50-cent meters in front of "coffee joints," penny and nickel meters elsewhere in the business district "for the poor folks."

IKE'S HOUSING PLAN TO PASS AS HE ASKED IT

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders predicted today President Eisenhower's embattled housing program would emerge from the House just about the way the President asked for it.

They commented after the House passed and sent to the Senate late yesterday a bill carrying $5,566,118,763 for housing agencies, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Veterans Administration, TVA and other independent federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The bill was stripped of any new authority for the government to build new low-rent public housing projects. Eisenhower and top House leaders accepted the interpretation that they could build 35,000 new units next year under previous acts. This view was disputed by other veteran GOP members.

To Debate Today

House leaders called up for debate today a wide-ranging bill carrying out Eisenhower's proposals for slum clearance and easier loan terms for buying or improving homes. No conclusive voting is likely before tomorrow.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said Republicans would sponsor an amendment to this bill to authorize construction of 35,000 more public housing units in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1955.

Eisenhower had requested authority to build 35,000 units each year for the next four years—a total of 140,000. But Martin said authority to build 70,000 units over the next two years would be satisfactory to the administration, with the program for the other two years to be considered later.

Worthless Check Was Christmas Present

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Henry Henderson, 47, was charged yesterday with writing worthless checks, including one for $60 given to a friend last Christmas Eve with instructions to "live big."

Asked by Magistrate Vincent Dean whether he purchased his checks at a bank, Henderson replied with a look of astonishment: "Of course not, I deal only at banks where you get them free."

Dean ordered him held in $2,500 bail.

Builders Pre-Stress Concrete Structure

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Engineers squeezing a four-story, million dollar building to give it greater strength and load-carrying qualities. Scheduled for completion by December, 1954, it is said by the architect-engineers to be the first multi-storied structure in the nation employing pre-stressed concrete.

The big squeeze is done by running quarter-inch steel wires across the width of the beams and along the length of the floor slabs. As the concrete sets these wires are tightened by special jacks, thus squeezing or shrinking the concrete and getting rid of the pull-apart tendency in advance.

The structure is 46 feet wide; the shrinkage will be about one-eighth of an inch.

Londoners To Hear Cockney Bells Again

LONDON (AP)—The war blitzed church of St. Mary-le-Bow is being restored and in time, cockney children will again be born "within the sound of Bow Bells."

However, it may be four years before the famous Christopher Wren church with its 12 bells will rise on its Cheapside site not far from St. Paul's Cathedral. It dates back to 1680.

The word "cockney" is a collequial term applied to Londoners generally who can produce an accent all their own. By popular agreement those born within the sound of Bow Bells can claim rightful cockney origin.

Portuguese Provide Town For Emigrants

LUANDA, Portugese Anzola (AP)—Cela, a village which did not exist a year ago, is forming. With population pressure going up in the poorer provinces of Portugal the government tried to make room for emigrants.

In the Angola highlands a site was found and ground prepared for settlers. It was a complete neighborhood from one of Portugal's villages. While the first fields were ploughed and corn and sweet potatoes were raised, the village church was completed together with a school.

10 TRIES, 10 FAILURES

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Alexander W. Andrews of Shadyside, Md., has sought public office 10 times since moving to Shadyside 35 years ago from Gloucester, Mass. He has never been elected, but was beaten in the primary only once. He filed yesterday for the fifth straight time as a candidate for the board of Anne Arundel County commissioners.

MODIFICATION OF DAIRY PRICE CUTBACK TOSSED OUT BY BENSON

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Laird (R-Wis) has disclosed a modification of the cutback in dairy price supports had the tentative approval of President Eisenhower but Secretary of Agriculture Benson knocked it out.

"A source close to President Eisenhower called a House Republican leader and said that Benson told the President that he would quit as secretary of agriculture if he was forced to change his position," Laird said in an interview.

About a month ago, Benson ordered a cut in the support prices of butter, cheese and dried milk from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, effective at midnight Wednesday.

The change is expected to bring a cut of about 8 cents a pound in butter prices.

Laird, working with members from other dairy states, called the cut too drastic and sought a modification. Benson held firm, citing the millions of pounds of dairy products already acquired by the government.

Laird said that as late as last Friday it appeared that Benson's order would be changed to provide support prices after April 1 of 82½ per cent of parity instead of 75

Issued Ultimatum

Laird said he conferred at the White House with Wilton B. Persons, presidential liaison man with Congress, about the support level.

"It was my understanding last week that President Eisenhower was perfectly agreeable to modification of the order to make the cut only 82½ per cent instead of 75," Laird said.

"Contacts were made with Secretary Benson. But Benson received support for his position from various state farm bureaus and he believed his position was sound.

"The information I received from very high sources is that, when the President sought to have Benson change his position, the secretary informed him that he would not have a secretary of agriculture if he insisted."

throughout the day and evening.

Founded By W. J. Collins

The recently-completed 30 x 100 cement-block structure is located four and one-half miles south of Gettysburg on the Baltimore Pike. The building houses a 20 x 30 showroom.

The business was founded by William J. Collins who traveled by horse and wagon in the late 1800's to install the first iron pump in this section of the county.

The hardy founder was assisted by a son, L. U. Collins, from 1900 until 1939, when the third generation—represented by L. William Collins—assumed active management of the business.

L. U. Collins and Son now distribute many types of pumps, plumbing, and heating supplies while handling repair, installation, and supply work.

Doctor Opens Child's Chest To Reach Heart

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fifteen-month-old Jo Ann Yurick stopped breathing during a choking spell at her home last night. Quickly Dr. Harry Hall slit open her chest with a razor blade and massaged her heart until it started beating again.

The child died later, however, at a hospital despite efforts to revive her with plasma and oxygen.

SUSQUEHANNA MILLS MERGES

NEW YORK (AP)—The merger of Susquehanna Mills, Inc., into H & B American Machine Co. of Chicago has gone into effect with Susquehanna's big mill at Sunbury, Pa., continuing as a textile operation.

The merger became a fact yesterday following approval of the plan by a committee of Susquehanna's creditors. The action apparently quashed an alternate merger offer from General Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio.

Plant To Continue

The merger completion with H & B was confirmed by Susquehanna President Kenneth B. Cook, who also said that the Sunbury plant would continue to operate.

The fact that Susquehanna—which produces woolens and plastic fabrics—has sustained severe losses in the last two years was reported a major factor in H & B's decision to make its merger offer. H & B received Susquehanna's assets in exchange for stock. The new company retains the H & B name and will be operated by the old H & B management, headed by President Victor Nemeroff.

H & B makes drop forgings, sheet metal parts and aircraft products.

The Rev. John R. Gunville, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, Harrisburg, appointed administrator pro tem at Williamstown Parish during Father Crowley's absence.

The Rev. Francis B. Kaminsky transferred from assistant pastor at the Williamstown parish to assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, Harrisburg.

Machine Sorts Cut Flowers By Weight

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — In cut flowers it isn't the smell nor the color that determines quality, it's the weight, say the specialists.

Arthur Leach of Manchester, N. H., a graduate student at Cornell University, has constructed a machine that grades flowers by weight. Patterned after an egg-grader, the gadget handles 120 dozen flowers an hour.

The machine makes possible standard grades — special, fancy, extra, first — which means something to the grower if not to the customer. Previously each grower separated the blooms according to his own system and the retailer had to regrade to satisfy his customers.

JAPAN FIGHTS DOPE

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's welfare ministry plans to tighten controls on narcotic addiction in a country where the victims are estimated to exceed 1,500,000. The ministry said over 10 per cent of addicts were doctors, nurses, pharmacists and others working in the medical field.

Two Months Ago Molotov Asked Break Up Of NATO; Would Now Like To Join On Russ Conditions

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some days the world takes on an Alice-in-Wonderland look. Yesterday was one of the days.

ess than two months ago Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov demanded the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) be abolished.

Then he laughed out loud at his own gall. The Western Allies had created NATO solely as a defense against Russia.

Yesterday the Russians pulled a switch. Now, they said, they'd consider joining NATO. Once in, they'd be entitled to the West's defense secrets.

Like Jesse James In Ft. Knox

A Washington wit who heard of this said:

"That's the same as if Jesse James asked for a job in Ft. Knox, counting the gold, with the privilege of unlimited take home pay."

The State Department, much more stiffly, said:

"It is a maneuver to gain admittance within the walls of the West to undermine its security."

It may have been no such thing. The Russians may never have thought they had a chance of joining NATO, never have wanted to.

May Be Effort At Split

Their purpose, since the proposal didn't cost them a dime and might cause trouble, may have been this:

To drive a wedge between the United States and France and add to Secretary of State Dulles' problems before he ever reaches Geneva.

If this sounds at all reasonable to this country's European allies, it will make more trouble for Dulles. The Russians may have had something else in mind in the way of trouble for Dulles too.

French Wants Peace

The French, tired of fighting the Communists seven years in Indochina, want peace. This week, a month before going to Geneva to talk to the Red Chinese about peace in Korea and Indochina, Dulles bluntly said:

Talking to the Chinese Communists at Geneva doesn't mean this country recognizes them as the legitimate government of China and the United States opposes their taking China's seat in the United Nations.

The Chinese Reds reportedly want to get into the U. N. If they thought they could trade off American approval for their seating in U. N. in return for peace in Indochina, Dulles' statement may have blocked them.

Now the Russians hit back at Dulles by muddying up the waters for him on the NATO issue.

The French may have been irritated by Dulles' statement on Red China so far ahead of time. If they look on Russia's proposal about joining NATO as a way out for them from joining EDC, they may be irritated some more at Dulles' rejection.

If so, that's gravy for Molotov. While it was still March 31 when news of the Russian proposal was received n Washington, it was almost April Fool's Day in Moscow.

Iraq Wants Pipeline Built Through Syria

BEIRUT (AP)—Iraq wants a big oil pipeline planned to end in Haifa in Israel to be diverted through Syria to the Lebanon coast. The line was partially built in 1948 but was never finished because of the Israel-Arab war which still is going on despite a cease fire.

If the line were completed by the new route it could increase by 7½ million tons the 36 million tons now pumped through Lebanon, Iraq, officials say.

Meanwhile, officials of the Iraq Petroleum Co., dominated by the British have denied that the big, idle oil refinery in Haifa will be moved to Lebanon.

Smith Family Serves Va. Telephone Users

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — If you live in northern Virginia you undoubtedly have talked to the family of Mrs. Sarah Smith, of Haymarwet. Mrs. Smith and 16 of the 19 members of her family who have served the telephone company a total of 214 years were honored by the company at a meeting here.

Mrs. Smith, mother of 11 children, said her sons and daughters and their children had helped furnish telephone service for a couple of generations and that she had 33 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren who would be ready to carry on. She was born at Manassas in 1873, or three years before Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone.

A DOGGY BITE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The glass company salesman bitten by Mrs. Louis Feller's dog when he called to give her requested information about sliding doors was named Leo Canine.

PREPARES FOR DEBUT— Soprano Mary Curtiss, Beverly, Mass., checks her makeup before appearing as Desdemona in Verdi's "Othello" at La Scala Opera House, Milan, Italy.

Attempts To Record Whale Heartbeat Fail

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—A scientific attempt to take the heart beat of a whale has failed again.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston cardiologist, was assisted by Navy and University of California oceanographers in the try to get near enough to a gray whale to harpoon it with two 28-inch darts, from which it was hoped an electrical current would record the heart beat.

The 67-year-old cardiologist, who also had the assistance of Dr. Robert King of Seattle, president of the American Heart Association, couldn't get close enough in the Navy boat to make the harpoon contacts.

He made a similar try off La Jolla last year, in the hope the experiment would support his theory that heart-beat rate is relative to size, in humans as well as other creatures.

BOYS GET PIGEONS

AUBURN, Calif. (AP)—Two boys stole 32 pigeons from merchant Jack Patrick, but police caught the boys and recovered the birds. Then Patrick, hoping to combat juvenile delinquency, gave each boy two mated pigeons to start his own flock.

College Professor Gathers Metaphors Of Ranch Country

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Many people earmark things, and talk turkey. You probably have said "it's a cinch" when you knew you could do something. And if something is haywire you know it is out of order.

Whenever you use these expressions, you are using the language of the old west.

Ranchers, cowpokes and prospectors took ordinary words, mixed them around a bit, and came worth with sayings that fill our speech to such as extent that we sometimes forget their original meaning.

Dr. George D. Hendricks, a professor at North Texas State College at Denton, Tex., has been gathering metaphors of the ranch country, checking their source, and seeing how widely they are used today. He is convinced the western expressions are here to stay.

The more than 700 expressions he has collected formed the basis of a paper he delivered recently.

"The first things to be earmarked were cattle," he says. "Everything knows what it means to horn in, to pass the buck, to keep an ear to the ground, to get down to bed rock, or to camp on someone's trail. We all regret when things don't pan out and we have to pull up stakes.

Here To Stay

"Such things are here to stay." And they came from the West.

Every cowhand knows what a four-flusher is. So do most city folk. Of a self-important person the cowboy says, "He figgers he can spit twice and stop a drought."

The rancher shows respect for the venerable man with wrinkles in his horns. A man who can mix the medicine has the ability to cope with an situation. A man who means business talks turkey. A man with courage knows how to die standing up.

Perhaps the greatest compliment any cowboy ever gave a man was "He'll do to ride the river with." The phrase refers to his ability to ride with the herd across a swollen, treacherous river.

"The whole gamut of human emotions is expressible in cow country metaphor," Hendricks explained. "If the cowboy is disgusted, he's looking for a dog to kick. If he is humiliated, he's eating drag dust—being assigned to the most humiliating trail job of dragging behind the herd.

"If he is angry, he's in a horn-tangling, sod-pawing mood. One way to clam him down is to say, 'Jest haul in yore neck, podner.'

"If he is confused or nonplussed, he's got his spurs all tangled up. If he's exuberant, he's got his wolf loose. If he's downcast, he's wearing his chin on his instep."

To kill a man is to kick him into a funeral procession; to make him into wolf meat; to put him to bed with pick and shovel. "Heading for the Last Roundup" and "Empty Saddles in the Old Corral" are popular songs taken from authentic sayings.

"A filly," says Dr. Hendricks, "is a young lady, but chivalry would not permit the use of the word mare to designate a married woman. A respectable woman is a calico, sage hen or grouse. Two terms of affection for a wife were cow bunny and long-haired partner.

The State Department, much more stiffly, said:

"It is a maneuver to gain admittance within the walls of the West to undermine its security."

It may have been no such thing. The Russians may never have thought they had a chance of joining NATO, never have wanted to.

May Be Effort At Split

Their purpose, since the proposal didn't cost them a dime and might cause trouble, may have been this:

To drive a wedge between the United States and France and add to Secretary of State Dulles' problembs before he ever reaches Geneva.

If this sounds at all reasonable to this country's European allies, it will make more trouble for Dulles. The Russians may have had something else in mind in the way of trouble for Dulles too.

French Wants Peace

The French, tired of fighting the Communists seven years in Indochina, want peace This week, a month before going to Geneva to talk to the Red Chinese about peace in Korea and Indochina, Dulles bluntly said:

Talking to the Chinese Communists at Geneva doesn't mean this country recognizes them as the legitimate government of China and the United States opposes their taking China's seat in the United Nations.

The Chinese Reds reportedly want to get into the U. N. If they thought they could trade off American approval for their seating in U. N. in return for peace in Indochina, Dulles' statement may have blocked them.

Now the Russians hit back at Dulles by muddying up the waters for him on the NATO issue.

The French may have been irritated by Dulles' statement on Red China so far ahead of time. If they look on Russia's proposal about joining NATO as a way out for them from joining EDC, they may be irritated some more at Dulles' rejection.

If so, that's gravy for Molotov While it was still March 31 when news of the Russian proposal was received n Washington, it was almost April Fool's Day in Moscow.

Iraq Wants Pipeline Built Through Syria

BEIRUT (AP)—Iraq wants a big oil pipeline planned to end in Haifa in Israel to be diverted through Syria to the Lebanon coast. The line was partially built in 1948 but was never finished because of the Israel-Arab war which still is going on despite a cease fire.

If the line were completed by the new route it could increase by 7½ million tons the 36 million tons now pumped through Lebanon, Iraq, officials say.

Meanwhile, officials of the Iraq Petroleum Co., dominated by the British have denied that the big, idle oil refinery in Haifa will be moved to Lebanon.

Smith Family Serves Va. Telephone Users

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — If you live in northern Virginia you undoubtedly have talked to the family of Mrs. Sarah Smith, of Haymarwet. Mrs. Smith and 16 of the 19 members of her family who have served the telephone company a total of 214 years were honored by the company at a meeting here.

Mrs. Smith, mother of 11 children, said her sons and daughters and their children had helped furnish telephone service for a couple of generations and that she had 33 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren who would be ready to carry on. She was born at Manassas in 1873, or three years before Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone.

Attempts To Record Whale Heartbeat Fail

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—A scientific attempt to take the heart beat of a whale has failed again.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston cardiologist, was assisted by Navy and University of California oceanographers in the try to get near enough to a gray whale to harpoon it with two 28-inch darts, from which it was hoped an electrical current would record the heart beat.

The 67-year-old cardiologist, who also had the assistance of Dr. Robert King of Seattle, president of the American Heart Association, couldn't get close enough in the Navy boat to make the harpoon contacts.

He made a similar try off La Jolla last year, in the hope the experiment would support his theory that heart-beat rate is relative to size, in humans as well as other creatures.

BOYS GET PIGEONS

AUBURN, Calif. (AP)—Two boys stole 32 pigeons from merchant Jack Patrick, but police caught the boys and recovered the birds. Then Patrick, hoping to combat juvenile delinquency, gave each boy two mated pigeons to start his own flock.

College Professor Gathers Metaphors Of Ranch Country

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Many people earmark things, and talk turkey. You probably have said "it's a cinch" when you knew you could do something. And if something is haywire you know it is out of order.

Whenever you use these expressions, you are using the language of the old west.

Ranchers, cowpokes and prospectors took ordinary words, mixed them around a bit, and came worth with sayings that fill our speech to such as extent that we sometimes forget their original meaning.

Dr. George D. Hendricks, a professor at North Texas State College at Denton, Tex has been gathering metaphors of the ranch country, checking their source, and seeing how widely they are used today. He is convinced the western expressions are here to stay.

The more than 700 expressions he has collected formed the basis of a paper he delivered recently.

"The first things to be earmarked were cattle," he says. "Everything knows what it means to horn in, to pass the buck, to keep an ear to the ground, to get down to bed rock, or to camp on someone's trail. We all regret when things don't pan out and we have to pull up stakes.

Here To Stay

"Such things are here to stay." And they came from the West.

Every cowhand knows what a four-flusher is. So do most city folk. Of a self-important person the cowboy says, "He figgers he can spit twice and stop a drought."

The rancher shows respect for the venerable man with wrinkles in his horns. A man who can mix the medicine has the ability to cope with an situation. A man who means business talks turkey. A man with courage knows how to die standing up.

Perhaps the greatest compliment any cowboy ever gave a man was "He'll do to ride the river with." The phrase refers to his ability to ride with the herd across a swollen, treacherous river

"The whole gamut of human emotions is expressible in cow country metaphor," Hendricks explained. "If the cowboy is disgusted, he's looking for a dog to kick. If he is humiliated, he's eating drag dust—being assigned to the most humiliating trail job of dragging behind the herd.

"If he is angry, he's in a horn-tangling, sod-pawing mood. One way to clam him down is to say, 'Jest haul in yore neck, podner.'

"If he is confused or nonplussed he's got his spurs all tangled up. If he's exuberant, he's got his wolf loose. If he's downcast, he's wearing his chin on his instep."

To kill a man is to kick him into a funeral procession; to make him into wolf meat; to put him to bed with pick and shovel. "Heading for the Last Roundup" and "Empty Saddles in the Old Corral" are popular songs taken from authentic sayings.

"A filly," says Dr. Hendricks "is a young lady, but chivalry would not permit the use of the word mare to designate a married woman. A respectable woman is a calico, sage hen or grouse. Two terms of affection for a wife were cow bunny and long-haired partner.

Dillsburg Has Many Links With Fame; Sen. Quay Was Native; Edison Visited Town

Although Dillsburg is not credited with producing either a U. S. president or a movie star, several early residents of Dillsburg became renowned in their time, with that fame continuing today for several.

Among the notables was the Rev. George Duffield, first installed pastor at Monaghan Presbyterian Church from 1769 to 1772. Later he became chaplain of the First Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia in 1775-1777. He also served as a commissioned chaplain of the Pennsylvania Militia, accompanying them on their campaigns in Long Island, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The British put a price of 50 pounds on his head.

Hanover and Dillsburg were virtually wed when Mary Dill, the eldest daughter of Capt. Mathew Dill, in 1748 married Richard McCalaster (now McAllister), the founder of Hanover.

Their great-grandson, Samuel Ward McAllister, also helped put Dillsburg on the map. He was known as Ward McAllister, leader of and writer about New York society in the latter part of the nineteenth century.

Ann Marshal Dill, widow of Dr. Armstrong Dill, grandson of Capt. Mathew Dill, in 1791 married Dr. John Witherspoon, then president of what is now Princeton University. Dr. Witherspoon was the only minister to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Colonel Henry Logan, grandfather of the Misses Helen and Caroline Logan, now of Dillsburg, served during the War of 1812, became captain of the 10th Company, 19th Regiment, 2nd Brigade, 5th Division of the Pennsylvania Militia, and afterwards Lieut. Colonel of the same regiment. Later he was a member of the Pennsylvania Assembly and Senate. From 1831 to 1835 he represented York County in Congress and in his travels to Washington, always stopped below York, which place was named for him and is known as Logan ville.

Another noted political leader was Matthew Stanley Quay, born in Dillsburg on September 30, 1830. His father was the Rev. Anderson B. Quay, pastof of Monaghan Presbyterian Church from 1830 to 1839. Quay achieved an admirable Civil War record and later became successively, Pennsylvania Secretary of State, chairman of Republican State Committee, Secretary of the Commonwealth, State Treasurer and United States Senator.

Thomas A. Edison also left his mark on Dillsburg when he came to this town in 1903 to search in the local ore mines for cobalt, which he contemplated using in the perfection of a storage battery. While here he met John Morris, a Dillsburg mining expert, who was employed by Mr. Edison for the next 15 years.

Dog Goes A-Hunting, Carries Hearing-Aid

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Remember Phez, the dog aided by a hearing aid made by his master, Dr. R. M. Erwin Jr.? Phez got his name and picture in the papers all over the country.

His master took him duck hunting recently. His shoulders were lamed by rheumatism or arthritis. Doctor Erwin tried a heat lamp treatment, but it didn't do much good. Then he got two hand warmers that are activated by chemicals. He sewed pockets in Phez's canvas coat and buttoned in the hand warmers.

The shoulder stiffness disappeared quickly.

IKE'S HOUSING PLAN TO PASS AS HE ASKED IT

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders predicted today President Eisenhower's embattled housing program would emerge from the House just about the way the President asked for it.

They commented after the House passed and sent to the Senate late yesterday a bill carrying $5,566,118,763 for housing agencies, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Veterans Administration, TVA and other independent federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The bill was stripped of any new authority for the government to build new low-rent public housing projects. Eisenhower and top House leaders accepted the interpretation that they could build 35,000 new units next year under previous acts. This view was disputed by other veteran GOP members.

To Debate Today

House leaders called up for debate today a wide-ranging bill carrying out Eisenhower's proposals for slum clearance and easier loan terms for buying or improving homes. No conclusive voting is likely before tomorrow.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said Republicans would sponsor an amendment to this bill to authorize construction of 35,000 more public housing units in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1955.

Eisenhower had requested authority to build 35,000 units each year for the next four years—a total of 140,000. But Martin said authority to build 70,000 units over the next two years would be satisfactory to the administration, with the program for the other two years to be considered later.

Worthless Check Was Christmas Present

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Henry Henderson, 47, was charged yesterday with writing worthless checks, including one for $60 given to a friend last Christmas Eve with instructions to "live big."

Asked by Magistrate Vincent Dean whether he purchased his checks at a bank, Henderson replied with a look of astonishment: "Of course not, I deal only at banks where you get them free."

Dean ordered him held in $2,500 bail.

Builders Pre-Stress Concrete Structure

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Engineers squeezing a four-story, million dollar building to give it greater strength and load-carrying qualities. Scheduled for completion by December, 1954, it is said by the architect-engineers to be the first multi-storied structure in the nation employing pre-stressed concrete.

The big squeeze is done by running quarter-inch steel wires across the width of the beams and along the length of the floor slabs. As the concrete sets these wires are tightened by special jacks, thus squeezing or shrinking the concrete and getting rid of the pull-apart tendency in advance.

The structure is 46 feet wide; the shrinkage will be about one-eighth of an inch.

Londoners To Hear Cockney Bells Again

LONDON (AP)—The war blitzed church of St. Mary-le-Bow is being restored and in time, cockney children will again be born "within the sound of Bow Bells."

However, it may be four years before the famous Christopher Wren church with its 12 bells will rise on its Cheapside site not far from St. Paul's Cathedral. It dates back to 1680.

The word "cockney" is a colloquial term applied to Londoners generally who can produce an accent all their own. By popular agreement those born within the sound of Bow Bells can claim rightful cockney origin.

Portuguese Provide Town For Emigrants

LUANDA, Portugese Anzola (AP)—Cela, a village which did not exist a year ago, is forming. With population pressure going up in the poorer provinces of Portugal the government tried to make room for emigrants.

In the Angola highlands a site was found and ground prepared for settlers. It was a complete neighborhood from one of Portugal's villages. While the first fields were ploughed and corn and sweet potatoes were raised, the village church was completed together with a school.

The population of Cela is over 300. Now a weekly plane service is available and more settlers are en route.

10 TRIES, 10 FAILURES

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Alexander W. Andrews of Shadyside, Md., has sought public office 10 times since moving to Shadyside 35 years ago from Gloucester, Mass. He has never been elected, but was beaten in the primary only once. He filed yesterday for the fifth straight time as a candidate for the board of Anne Arundel County commissioners
